Women In Pain Gender And Morbidity In Mexico:

Women in Pain Kaja Finkler, 2010-08-03 Kaja Finkler explores the relationship between patterns of social interaction cultural expectations and gender ideologies In Women in Pain she examines the nature of sickness and its interaction with issues about gender and gender relations from both a historical and contemporary perspective Encyclopedia of Sex and Gender Carol R. Ember, Melvin Ember, 2003-12-31 The central aim of this encyclopedia is to give the reader a comparative perspective on issues involving conceptions of gender gender differences gender roles relationships between the genders and sexuality The encyclopedia is divided into two volumes Topics and Cultures The combination of topical overviews and varying cultural portraits is what makes this encyclopedia a unique reference work for students researchers and teachers interested in gender studies and cross cultural variation in sex and gender It deserves a place in the library of every university and every social science and health department Contents Glossary Cultural Conceptions of Gender Gender Roles Status and Institutions Sexuality and Male Female Interaction Sex and Gender in the World s Cultures Culture Name Index Subject Index Marked Women Rebecca G. Martínez, 2018-06-05 Cervical cancer is the third leading cause of death among women in Venezuela with poor and working class women bearing the brunt of it Doctors and public health officials regard promiscuity and poor hygiene coded indicators for low class low culture and bad morals as risk factors for the disease Drawing on in depth fieldwork conducted in two oncology hospitals in Caracas Marked Women is an ethnography of women s experiences with cervical cancer the doctors and nurses who treat them and the public health officials and administrators who set up intervention programs to combat the disease Rebecca G Mart nez contextualizes patient doctor interactions within a historical arc of Venezuelan nationalism modernity neoliberalism and Chavismo to understand the scientific social and political discourses surrounding the disease The women marked as deviant for their sexual transgressions are not only characterized as engaging in unhygienic uncultured and promiscuous behaviors but also become embodiments of these very behaviors Ultimately Marked Women explores how epidemiological risk is a socially culturally and historically embedded process and how this enables cervical cancer to stigmatize women as socially marginal burdens on society and threats to the health of the modern nation Global Perspectives on War, Gender and Health Hannah Bradby, 2016-04-22 Rendering the suffering of the marginalized visible has been an important aspect of feminist sociological studies of health illness and medicine with the subjective experience of those without access to institutional power being at the forefront of the research This volume analyzes the links between the suffering caused by the intentional violence of war and the unintentional suffering engendered by modern medicinal processes By establishing a fitting tribute to the academic and campaigning work of Meg Stacey Global Perspectives on War Gender and Health responds to her challenge of why medical sociology had not yet turned its gaze upon the health consequences of war A selection of international case studies are used to create a volume of significant interest to sociologists and those working in the fields of anthropology social policy social work peace war and security studies and international development Remembering to Live M. Hay, 2010-02-05 An ethnographic exploration of health illness and healing among a poor rural Indonesian people Care Across Generations Kristin E.

Yarris, 2017-08-29 Global inequalities make it difficult for parents in developing nations to provide for their children Some determine that migration in search of higher wages is their only hope Many studies have looked at how migration transforms the child parent relationship But what happens to other generational relationships when mothers migrate Care Across Generations takes a close look at grandmother care in Nicaraguan transnational families examining both the structural and gendered inequalities that motivate migration and caregiving as well as the cultural values that sustain intergenerational care Kristin E Yarris broadens the transnational migrant story beyond the parent child relationship situating care across generations and embedded within the kin networks in sending countries Rather than casting the consequences of women s migration in migrant sending countries solely in terms of a care deficit Yarris shows how intergenerational reconfigurations of care serve as a resource for the wellbeing of children and other family members who stay behind after transnational migration Moving our perspective across borders and over generations Care Across Generations shows the social and moral value of intergenerational care for contemporary transnational families Maturing Masculinities Emily A.

Wentzell, 2013-07-05 Based on interviews with male patients in a urology clinic in Cuernavaca Maturing Masculinities offers an exploration of how older men in urban Mexico incorporate aging and decreasing erectile function into their conceptions of themselves as men Reproductive Disruptions Marcia C. Inhorn, 2007-10-01 Nominated for the 2007 Book Prize by the Council on Anthropology and Reproduction AAA Reproductive disruptions such as infertility pregnancy loss adoption and childhood disability are among the most distressing experiences in people s lives Based on research by leading medical anthropologists from around the world this book examines such issues as local practices detrimental to safe pregnancy and birth conflicting reproductive goals between women and men miscommunications between pregnant women and their genetic counselors cultural anxieties over gamete donation and adoption the contested meanings of abortion cultural critiques of hormone replacement therapy and the globalization of new pharmaceutical and assisted reproductive technologies This breadth with its explicit move from the local to the global from the realm of everyday reproductive practice to international programs and policies illuminates most effectively the workings of power the tensions between women s and men s reproductive agency and various cultural and structural inequalities in reproductive health A Portrait of Assisted Reproduction in Mexico Sandra P. González-Santos, 2019-07-23 This book paints a comprehensive portrait of Mexico s system of assisted reproduction first from a historical perspective then from a more contemporary viewpoint Based on a detailed analysis of books and articles published between the 1950s and 1980s the first section tells the story of how the epistemic normative and material infrastructure of the assisted reproduction system was built It traces the professionalization process of assisted reproduction as a medical field and the establishment of its professional association

Drawing on ethnographic material the second part looks at how this system developed and flourished from the 1980s up to 2010 its commercialization process how the expansion of reproductive services took place and the messages regarding reproductive technologies that circulated within a wide discursive landscape Given its scope and methods this book will appeal to scholars interested in science and technology studies reproduction studies history of medicine medical anthropology and sociology
