Women Writers At Work The Paris Review Interviews Modern Library:

Women Writers at Work Paris Review, 1998-07-21 Sixteen of the world's great women writers speak about their work, their colleagues, and their lives. For more than forty years, the acclaimed Paris Review interviews have been collected in the Writers at Work series. The Modern Library relaunches the series with the first of its specialized collections: interviews with sixteen women novelists, poets, and playwrights, all offering rich commentary on the art of writing and on the opportunities and challenges a woman writer faces in contemporary society.

The Modern Library Writer's Workshop Stephen Koch, 2009-05-14 Make your characters want something right away, even if it's only a glass of water. Characters paralyzed by the meaninglessness of modern life still have to drink water from time to time. Kurt Vonnegut: The cat sat on the mat is not the beginning of a story, but the cat sat on the dog's mat is. John Le Carr: Nothing is more inspiring for a beginning writer than listening to masters of the craft talk about the writing life. But if you can't get Vladimir Nabokov, Virginia Woolf, and Gabriel García Márquez together at the Algonquin, The Modern Library Writer's Workshop gives you the next best thing. Stephen Koch, former chair of Columbia University's graduate creative writing program, presents a unique guide to the craft of fiction. Along with his own lucid observations and commonsense techniques, he weaves together wisdom, advice, and inspiring commentary from some of our greatest writers. Taking you from the moment of inspiration, keep a notebook with you at all times to writing a first draft; do it quickly; you can always revise later to figuring out a plot. Plot always serves the story, not vice versa. Koch is a benevolent mentor, glad to dispense sound advice when you need it most. The Modern Library Writer's Workshop belongs on every writer's shelf to be picked up and pored over for those moments when the muse needs a little help finding her way.

Latin American Writers at Work Paris Review, 2003-03-18 The fourth book in the Modern Library's Paris Review Writers at Work series, Latin American Writers at Work is a thundering collection of interviews with some of the most important and acclaimed Latin American writers of our time. These fascinating conversations were compiled from the annals of The Paris Review and include a new lyrical Introduction by Nobel Prize-winning author Derek Walcott.

Advice to the Writer Stephen Koch, 2014-02-25 From Stephen Koch, former chair of Columbia University's graduate creative writing program, comes essential and practical advice drawn from The Modern Library Writer's Workshop. With nearly thirty years of teaching experience, Stephen Koch has earned a reputation as an astute and benevolent mentor, and with Advice to the Writer, his lucid observations and commonsense techniques have never been more accessible. Here Koch dispenses sound guidance for those moments when the muse needs a little help finding her way. In Shaping the Story, he untangles plot; in Working and Reworking, he explains the most teachable yet least often taught of all writerly skills, revision; and in The Story of the Self, he delves into autobiography. Featuring handpicked commentary from some of our greatest authors, Advice to the Writer is a unique introduction to this maddening and intoxicating pursuit. Praise for Stephen Koch's The Modern Library Writer's Workshop: An extraordinarily comprehensive and practical work by a master craftsman and a master analyst of the craft.

