Western Educated Elites In Kenya 1900 1963 The African American Factor African Studies:

Western-Educated Elites in Kenya, 1900-1963 Jim C. Harper, 2005-12-09 Western educated Elites in Kenya proposes to conduct a critical examination of the emergence of the American educated Kenyan elites the Asomi and their role in the nationalist movement and eventually their Africanization of the Civil and Private sectors in Kenya Western-Educated Elites in Kenya, 1900-1963 Jim C. Harper, 2005-12-09 Western educated Elites in Kenya proposes to conduct a critical examination of the emergence of the American educated Kenyan elites the Asomi and their role in the nationalist movement and eventually their Africanization of the Civil and Private sectors in Kenya Student Power in Africa's Higher Education Frederick K. Byaruhanga, 2013-10-08 This book the first of its kind to treat Uganda provides a historical analysis of the role of student voices in the development of Uganda's higher education It not only chronicles incidents of student protests but also explores and analyses their trigger points as well as the strategies employed by the university the government and the students to manage or resolve those crises In addition the book highlights the role played by national politics in shaping student political consciousness in particular their involvement in protests riots and demonstrations The book therefore limits its scope to the unfolding and impact of student crisis on the process of higher education Byaruhanga recommends that colleges and universities need to increase communication with students as well as promote student involvement in decision and policy making among other things in order to forestall future conflicts Most distinctively the book aims to address the current paucity of research on student activism in Uganda's higher education and highlights the critical need for research on higher education in Africa as a field of study The book also may serve as a base for cross national comparative analysis

The NGO Factor in Africa Maurice N. Amutabi, 2013-09-13 The book breaks new ground in understanding the role of Non Governmental Organizations NGOs in Africa The book historicizes NGOs using the Rockefeller Foundation as a case study looking at its tripartite paradoxical roles as an agent of colonialism globalization and development underdevelopment It deploys interdisciplinary devices to show how the RF projects have engaged in marginalization patronage and othering of African values and customs and the ensuing controversies Using globalization postmodern and postcolonial theories the book deconstructs the long held myths about NGO inviolability and opens ground for understanding their strengths It interrogates sites of contestation apprehension and possibilities that the RF has produced Using RF projects it looks at structures of hegemony race power class and gender that the RF has created The book illustrates the extent to which the RF has been instrumental in spreading capitalism imperialism in economic political cultural and social realms through globalization It desists from the grand narrative approach that has dominated African history in the past but instead gives agency and voice to those that have previously been marginalized African Cultural Values Raphael Chijoke Njoku, 2013-10-23 Although numerous studies have been made of the Western educated political elite of colonial Nigeria in particular and of Africa in general very few have approached the study from a perspective that analyzes the impacts of indigenous institutions on the lives values and ideas of these individuals This book is about the diachronic impact of indigenous and Western agencies in the upbringing socialization and careers of the colonial Igbo political elite of southeastern Nigeria The thesis argues that the new elite manifests the continuity of traditions and culture and therefore their leadership values and the impact they brought on African society cannot be fully understood without looking closely at their lived experiences in those indigenous institutions where African life coheres The key has been to explore this question at the level of biography set in the context of a carefully reconstructed social history of the particular local communities surrounding the elite figures It starts from an understanding of their family and village life and moves forward striving to balance the familiar account of these individuals in public life with an account of the ongoing influences from family kinship age grades marriage and gender roles secret societies the church local leaders and others The result is not only a model of a new approach to African elite history but also an argument about how to understand these emergent leaders and their peers as individuals who shared with their fellow Africans a dynamic and complex set of values that evolved over the six decades of colonialism

The Role of the Press and Communication Technology in Democratization Aje-Ori Anna Agbese,2007-11-21 In the 1990s Nigeria like several countries in Asia Africa Eastern Europe and Latin America underwent transition programs to return the country to democracy Nigeria s democratization in the 1990s was a civil and international movement to free Nigeria from over 20 years of authoritarian military rule Agbese examines the role and agenda of the Nigerian press in the democratization process highlighting the grave challenges the Nigerian press faced such as jail arrest and assassination in pushing for democratization in Nigeria

