What Is History E H Carr:

What is History? E. H. Carr, 2018-06-07 Not only one of our most distinguished historians but also one of the most valuable contributors to historical theory Spectator In formulating an answer to the question of What is History Carr argues that the facts of history are simply those which historians have chosen to focus on All historical facts come to us as a result of interpretive choices by historians influenced by the standards of their age Now for the first time in Penguin Modern Classics with an introduction by Richard J Evans author of the Third Reich trilogy What Is History? Edward Hallett Carr, 1967-10-12 Who is to say how things really were In formulating a modern answer to the question What is History Professor Carr shows that the facts of history are simply those which historians have selected for scrutiny Millions have crossed the Rubicon but the historians tell us that only Caesar's crossing was significant All historical facts come to us as a result of interpretative choices by historians influenced by the standards of their age Yet if absolute objectivity is impossible the role of the historian need in no way suffer nor does history lose its fascination With lucidity Carr casts a light on the proper function of the historian and the vital importance of history in modern society This is an admirably stimulating and intrepid book a bold excursion into a region of central importance where most contemporary philosophers and historians unaccountably either fear or disdain to tread Isaiah Berlin New Statesman What is History? Edward Hallett Carr, 1986

E.H.Carr: A Critical Appraisal M. Cox, 2016-04-30 E H Carr 1892 1982 was born into security but lived a life of controversy Attacked for appeasing both Hitler and Stalin he was not only one of the most productive writers of the Twentieth century but one of its most provocative as well In this book the first ever to deal critically but fairly with Carr's contribution to international relations Soviet Studies and the study of history sixteen internationally respected authors grapple with his complex intellectual legacy For those seriously interested in understanding the life and times of this most English of establishment radicals this is the place to begin E. H. Carr and International Relations Charles Jones, 1998-10 E H Carr is widely remembered as an influential theorist of international relations The scourge of inter war idealists he became the best known Briton in a generation of predominantly American political realists But Carr's realism differed greatly from that of his contemporaries a vigorous advocate of social and economic planning and friend of the Soviet Union he stood closer to Lenin than to Morgenthau In this book Charles Jones makes sense of Carr's distinctive form of realism by examining his rhetoric and the reciprocal relationship between theory and policy making in his writings Close attention is paid to the period from 1936 when Carr left the Foreign Office through his subsequent career as a one man foreign ministry at Aberystwyth the Ministry of Information and above all The Times culminating in the final frustration of his schemes for continued British world power in 1947 The Vices of Integrity Jonathan Haslam, 2000-11-17 In Edward Hallett Carr's definitive biography Jonathan Haslam paints a compelling portrait of a man torn between a vicarious identification with the romance of revolution and the ruthless realism of his own intellectual formation What is History Now? D.

Cannadine,2002-07-05 E H Carr's What is History was originally published by Macmillan in 1961 Since then it has sold hundreds of thousands of copies throughout the world In this book ten internationally renowned scholars writing from a range of historical vantage points answer Carr's question for a new generation of historians What does it mean to study history at the start of the Twenty first century This volume stands alongside Carr's classic paying tribute to his seminal enquiry while moving the debate into new territory to ensure its freshness and relevance for a new century of historical study

What is History? Michael Oakeshott,2004 This is a collection of 30 pieces by Michael Oakeshott almost all of which are previously unpublished covering every decade of his intellectual career The essays were intended mostly for lectures or seminars and retain an informal style that makes them accessible to readers What Is History, Now? Suzannah Lipscomb,Helen Carr,2021-09-23 This groundbreaking new collection addresses the burning issue of how we interpret history today What stories are told and by whom who should be celebrated and what rewritten are questions that have been asked recently not just within the history world but by all of us Featuring a diverse mix of writers both bestselling names and emerging voices this is the history book we need NOW WHAT IS HISTORY NOW covers topics such as the history of racism and anti racism queer history the history of faith the history of disability environmental history escaping imperial nostalgia hearing women's voices and rewriting the past The list of contributors includes Justin Bengry Leila K Blackbird Emily Brand Gus Casely Hayford Sarah Churchwell Caroline Dodds Pennock Peter Frankopan Bettany Hughes Dan Hicks Onyeka Nubia Islam Issa Maya Jasanoff Rana Mitter Charlotte Riley Miri Rubin Simon Schama Alex von Tunzelmann and Jaipreet Virdi