Madison Smartt Bell author of All Souls Rising and Anything Goes Stephen Koch was my teacher long ago Now he is everyone's teacher indelibly This is a book not just for the beginning writer but for every writer Martha McPhee author of the National Book Award nominee Gorgeous Lies The Modern Library Writer's Workshop is a treasure trove of wisdom both immensely practical and philosophical entertaining and thought provoking Koch takes us inside the writing process and it is impossible not to emerge transformed Joanna Hershon author of Swimming Sontag and Kael Craig Seligman, 2005-06-08 A witty and stylish assessment of the work of two icons of cultural criticism Susan Sontag and Pauline Kael Though outwardly they had some things in common they were both Westerners who came east both schooled in philosophy both secular Jews and both single mothers they were polar opposites in temperament and approach Seligman approaches both women through their widely discussed work Kael practiced a kind of verbal jazz exuberant excessive intimate emotional and funny Sontag is formal and rather icy From the beginning it's clear where Seligman's sympathies lie Sontag is a critic he reveres but Kael is a critic he loves But for all his reservations about Sontag he considers both writers magnificent and his exploration of their differences results in this luminously written landmark of criticism The Black Female Body in American Literature and Art Caroline Brown, 2013-02-28 This book examines how African American writers and visual artists interweave icon and inscription in order to re-present the black female body traditionally rendered alien and inarticulate within Western discursive and visual systems Brown considers how the writings of Toni Morrison Gayl Jones Paule Marshall Edwidge Danticat Jamaica Kincaid Andrea Lee Gloria Naylor and Martha Southgate are bound to such contemporary postmodern visual artists as Lorna Simpson Carrie Mae Weems Kara Walker Betye Saar and Faith Ringgold While the artists and authors rely on radically different media photos collage video and assembled objects as opposed to words and rhythm both sets of intellectual activists insist on the primacy of the black aesthetic Both assert artistic agency and cultural continuity in the face of the oppression social transformation and cultural multiplicity of the late twentieth and early twenty-first centuries This book examines how African American performative practices mediate the tension between the ostensibly de-racialized body politic and the hyper-racialized black female body reimagining the cultural and political ground that guides various articulations of American national belonging Brown shows how and why black women writers and artists matter as agents of change how and why the form and content of their works must be recognized and reconsidered in the increasingly frenzied arena of cultural production and political debate The Intersecting Realities and Fictions of Virginia Woolf and Colette Helen Southworth, 2004 What might the author of Mrs Dalloway and A Room of One's Own have in common with the author of the Claudine series and The Pure and the Impure Resisting long-held interpretations that Colette and Virginia Woolf had little in common Southworth shows here the links between the two famous writers both real and imagined Often cast in their diametrically opposed roles of elitist bluestocking and risque music hall performer critics have overlooked the many ways in which the lives and works of Woolf and Colette intersect This study provides a broad-ranging introduction to the biographical stylistic and thematic ties that link the lives and works of Britain's and France's first ladies of letters of the early twentieth century. Situating the two writers within an international network of artists and literati including Jacques Emile Blanche, Radclyffe Hall and Una Troubridge, Winnie de Polignac, Gisele Freund, Sylvia Beach and Adrienne Monnier, Vita Sackville West and Violet Trefusis, this study complicates conceptions of the differences national, sexual, cultural and intellectual which have kept these two women apart by placing these same differences at its center. Southworth develops work already undertaken on Woolf's contacts with France and adds to the body of comparative work on Woolf and her contemporaries. This study also highlights as yet unexplored connections between Colette and her British and American peers. Southworth's book makes a significant contribution to gay and lesbian studies and the study of modernist culture. It also demonstrates the potential of social network theory for literary studies.

The Transnational Beat Generation N. Grace, 2012-03-15 This collection maps the Beat Generation movement, exploring American Beat writers alongside parallel movements in other countries that shared a critique of global capitalism. Ranging from the immediate post World War II period and continuing into the 1990s, the essays illustrate Beat participation in the global circulation of a poetics of dissent.

The Undergraduate's Companion to Women Poets of the World and Their Web Sites Katharine A. For each author, you will find concise lists of the best Web sites and printed sources, including biographies, criticisms, dictionaries, handbooks, indexes, concordances, journals and bibliographies.

The Existential Phenomenology of Simone de Beauvoir Wendy O'Brien, Lester Embree, 2013-06-29 While earlier research considered Simone de Beauvoir in the perspectives of Existentialism or Feminism, this work is the first to emphasize her reflective and descriptive approach and the full range of issues she addresses. There are valuable chapters and sections that are historical and/or comparative, but most of the contents of this work critically examine Beauvoir's views on old age, whereon she is the first phenomenologist to work; biology, gender, ethics, ethnicity, where she is among the first; and politics, again among the first. Besides their systematic as well as historical significance, these chapters show her philosophy as on a par with those of Merleau-Ponty and Jean-Paul Sartre in quality, richness and distinctiveness of problematics and the penetration of her insight into collective as well as individual human life within the socio-historical world.
