Western Fictions Black Realities Meanings Of Blackness And Modernities:

Western Fictions, Black Realities Isabel Soto, Violet Showers Johnson, 2011 This anthology interrogates two salient concepts in studying the black experience. Ushered in with the age of New World encounters, modernity emerged as brutal, complex and multiple from its very definition to its manifestations. Equally challenging is blackness, which is forever dangling between the range of uplifting articulations and insidious degradation. The essays confront the conflicting confluences of these two terms. Questioning Eurocentric and mainstream American interpretations, they reveal the diverse meanings of modernities and blackness from an equally diverse set of milieus of the black experience. Interdisciplinary and wide-ranging in thematic and epochal scope, they use theoretical and empirical studies to demonstrate that indeed blackness is relevant for understanding modernities and vice versa.

Black USA and Spain Rosalía Cornejo-Parriego, 2019-07-24 During the 20th century Spaniards and African Americans shared significant cultural memories forged by the profound impact that various artistic and historical events had on each other. Addressing three crucial periods, the Harlem Renaissance and Jazz Age, the Spanish Civil War and Franco's dictatorship, this collection of essays explores the transnational bond and the intercultural exchanges between these two communities using race as a fundamental critical category. The study of travelogues, memoirs, documentaries, interviews, press coverage, comics, literary works, music, and performances by iconic figures such as Josephine Baker, Langston Hughes, and Ramón G. Méndez de la Serna, as well as the experiences of ordinary individuals such as African American nurse Salaria Kea, invite an examination of the ambiguities and paradoxes that underlie this relationship among them, the questionable and at times surprising racial representations of blacks in Spanish avant-garde texts and in the press during the years of Franco's dictatorship, African Americans' very unique view of the Spanish Civil War in light of their racial identity, and the oscillation between fascination and anxiety when these two communities look at each other.

Ethnic Historians and the Mainstream Alan M. Kraut, David A. Gerber, 2013-11-06 Do historians write their biographies with the subjects they choose to address in their research? In this collection, editors Alan M. Kraut and David A. Gerber compiled eleven original essays by historians whose own ethnic backgrounds shaped the choices they have made about their own research and writing as scholars. These authors historians of American immigration and ethnicity revisited family and personal experiences and reflect on how their lives helped shape their later scholarly pursuits at times inspiring specific questions they asked of the nation's immigrant past They address issues of diversity multiculturalism and assimilation in academia in the discipline of history and in society at large Most have been pioneers not only in their respective fields but also in representing their ethnic group within American academia Some of the women in the group were in the vanguard of gender diversity in the discipline of history as well as on the faculties of the institutions where they have taught The authors in this collection represent a wide array of backgrounds spanning Europe Africa Asia the Middle East and Latin America What they have in common is their passionate engagement with the making of social and personal identities and with finding a voice to explain their personal stories in public terms Contributors Theresa Alfaro Velcamp John Bodnar Mar a C Garc a David A Gerber Violet M Showers Johnson Alan M Kraut Timothy J Meagher Deborah Dash Moore Dominic A Pacyga Barbara M Posadas Eileen H Tamura Virginia Yans Judy Yung

The Harlem Renaissance Meghan Green,2020-07-15 The intellectual and cultural expansion of the 1920s known as the Harlem Renaissance deeply enriched American society Recently freed from slavery black Americans finally had an opportunity to freely express themselves even though they continued to face many hardships including segregation and poverty Through main text that features annotated quotes from primary sources and historical photographs readers learn about the contributions people of color made to art literature and music in the 1920s In depth sidebars connect these past achievements with those of the present Discussion questions ask readers to think critically about the impact of the Harlem Renaissance

Savage Horrors Corinna Lenhardt,2020-04-02 The American Gothic novel has been deeply shaped by issues of race and raciality from its origins in British Romanticism to the American Gothic novel in the twenty first century Savage Horrors delineates an intrinsic raciality that is discursively sedimented in the Gothic's uniquely binary structure Corinna Lenhardt uncovers the destructive and lasting impact of the Gothic's anti Black racism on the cultural discourses in the United States At the same time Savage Horrors traces the unflinching Black resistance back to the Gothic's intrinsic raciality The African American Gothic however does not originate there but in the Black Atlantic roughly a decade before the first Gothic novel was ever written on American soil

