Capital Cities at War Jay Winter, Jean-Louis Robert, 1999-07-08 This ambitious volume marks a huge step in our understanding of the social history of the Great War. Jay Winter and Jean-Louis Robert have gathered a group of scholars of London, Paris and Berlin who collectively have drawn a coherent and original study of cities at war. The contributors explore notions of well-being in wartime cities relating to the economy and the question of whether the state of the capitals contributed to victory or defeat. Expert contributors in fields stretching from history, demography, anthropology, economics and sociology to the history of medicine bring an interdisciplinary approach to the book as well as representing the best of recent research in their own fields. Capital Cities at War is one of the few truly comparative works on the Great War; it will transform studies of the conflict and is likely to become a paradigm for research on other wars. Studies on Aby Warburg, Fritz Saxl and Gertrud Bing
