Women in Blue Postcard Book: 30 Post Cards Laughing Elephant, Blue Lantern Studio, 2005-07-01 Few colors have as paradoxical associations as blue It evokes positive qualities such as serenity happiness and purity yet feeling blue is a euphemism for sadness Blue is masculine yet pretty dreary and cheerful The blues is both a state of mind and genre of music that for all its stark sadness evokes profound joy A person can be a blue blood a bluestocking a bluenose and true blue without conflict or redundancy Blue is all around us the color of sunny days and the most inviting seas yet is also uncommon in nature Periwinkle navy ultramarine cobalt baby sky slate cerulean indigo azure sapphire royal robin s egg cornflower turquoise and Prussian What color commands the range of shades that blue does In keeping with blue s complexity we ve selected a wide range of images of women clad in blue for this collection of postcards Pin up girls and Pre Raphaelite maidens share these pages with women advertising stockings and orange soda They all wear blue in all its glory

American Woman Suffrage Postcards Kenneth Florey, 2016-04-29 American women s suffrage activists were fascinated with suffrage themed postcards They collected them exchanged them wrote about them used them as fundraisers and organized postcard day campaigns The cards they produced were imaginative and ideological advancing arguments for the enfranchisement of women and responding to antisuffrage broadsides Commercial publishers were also interested in suffrage cards recognizing their profit potential Their products though were reactive rather than proactive conveying stereotypes they assumed reflected public attitudes often negative towards the movement Cataloging approximately 700 examples this study examines the visual rhetoric of suffrage postcards in the context of the movement itself and as part of the general history of postcards

Geneva in Vintage Postcards John J. Laukaitis, 2004 Geneva was an ideal location for settlement with rich farming soil a river to power the mills and a plentiful supply of trees for lumber it didn t take long to attract and support a thriving community Incorporated in 1858 Geneva remains an idyllic village home to fine architecture from the mid to late 19th century scenic parks along the banks of the Fox River and a sense of community spirit and pride Geneva in Vintage Postcards opens a window into the past allowing us to experience what this community most wanted to present to others and what visitors most wanted to share with their families and friends From scenes of the historic business district to the banks of Island Park the vintage postcards of Geneva reveal a community rich in history and charm

American Holiday Postcards, 1905-1915 Daniel Gifford, 2013-09-05 In the early 20th century postcards were one of the most important and popular expressions of holiday sentiment in American culture Millions of such postcards circulated among networks of community and kin as part of a larger American postcard craze However their uses and meanings were far from universal This book argues that holiday postcards circulated primarily among rural and small town Northern white women with Anglo Saxon and Germanic heritages Through analysis of a broad range of sources Daniel Gifford recreates the history of postcards to account for these specific audiences and reconsiders the postcard phenomenon as an image based conversation among exclusive groups of Americans A variety of narratives are thus revealed the debates generated by the Country Life Movement the empowering manifestations of the New Woman the civic privileges of whiteness and the role of emerging technologies From Santa Claus to Easter bunnies flag waving turkeys to gun toting cupids holiday postcards at first seem to be amusing expressions of a halcyon past Yet with knowledge of audience and historical conflicts this book demonstrates how the postcard images reveal deep divides at the height of the Progressive Era

Postcards from the End of America Linh Dinh, 2017-02-21 Roaming the country by bus and train on a budget and without any institutional support Linh Dinh set out to document in words and pictures what life is like for people From Los Angeles Cheyenne Portland and New Orleans to Jackson and Wolf Point Linh walked miles and miles through unfamiliar neighborhoods talking to whoever would talk to him the homeless living in tent cities the peddlers the protestors the public preachers the prostitutes With the uncompromising eye of a Walker Evans or a Dorothea Lange and the indomitable forthright prose of a modern day Nelson Algren or James Agee Dinh documents the appalling and the absurd with warmth and honesty giving voice to America's often forgotten citizens and championing the awesome strength it takes to survive for those on the bottom Growing out of a photo and political writing blog Linh has maintained since 2009 Postcards from the End of America is an unflinching diary of what Linh sees as the accelerating collapse of America Tracking the economic political and social unraveling from the casinos to the abandoned factories and over all the sidewalks in between with a poet's incisive tongue Linh shows us the uncanny power of the people in the face of societal devastation

Johnson, 1997-09-01 From the 1890s through the 1920s the postcard was an extraordinarily popular means of communication and many of the postcards produced during this golden age can today be considered works of art Postcard photographers traveled the length and breadth of the nation snapping photographs of busy street scenes documenting local landmarks and assembling crowds of local children only too happy to pose for a picture These images printed as postcards and sold in general stores across the country survive as telling reminders of an important era in America's history This fascinating new history of Southern Carolina Allendale Bamberg Barnwell Beaufort Colleton Hampton and Jaspera showcases more than two hundred of the best vintage postcards available from 1900 to the 1930s