Race, Gender, and Comparative Black Modernism Jennifer M. Wilks, 2008-12 Race Gender and Comparative Black Modernism revives and critiques four African American and Francophone Caribbean women writers sometimes overlooked in discussions of early twentieth century literature Guadeloupean Suzanne Lacascade dates unknown African American Marita Bonner 1899 1971 Martinican Suzanne Césaire 1913 1966 and African American Dorothy West 1907 1998 Reexamining their most significant work Jennifer M Wilks demonstrates how their writing challenges prevailing racial archetypes such as the New Negro and the Negritude hero of the period from the 1920s to the 1940s and explores how these writers tapped into modernist currents from expressionism to surrealism to produce progressive treatments of race gender and nation that differed from those of currently canonized Black writers of the era the great majority of whom are men Wilks begins with Lacascade whom she deems best known for being unknown reading Lacascade s novel Claire Solange me africaine 1924 as a protofeminist proto Negritude articulation of Caribbean identity She then examines the fissures left unexplored in New Negro visions of African American community by showing the ways in which Bonner s essays plays and short stories highlight issues of economic class Césaire applied the ideas and techniques of surrealism to the French language and Wilks reveals how her writings in the journal Tropiques 1941 45 directly and insightfully engage the intellectual influences that informed the work of canonical Negritude Wilks close reading of West s The Living Is Easy 1948 provides a retrospective critique of the forces that continued to circumscribe

women's lives in the midst of the social and cultural awakening presumably embodied in the New Negro To show how the black literary tradition has continued to confront the conflation of gender roles with social and literary conventions Wilks examines these writers alongside the late twentieth century writings of Maryse Condé and Toni Morrison Unlike many literary analysts Wilks does not bring together the four writers based on geography Lacascade and C saire came from different Caribbean islands and though Bonner and West were from the United States they never crossed paths In considering this eclectic group of women writers together Wilks reveals the analytical possibilities opened up by comparing works influenced by multiple intellectual traditions Emerging Stronger Jeffrey Chin, Michele Lee Kozimor, 2023-08-31 Responding to the sudden and far reaching implications of the COVID 19 pandemic in college classrooms and on campus Emerging Stronger assembles an original compilation of chapters that revisit, reframe and refine the practice of teaching in a fundamentally altered landscape Cultivated from a wide array of different fields from sociology and political science to literature and secondary education expert contributors to this volume extend their scholarship on teaching and learning and offer thoughtful pieces about curricular innovation, teaching tools and techniques and evidence based approaches that will interest dedicated faculty in any discipline The chapters fall into three categories: Modalities of Teaching and Learning, Pedagogical Strategies and Student Engagement, each of which carry an all important focus on what readers should know about best practices now and for the foreseeable future Whether experienced faculty scholars just starting out in their teaching careers or aspiring graduate students, readers of this volume will come away with great techniques and strategies but also community hope and opportunity to strengthen their teaching and provide better learning environments in their classrooms

