Romania Since 1989 Henry F. Carey, 2004-01-01 The most comprehensive study of Romanian politics ever published abroad this volume represents an effort to collect and analyze data on the complex problems of Romania's journey from sultanistic national communism to a yet unreached democratic government Focus: Music, Nationalism, and the Making of the New Europe Philip V. Bohlman, 2010-09-13 Two decades after the fall of communism in Eastern Europe and one decade into the twenty first century European music remains one of the most powerful forces for shaping nationalism Using intensive fieldwork throughout Europe from participation in alpine foot pilgrimages to studies of the grandest music spectacle anywhere in the world the Eurovision Song Contest Philip V Bohlman reveals the ways in which music and nationalism intersect in the shaping of the New Europe Focus Music Nationalism and the Making of the New Europe begins with the emergence of the European nation state in the Middle Ages and extends across long periods during which Europe's nations used music to compete for land and language and to expand the colonial reach of Europe to the entire world Bohlman contrasts the national and the nationalist in music examining the ways in which their impact on society can be positive and negative beneficial for European cultural policy and dangerous in times when many European borders are more fragile than ever The New Europe of the twenty first century is more varied more complex and more politically volatile than ever and its music resonates fully with these transformations Sociology and Post-Socialist Transformations in Eastern Europe Borut Rončević, Tamara Besednjak Valič, 2024-11-28 The volume offers a unique and comprehensive reflection on the role of sociology and sociologists in the transformation of post socialist Eastern European societies It provides detailed insight on the status of sociology in Eastern Europe its institutional development specifics of national sociological traditions the controversial and ambiguous relationship with the political system and importantly state of the art knowledge about the role of sociology as a discipline and sociologists as academics educators public intellectuals experts politicians or civil society activists in three decades of transformation The volume follows a cultural political economy approach and provides a series of national case studies that analyse the role of sociology in re imagining Eastern European societies This topical volume is of interest to a wide interdisciplinary readership in the social sciences especially students and researchers working on Eastern Europe and on post socialist societies Democratic Consolidation and Europeanization in Romania Sergiu Mișcoiu, 2021-09-07 This volume is a multi dimensional analysis of Romania's political economic cultural and societal transformation after 1989 It synthetically depicts the main stages of the processes of democratic transition and consolidation as well as the subsequent phenomena of Europeanization but also the series of more recent democratic setbacks that affected the Romanian society The overall perspective is integrative providing the reader with a balanced and complete understanding of Romania's post communist challenges without being spared of the most sensitive aspects The volume gathers the contributions of some of the most distinguished experts in different sub fields of transition studies including political systems societal transformations minority rights macro economic dynamics and foreign policy

Transitional Justice in Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union Lavinia Stan, 2009-01-13 During the last two decades the countries of Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union have attempted to address the numerous human rights abuses that characterized the decades of communist rule This book examines the main processes of transitional justice that permitted societies in those countries to come to terms with their recent past It explores lustration the banning of communist officials and secret political police officers and informers from post communist political ordinary citizens access to the remaining archives compiled on them by the communist secret police as well as trials and court proceedings launched against former communist officials and secret agents for their human rights trespasses Individual chapters explore the progress of transitional justice in Germany the Czech Republic Slovakia Poland Hungary Romania Bulgaria Albania Slovenia and the successor states of the former Soviet Union The chapters explain why different countries have employed different models to come to terms with their communist past assess each country's relative successes and failures and probe the efficacy of country specific legislation to attain the transitional justice goals for which it was developed The book draws together the country cases into a comprehensive comparative analysis of the determinants of post communist transitional justice that will be relevant not only to scholars of post communist transition but also to anyone interested in transitional justice in other contexts

Europeanization of Environmental Policies and their Limitations Arpad Todor, Florența Elena Helepciuc, 2021-05-13 This book offers a window into the mechanisms that drive events when countries with poor track records in environmental protection and low administrative capacity join an organisation with ambitious environmental regulatory regimes which include some of the highest environmental protections standards in the world This book examines the institutional building capacity in Romania after two decades of the development of the EU's environmental policy on elaboration transposition implementation monitoring and institutional building The book examines how Romania has fared as one of the least environmentally friendly EU member states and poses the following questions What are the limits of Europeanisation in the area of public policies What is the reason why despite the overwhelming public interest in environmental issues and widespread agreement that urgent action to protect the environment and prevent catastrophic climate change are paramount the pace of achieving the goals is remains slow Why do policies fail This book brings together several case studies focusing on the evolution of environmental policies in Romania over the last twenty years with a special focus on the post accession period 2007 onwards The book provides an analysis of policies where progress is less than satisfactory and examines why this is the case

