Wellington's Dutch Allies 1815 Ronald Pawly, 2012-03-20 A concise illustrated study of the Netherlands troops that fought at Quatre Bras and Waterloo The forces commanded by the Duke of Wellington at Quatre Bras and Waterloo included two infantry divisions and three cavalry brigades of the newly unified Dutch Belgian army of the Kingdom of the Netherlands mostly led by veteran officers who had served under Napoleon The part played by these troops particularly in holding the vital crossroads of Quatre Bras at the insistence of their own commanders has often been unjustly dismissed by British commentators In this book the history organisation uniforms and battle record of the Dutch units of this army are explained and illustrated in detail by two experienced researchers in Continental archives and accompanied by many rare portraits as well as meticulous colour plates

Wellington's Belgian Allies 1815 Ronald Pawly, 2012-03-20 The army commanded by the Duke of Wellington at Quatre Bras and Waterloo included two infantry divisions and three cavalry brigades of the newly unified Netherlands or Dutch Belgian army The part played by these troops in the two battles under experienced officers many of whom had seen long service in Napoleon s campaigns has often been unjustly dismissed by British commentators The organisation uniforms and battle record of the Belgian units are explained here in detail by an experienced researcher in Continental archives and illustrated by a specialist in the period who actually lives at Waterloo

Napoleon's Scouts of the Imperial Guard Ronald Pawly, 2012-02-20 Driven out of Germany after his defeat at Leipzig in 1813 Napoleon seemed to face disaster Some 345 000 Allied troops were converging on France from the east and Napoleon had only about 80 000 men Most of his veterans had been killed in Russia and Germany and he was short of cavalry to counter the swarms of Cossacks For his last and possibly most brilliant campaign Napoleon raised three regiments of mounted Scouts for his Imperial Guard Through the story of these units the reader can follow Napoleon's dazzling manoeuvres in the campaign of 1814 and their widely varied uniforms are reconstructed in meticulously researched colour plates

The Battle Alessandro Barbero, 2015-01-01 At Waterloo some 70 000 men under Napoleon and an equal number under Wellington faced one another in a titanic battle Alessandro Barbero's majestic account combines British and French histories to give voice to all nations involved The Battle is a masterpiece of military history

The Belgian Army in World War I Ronald Pawly, Pierre Lierneux, 2009-06-23 While small in numbers the Belgian Army played a vital role in World War I 1939-1945 that is often overlooked Germany's invasion of neutral Belgium which led Britain to declare war in August 1914 should have been swift and fierce yet the unexpected heroic defense against great odds of Belgian fortresses frustrated the German Schlieffen Plan for a thrust to Paris and a lightning victory The plucky Belgian resistance proved successful in buying time for French and British troops to mobilize and report to the front where the Belgians would then go on to fight stubbornly defending the northern end of the Allied trench line for the rest of the war Discover the story of this determined Army from their organization and commanders to their uniforms and equipment The only main combatant army of World War I not previously covered by Osprey this volume will be an important addition to any enthusiast's collection accompanied by detailed artwork and archive photographs

Commencement of the French Revolution in M.DCC.LXXXIX. to the Restoration of the Bourbons in M.DCCC.XV. Archibald Alison, 1848 Napoleon's Guards of Honour Ronald Pawly, 2012-03-20 One of the least understood of Napoleon's corps were the four regiments of Gardes d'honneur raised in 1813 during the frantic rebuilding of the French cavalry after the huge losses in Russia. Recruited from the leading social classes, uniformed and equipped at their own expense and accompanied by servants to take care of such unpleasant chores as stable duty, these men were promised commissions as officers after a year's service in the ranks. Though spectacularly unready for combat upon their arrival with the army, the Guards of Honour would gain skill and confidence while serving alongside the light cavalry of the Imperial Guard in the campaigns of Saxony and France 1813-14 and distinguished themselves in battle at Hanau and Rheims. This is the story of their organisation, uniforms and service, researched from rare archives and memoirs and illustrated with portraits, surviving uniform items and meticulous colour plates. History of Europe Sir Archibald Alison, 1848 The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2003 The Encyclopedia Britannica James Louis Garvin, Franklin Henry Hooper, Warren E.