The Black Atlantic Paul Gilroy, 1993 Afrocentrism Eurocentrism Caribbean Studies British Studies To the forces of cultural nationalism hunkered down in their camps, this bold hook sounds a liberating call There is, Paul Gilroy tells us, a culture that is not specifically African, American, Caribbean or British but all of these at once: a black Atlantic culture whose themes and techniques transcend ethnicity and nationality to produce something new and until now unremarked Challenging the practices and assumptions of cultural studies, The Black Atlantic also complicates and enriches our understanding of modernism Debates about postmodernism have cast an unfashionable pall over questions of historical periodization Gilroy bucks this trend by arguing that the development of black culture in the Americas and Europe is a historical experience which can be called modern for a number of clear and specific reasons For Hegel, the dialectic of master and slave was integral to modernity and Gilroy considers the implications of this idea for a transatlantic culture In search of a poetics reflecting the politics and history of this culture, he takes us on a transatlantic tour of the music that for centuries has transmitted racial messages and feeling around the world from the Jubilee Singers in the nineteenth century to Jimi Hendrix to rap He also explores this internationalism as it is manifested in black writing from the double consciousness of W E B Du Bois to the double vision of Richard Wright to the compelling voice of Toni Morrison In a final tour de force Gilroy exposes the shared contours of black and Jewish concepts of diaspora in order both to establish a theoretical basis for healing rifts between blacks and Jews in contemporary culture and to further define the central theme of his book that blacks have shaped a nationalism if not a nation within the shared culture of the black Atlantic

Modernism and the Middle Passage Laura Winkiel, 2025-10-14 Modernism is typically thought of as focusing on the new and now not looking backward at historical catastrophes Yet in many surprising often submerged ways the transatlantic slave trade shaped the works of both Black and white writers This book reveals how modernists turned to the Middle Passage and in so doing upended Western ideas about time and space race and gender and the category of the human Bringing together Afro diasporic and Black studies scholarship modernist aesthetics and environmental studies Laura Winkiel presents a new literary history of modernism from the perspective of the Atlantic and its role in slavery and colonization She examines the works of African Caribbean British and US writers including Joseph Conrad William Faulkner Langston Hughes Zora Neale Hurston Claude McKay Jean Rhys Amos Tutuola and Virginia Woolf as well as later interlocutors such as Marlon James and Jamaica Kincaid Paying particular attention to settings on shorelines deltas archipelagos and the ocean Winkiel argues that allusions to the slave trade make visible the exploitative structural relations between the metropolis and the colonies and between the liberal subject and its others By turning to the ocean and its violent histories this groundbreaking book rethinks the fraught relationship of modernism and race

Afropolitan Projects Anima Adjepong, 2021-10-21 Beyond simplistic binaries of the dark continent or Africa Rising Africans at home and abroad articulate their identities through their quotidian practices and cultural politics Amongst the privileged classes these articulations can be characterized as Afropolitan projects cultural political and aesthetic expressions of global belonging rooted in African ideals This ethnographic study examines the Afropolitan projects of Ghanaians living in two cosmopolitan cities Houston Texas and Accra Ghana Anima Adjepong's focus shifts between the cities exploring contests around national and pan African cultural politics race class sexuality and religion Focusing particularly on queer sexuality Adjepong offers unique insight into the contemporary sexual politics of the Afropolitan class The book expands and complicates existing research by providing an in depth transnational case study that not only addresses questions of cosmopolitanism class and racial identity but also considers how gender and sexuality inform the racialized identities of Africans in the United States and in Ghana Bringing an understudied cohort of class privileged Africans to the forefront Adjepong offers a more fully realized understanding of the diversity of African lives

The Keloids We Heal Sarah Soanirina Ohmer, 2025-05-13 The corporeal and spiritual healing in literature by women of colors can be seen to redefine modern thought and printed text Sarah Soanirina Ohmer traces the impact of colonization and enslavement on Black women and Black women's contributions to colonial nineteenth and twentieth century literature in the US Brazil and West Indies Her analysis unlocks the literature's power to heal through gut wrenching descriptions of wounds and thrilling passages of hope and liberation Drawing on intersectional analysis Ohmer focuses on portrayals of trauma and spirituality in works by Toni Morrison Concei o Evaristo Maryse Cond Gloria Anzald a the Quilombhoje poets and Mar a de los Reyes Castillo Ohmer compares literature from different countries along four thematic pathways ghosts mirrors naming and motherhood Her analysis unlocks the literature s power to heal through gut wrenching descriptions of wounds and thrilling passages of hope and liberation Throughout Ohmer weaves in her life story as a Black woman as she reflects on how colonialism racism sexism and capitalism have impacted her work traumas and faith journey