A Roadmap for Understanding African Politics Victor Oguejiofor Okafor,2013-09-13 This book examines the impact of post colonial leadership on political integration in Nigeria offering an in depth understanding of the historical and contemporary forces that shape Nigeria s national politics as well as African politics generally Okafor discusses how Nigeria s pre colonial and colonial political histories along with contemporary external forces like neo colonialism as well as internal social economic and political structures and developments have affected emerging post independence politics in the country The study climaxes with an Africa centered theory of political and integrative leadership and then uses it as a prism for analyzing six Nigerian post independence political leaderships encompassing Nigeria s First and Second Republics along with their military interregna The concluding chapter includes a discussion of the implications of the study for leadership and political integration in Africa in general

African Minorities in the New World Toyin Falola,Niyi Afolabi,2007-11-13 This book discusses the minority status of African immigrants in the New World by revisiting the concept of a new African diaspora and its multiple implications for citizenship and immigration policy Heroism and the Supernatural in the African Epic Mariam Konaté Deme,2010-09-13 Western criticism has largely failed to acknowledge the distinctiveness of African literary aesthetics This book revises traditional literary canons in examining the social cultural and emotional specificity of African epics and highlighting distinguishing features such as the significance of the fantastic and its use in the epic dramatic structure African Discourse in Islam, Oral Traditions, and Performance

Abdul-Rasheed Na'Allah, 2010-09-13 This work develops an African indigenous discourse paradigm for interpreting and understanding literary and cultural materials By returning the African knowledge system back to its roots and placing it side by side with Western paradigms Na Allah has produced a text that will be required reading for scholars and students of African culture and literature Relative Distance Leslie Fesenmyer, 2023-07-06 The socio economic and political uncertainties of Kenya in the 1990s jeopardised what many saw as the promises of modernity An increasing number of Kenyans migrated many to Britain a country that felt familiar from Kenyan history Based on extensive fieldwork in Kenya and the United Kingdom Leslie Fesenmyer's work provides a rich historically nuanced study of the kinship dilemmas that underlie transnational migration and explores the dynamic relationship between those who migrate and those who stay behind Challenging a focus on changing modes of economic production push pull factors and globalisation as drivers of familial change she analyses everyday trans national family life Relative Distance shows how quotidian interactions exchanges and practices transform kinship on a local and global scale Through the prism of intergenerational care Fesenmyer reveals that the question of who is responsible for whom is not only a familial matter but is at the heart of relations between individuals societies and states The African Origins of Rhetoric Cecil Blake, 2010-07 Through a critical analysis of ancient African texts that predate Greco Roman treatises Cecil Blake revisits the roots of rhetorical theory and challenges what is often advanced as the darkness metaphor the rhetorical construction of Africa and Africans Blake offers a thorough examination of Ptah hotep and core African ethical principles Maat and engages rhetorical scholarship within the wider discourse of African development In so doing he establishes a direct relationship between rhetoric and development studies in non western societies and highlights the prospect for applying such principles to ameliorating the development malaise of the continent

Doing Justice without the State Ogbonnaya Oko Elechi, 2006-07-25 This study examines the principles and practices of the Afikpo Eugbo Nigeria indigenous justice system in contemporary times Like most African societies the Afikpo indigenous justice system employs restorative transformative and communitarian principles in conflict resolution This book describes the processes of community empowerment participatory justice system and how regular institutions of society that provide education social and economic support are also effective in early intervention in disputes and prevention of conflicts The

Oxford Handbook of Kenyan Politics Nic Cheeseman, Karuti Kanyinga, Gabrielle Lynch, 2020-02-14 Kenya is one of the most politically dynamic and influential countries in sub Saharan Africa Today it is known in equal measure as a country that has experienced great highs and tragic lows In the 1960s and 1970s Kenya was seen as a success story of development in the periphery and also led the way in terms of democratic breakthroughs in 2010 when a new constitution devolved power and placed new constraints on the president However the country has also made international headlines for the kind of political instability that occurs when electoral violence is expressed along ethnic lines such as during the Kenya crisis of 2007 08