Deconstructing Energy Law and Policy Raphael J Heffron, 2015-02-12 Drawing on over 90 interviews completed across Belgium Brussels Romania the US the EU and the UK this book identifies the key elements of effective and deliverable energy law and policy A Concise History of Romania Keith Hitchins, 2014-02-20 A comprehensive and engaging new history charting Romania's development over 2000 years from its establishment to the present day Europe in the New World Economy: Opportunities and Challenges Luminita Chivu, Valeriu Ioan-Franc, George Georgescu, Ignacio De Los Ríos Carmenado, Jean Vasile Andrei, 2024-11-25 The transition from traditional economic patterns to a model marked by enhanced efficiency environmental responsibility and the adaptation to a new normal economic philosophy marks a pivotal moment in understanding Europe's economic ecosystem within the new world economy However the reliance on conventional economic philosophies has often overlooked the broader economic and social landscapes in which these paradigms operate This volume explores emerging research topics methodologies and techniques that are essential to understanding the global economy dynamics and growth patterns under crisis circumstances and persistent uncertainties Featuring contributions presented at the 2023 International Conference Economic Scientific Research Theoretical Empirical and Practical Approaches ESPERA held in Bucharest Romania in honor of the 50th Anniversary of the National Institute for Economic Research Costin C Kiritescu of the Romanian Academy this book offers theoretical and practical contributions as well as quantitative and qualitative analyses providing valuable inputs for the design of adequate strategies and policies aimed to address the future challenges and to capitalize on the emerged opportunities From sustainable development to digital innovation this book examines the dynamic landscape of European economics and underscores the significance of interdisciplinary approaches and technological advancements in fostering economic resilience and growth The contents of this book are of interest to scholars researchers students practitioners and policy makers in economics and business transformation Representative Bureaucracy in Action Patrick von Maravić, B. Guy Peters, Eckhard Schröter, 2013-01-01 This volume confronts one of the most central issues in the study and practice of bureaucracy Questions about representativeness of public institutions raises key issues about legitimacy especially in contexts characterised by ethnic diversity and cleavages Debates are shaped by normatively informed positions that contrasts those in favour of representativeness with those who point to limitations and side effects This volume offers a set of important contributions to these debates by linking the long standing debates about representative bureaucracy with an impressive range of country studies This volume is a fundamental contribution to the theme of representative bureaucracy Martin Lodge London School of Economics UK The book explores one of the most topical issues of public bureaucracies worldwide the relationship between the composition of the public sector workforce and the nature of the society it serves Taking a comparative and analytical perspective the authoritatively yet accessibly written country chapters show how salient the politics of representativeness have become in increasingly diverse societies At the same time they illustrate the wide variety of practice based on different political systems administrative structures and cultural settings Providing comprehensive up to date information and analysis these studies will interest scholars and practitioners alike from comparative public administration and management government public policy and diversity studies Remembering Transitions Ksenia Robbe, 2023-10-04 This volume offers critical perspectives on memories of political and socioeconomic transitions that took place between the 1970s and 1990s across the globe and that inaugurated the end of the Cold War The essays respond to a wealth of recent works of literature film theatre and other media in different languages that rethink the transformations of those decades in light of present day crises The authors scrutinize the enduring silences produced by established frameworks of memory and time and explore the mnemonic practices that challenge these frameworks by positing radical ambivalence or by articulating new perspectives and subjectivities As a whole the volume contributes to current debates and theory making in critical memory studies by reflecting on how the changing recollection of transitions constitutes a response to the crisis of memory and time regimes and how remembering these times as crises renders visible continuities between this past and the present It is a valuable resource for academics students practitioners and general readers interested in exploring the dynamics of memory in post authoritarian societies International Business Janet Morrison, 2017-09-16 Clear comprehensive and engaging this core textbook is authored by an established and respected expert in the field and approaches its subject from a truly global perspective offering in depth insights into current challenges facing international businesses The text has been carefully designed to encourage critical reflection and is packed with case studies and innovative learning features to emphasise the links between theory and the real world The book takes a multidisciplinary multi perspective approach placing International Business in its political social and ethical context as well as its economic one This textbook is essential reading for undergraduate postgraduate and MBA students studying international business for the first time What/Who Are We After the Transition? Focus on Romania Dorel Ailenei, Anca Dachin, C?t?lin Huidumac-Petrescu, Mariana Iovi?u, Marius-Corneliu Marina?, Christina Marta Suciuc, 2015 What Who are we After the Transition is not only an expression fit for a book title but also a tense issue whose rational solutions are slow in coming amid the vibrating emotion for the life changing consistency differential The prospects of long processes cover a life expectancy but in Romania where generations of sacrifice succeeded one after another time does not have enough patience to run smoothly The assessment made in this book is an attempt at decoding what has been done by the last generation i e the transitional generation from communism to capitalism The authors reunited under the Research and Economic Analysis Centre part of the Department of Economics and Economic Policies from the Faculty of Theoretical and Applied Economics which is part of the Bucharest University of Economics In their analyses the authors refer to the mental milestones of Romanian society that was built on frail social slopes The different parts of Romanian society do not always agree with each other between what we are and what we stand for as a people or as nation between what we can and what we do between what we want and what we have The topics referred to herein come with a bit of historical background but they are approached starting with the need to explain why things happened this way and why it is not as we expected from the standpoint of higher individual and societal amenities The authors were driven by the moral burden to identify a progress generating formula even under tough external constraints stemming from any arrangement conditionality or commitment undertaken by an open economy country with Western geostrategic options