On 'What Is History?' Keith Jenkins,2005-07-25 Jenkins provides a student introduction to contemporary historiographical debates Through its radical critique of Carr and Elton he embraces the postmodern type approaches of thinkers such as Richard Rorty and Hayden White English for Students of the Humanities and Social Sciences Board Of Editors.,1991 This course in English has been designed to cater to the needs of undergraduate students of the humanities and social sciences The main objectives of the course are to enable the students to read and comprehend complex texts to help them write logical coherent and persuasive prose to develop their ability to understand spoken English and to enable them to speak correctly and intelligibly Edinburgh Companion to Political Realism Robert Schuett,2018-11-14 Political realism is a highly diverse body of international relations theory This substantial reference work examines political realism in terms of its history its scientific methodology and its normative role in international affairs Split into three sections it covers the 2000 year canon of realism the different schools of thought the key thinkers and how it responds to foreign policy challenges faced by individual states and globally It brings political realism up to date by showing where theory has failed to keep up with contemporary problems and suggests how it can be applied and adapted to fit our new globalised world order The Dramatist and the Received Idea Sanders,1980-05-15 Dr Sanders book grew out of uneasiness over commonly accepted ways of talking about Elizabethan literature Phrases like world picture received ideas are so easily used that we bypass important questions A picture of whose word Ideas received by whom and in what way The heart of Dr Sanders book is a critical account of seven plays by Marlowe and Shakespeare The Massacre at Paris The Jew of Malta Edward II Dr Faustus Richard II Richard III and Macbeth In his examination Dr Sanders is at pains to analyse the nature of the intellectual and cultural environment in which the plays were written to define the ways in which this environment influenced Marlowe and Shakespeare and thus to come to a full understanding of the manner in which a work of art can be simultaneously of an age and for all time

Realist Thought and the Nation-State Konstantinos Kostagiannis, 2017-09-21 This book recovers the history of realist theorization on nationalism and the nation state Presented in a sequence of snapshots and illustrated by examples drawn from the foreign policy of great powers this history is represented by four key realist thinkers It uses the centrality of power in realism as a starting point to claim contrary to conventional wisdom about realism that for realists the state is better understood not as a political unit outside history but rather as a manifestation of power unfixed in time It also claims that the process of gradual impoverishment of the concept of power from classical to structural realism had profound implications for realism as what the latter gained in parsimony it lost in analytical purchase As a result elaborate understandings of nationalism and its relation to the state are replaced by one dimensional approaches In order to offer meaningful engagement with foreign policy neorealists often have to resort to the recovery of some of the complexity of classical realist accounts

OE [publication] , 1969 The Legacy of Vico in Modern Cultural History Joseph Mali, 2012-09-06 In this highly original study Joseph Mali explores how four attentive and inventive readers of Giambattista Vico's New Science 1744 the French historian Jules Michelet 1798 1874 the Irish writer James Joyce 1882 1941 the German literary scholar Erich Auerbach 1892 1957 and the English philosopher Isaiah Berlin 1909 97 came to find in Vico's work the inspiration for their own modern theories or in the case of Joyce stories of human life and history Mali's reconstruction of the specific biographical and historical occasions in which these influential men of letters encountered Vico reveals how their initial impressions and interpretations of his theory of history were decisive both for their intellectual development and their major achievements in literature and thought This new interpretation of the legacy of Vico's New Science is essential reading for all those engaged in the history of ideas and modern cultural history

Fifty Key Thinkers on History Marnie Hughes-Warrington, 2014-09-04 Fifty Key Thinkers on History is an essential guide to the most influential historians theorists and philosophers of history The entries offer comprehensive coverage of the long history of historiography ranging from ancient China Greece and Rome through the Middle Ages to the contemporary world This third edition has been updated throughout and features new entries on Machiavelli Ranajit Guha William McNeil and Niall Ferguson Other thinkers who are introduced include Herodotus Bede Ibn Khaldun E H Carr Fernand Braudel Eric Hobsbawm Michel Foucault Edward Gibbon Each clear and concise essay offers a brief biographical introduction a summary and discussion of each thinker's approach to history and how others have engaged with it a list of their major works and a list of resources for further study and Boundaries Colin Elman, Miriam Fendius Elman, 2001-04-13 Bridges and Boundaries offers a conversation between what might loosely be described as traditionalist diplomatic and military historians and political scientists who employ qualitative case study methods to examine international relations The book opens with a series of chapters discussing differences commonalities and opportunities for cross fertilization between the two disciplines To help focus the dialogue on real events and research the volume then revisits three empirical topics that have been studied at length by members of both disciplines British hegemony in the nineteenth century diplomacy in the interwar period and the causes of World War II and the origins and course of the Cold War For each of these subjects a political scientist a historian and a commentator reflect on how disciplinary guild rules have shaped the study of international events The book closes with incisive overviews by Robert Jervis and Paul W Schroeder Bridges and Boundaries explores how historians and political scientists can learn from one another and illustrates the possibilities that arise when open minded scholars from different disciplines sit down to talk

History and Causality M. Hewitson, 2014-01-22 This volume investigates the different attitudes of historians and other social scientists to questions of causality It argues that historical theorists after the linguistic turn have paid surprisingly little attention to causes in spite of the centrality of causation in many contemporary works of history The Oxford Handbook of History and International Relations Mlada Bukovansky, Edward Keene, Christian Reus-Smit, Maja Spanu, 2023 In this Handbook historians and scholars of international relations examine the past and present of the intersection between History and IR as well as looking to the future by laying out new questions and directions for research The volume s four parts present a diverse array of methodological philosophical and historical insights