when over 1 000 people lost their lives and almost 700 000 were displaced The Oxford Handbook of Kenyan Politics explains these developments and many more drawing together 50 specially commissioned chapters by leading researchers The chapters they have contributed address a range of essential topics including the legacy of colonial rule ethnicity land politics devolution the constitution elections democracy foreign aid the informal economy civil society human rights the International Criminal Court the growing influence of China economic policy electoral violence and the impact of mobile phone technology In addition to covering some of the most important debates about Kenyan politics the volume provides an insightful overview of Kenyan history from 1930 to the present day and features a set of chapters that review the impact of devolution on regional politics in every part of the country

Psychiatry, Mental Institutions, and the Mad in Apartheid South Africa Tiffany Fawn Jones, 2012-05-23 In the late 1970s South African mental institutions were plagued with scandals about human rights abuse and psychiatric practitioners were accused of being agents of the apartheid state Between 1939 and 1994 some psychiatric practitioners supported the mandate of the racist and heteropatriarchal government and most mental patients were treated abysmally However unlike studies worldwide that show that women homosexuals and minorities were institutionalized in far higher numbers than heterosexual men Psychiatry Mental Institutions and the Mad in Apartheid South Africa reveals how in South Africa per capita white heterosexual males made up the majority of patients in state institutions The book therefore challenges the monolithic and omnipotent view of the apartheid government and its mental health policy While not contesting the belief that human rights abuses occurred within South Africa's mental health system Tiffany Fawn Jones argues that the disparity among practitioners and the fluidity of their beliefs along with the disjointed mental health infrastructure diffused state control More importantly the book shows how patients were also to a limited extent able to challenge the constraints of their institutionalization This volume places the discussions of South Africa's mental institutions in an international context highlighting the role that international organizations such as the Church of Scientology and political events such as the gay rights movement and the Cold War also played in shaping mental health policy in South Africa

Africa and IMF Conditionality Kwame Akonor, 2013-09-13 Ghana was one of the first African countries to adopt a comprehensive IMF reform program and the one that has sustained adjustment longest Yet questions of Ghana's compliance to what extent did it comply how did it manage compliance what patterns of non compliance existed and why have not been systematically investigated and remain poorly understood This book argues that understanding the domestic political environment is crucial in explaining why compliance or the lack thereof occurs Akonor maintains that compliance with IMF conditionality in Ghana has had high political costs and thus non compliance occurred once the political survival of a regime was at stake

Balancing Written History with Oral Traditions Hassimi Oumarou Maiga, 2009-09-10 This book offers a unique interpretation of Africa's legacy to the world and the worldwide African Diaspora through bringing to light the sociocultural contributions of the Songhay people and the cosmopolitan empire they established in West Africa

The

Ancient Egyptian Family Troy D. Allen,2008-07-25 Was ancient Egyptian society organized along patrilineal or matrilineal lines This fascinating cultural study attempts to solve one of the most debated questions among Egyptology scholars offering new insight into the curious position of women in both ancient Egyptian society and the ancient Egyptian family structure

Africa in the 21st Century Ama Mazama,2007-11-21 Africa in the 21st Century Toward a New Future brings together some of the finest Pan African and Afrocentric intellectuals to discuss the possibilities of a new future where the continent claims its own agency in response to the economic social political and cultural problems which are found in every nation The volume is structured around four sections I African Unity and Consciousness Assets and Challenges II Language Information and Education III African Women Children and Families and IV Political and Economic Future of the African World In original essays the authors raise the level of discourse around the questions of integration pluralism families a federative state and good governance Each writer sees in the continent the potential for greatness and therefore articulates a theoretical and philosophical approach to Africa that constructs a victorious consciousness from hard concrete facts This book will interest students and scholars of the history and politics of Africa as well as professional Africanists Africologists and international studies scholars who are inclined toward Africa Mobutu's Totalitarian Political System Jean-Louis Peta

Ikambana,2006-11-16 This study shows that the failures and misdeeds of Mobutu s system were clear evidence that it lacked an African centred vision and did not put the interests of the African people of Congo formerly Zaire at the centre of this political project