Exploring Management Through Qualitative Research Marta Najda-Janoszka,Corina Daba-Buzoianu,2018-01-01 Our intention with this special issue is to continue a rich scholarly dialogue on producing insightful qualitative research in the management field Being engaged in fieldwork through varied research endeavors we have experienced challenges and uncertainties when doing qualitative research e g Najda Janoszka 2016a 2016b Daba Buzoianu Bira Tudorie Daba Buzoianu Cassell Pratt 2009 because it could put at risk the fluid and emergent nature of qualitative research Cassell Sinkovics Alfoldi 2012 We agree with the standpoint of Symon Cassell and Johnson 2016 that evaluation criteria should not marginalize alternative perspectives nor impose unified normative practices Representing different research backgrounds strategic management communication as well as perspectives organizational individual we have discussed promising opportunities for management studies stemming from confronting distinct research traditions within an interpretive approach The biennial conference Qualitative Research in Communication QRC in Bucharest provided the perfect environment to enhance such a debate and resulted in a call for this special issue Papers included in the issue do not contribute to the standardization trend but are expected to show the diversity of methods used and phenomena studied in the qualitative research in management

Building Trust and Democracy Cynthia M. Horne,2017-04-28 This volume explores the effects of transitional justice measures on trust building and democratization across twelve countries in Central and Eastern Europe and parts of the Former Soviet Union over the period 19892012 The author argues that transitional justice measures have a differentiated impact on political and social trust building supporting some aspects of political trust and undermining other aspects of social trust Moreover the structure scope timing and implementation of transitional justice measures condition outcomes More expansive and compulsory institutional change mechanisms register the largest effects with limited and voluntary change mechanisms having a diminished effect and more informal and largely symbolic measures having the most attenuated effect These differentiated and conditional effects are also evident with respect to transition goals like supporting democratic consolidation and reducing corruption since these goals respond differently to the mixtures of institutional and symbolic reforms found in transitional justice programs The author develops an original transitional justice typology in order to test hypotheses linking trust building and transitional justice across twelve cases in the post communist region The resulting new datasets allow for a quantitative examination of the relationship between different types of transitional justice programs and a range of possible state building and societal reconciliation goals including political trust building social trust building democratization the strengthening of civil society the promotion of government effectiveness and the reduction of corruption Comparative case studies of four transitional justice programs Hungary Romania Poland and Bulgariadraw on field work primary and historical documents and interview materials to explicate trust building dynamics with particular attention to regime complicity challenges historical memory issues and communist legacies Oxford Studies in Democratization is a series for scholars and students of comparative politics and related disciplines Volumes concentrate on the comparative study of the democratization process that accompanied the decline and termination of the cold war The geographical focus of the series is primarily Latin America the Caribbean Southern and Eastern Europe and relevant experiences in Africa and Asia The series editor is Laurence Whitehead Senior Research Fellow Nuffield College University of Oxford

Fighting Corruption in Eastern Europe Diana Schmidt-Pfister, Holger Moroff, 2013-09-13

Anti corruption programmes projects and campaigns have come to constitute an essential aspect of good governance promotion over the last two decades The post communist countries in Eastern Europe have presented one of the first key targets of transnational anti corruption efforts and indeed most of these countries have shown an impressive record of respective measures Yet path breaking institutional and policy developments have not set in before the mid 2000s both at the international level and in most Eastern European countries Are these the beginnings of a mutually synergetic success story In order to answer this question we need to better understand the complex interplay between the international and domestic domains in this policy field and geographic region This book provides in depth and comparative insights about this interplay with a particular focus on the involvement of domestic social movements governmental political machines and international legal mechanisms We find that on all three levels of analysis political and material interests of relevant actors are complemented and at times contradicted by normative claims Moreover at the interfaces of the three levels coincidental and spontaneous developments have largely outweighed systematic implementation and coordination of appropriate anti corruption strategies This book is based on a special issue of Global Crime
