Troubled Waters Champion International And The Pigeon River Controversy Outdoor Tennessee:

Troubled Waters Richard A. Bartlett, 1995 Since 1908 the corporate giant now known as Champion International has operated a pulp and paper mill along the banks of the Pigeon River in Canton North Carolina As a result during most of those years this once sparkling Appalachian stream has been virtually useless except as an industrial sewer foamy foul smelling molasses colored By polluting the river the mill that brought prosperity to Canton stunted the economic growth of the downstream communities in Cocke County Tennessee Although public pressure to clean up the Pigeon surfaced intermittently it has been only in the years since 1985 that two organizations the Pigeon River Action Group and the Dead Pigeon River Council have mounted a sustained drive against the ongoing pollution Today following a multimillion dollar upgrading of the Champion mill the Pigeon River is cleaner but hardly pristine Moreover there is little evidence that Champion carried out its modernization for any reasons other than economic ones

Thomas Wolfe and Lost Children in Southern Literature Paula Eckard, 2024-01-12 Paula Gallant Eckard not only explores the utterly teachable The Lost Boy she also provides substantive and provocative readings of a wide variety of contemporary Southern fiction Through her critical analysis and admirable focus on lost children and children suffering loss Eckard examines how some contemporary writers provide new stories of the Civil War the role of other wars in Southern lives and the centrality of family Margaret M Bauer Rivers Chair of Southern Literature at East Carolina University First published in 1937 Thomas Wolfe's The Lost Boy gives name to the theme of lost children that has permeated much of southern literature and provides a template for telling their stories In Thomas Wolfe and Lost Children in Southern Literature which grew out of many years of teaching The Lost Boy and other works of southern literature Paula Gallant Eckard uses Wolfe's novel as a starting point to trace thematic connections among contemporary southern novels that are comparably evocative in their treatment of lostness Eckard explores six authors and their works Fred Chappell's I Am One of You Forever Mark Powell's Prodigals Kaye Gibbons's Ellen Foster Sue Monk Kidd's The Secret Life of Bees Bobbie Anne Mason's In Country Robert Olmstead's Coal Black Horse and Lee Smith's On Agate Hill

Though each novel is unique and a product of its own time period all the novels explored here are cast against the backdrop of the South during eras of conflict and change Like The Lost Boy these novels reflect a sense of history a sense of loss associated with that history and an innate love of story and narrative as well as representations of work that historically have defined the lives of individuals and families throughout the South In its artistic treatment of lostness The Lost Boy creates a significant literary legacy As Eckard demonstrates that legacy continues in the form of these six contemporary authors who in writing about the South perpetuate Wolfe s efforts as they also create or find the lost child in new ways PAULA GALLANT ECKARD is an associate professor of English and the director of the American studies program at the University of North Carolina at Charlotte She is the author of Maternal Body and Voice in Toni Morrison Bobbie Ann Mason and Lee Smith

Tennessee Historical Quarterly ,1996 Environmental History and the American South Paul Sutter,Christopher J. Manganiello,2009 This reader gathers fifteen of the most important essays written in the field of southern environmental history over the past decade Ideal for course use the volume provides a convenient entrance into the recent literature on the region as it indicates the variety of directions in which the field is growing As coeditor Paul S Sutter writes in his introduction recent trends in environmental historiography a renewed emphasis on agricultural landscapes and their hybridity attention to the social and racial histories of environmental thought and practice and connections between health and the environment among them have made the South newly attractive terrain This volume suggests then that southern environmental history has not only arrived but also that it may prove an important space for the growth of the larger environmental history enterprise The writings which range in setting from the Texas plains to the Carolina Lowcountry address a multiplicity of topics such as husbandry practices in the Chesapeake colonies and the aftermath of Hurricane Andrew The contributors varied disciplinary perspectives including agricultural history geography the history of science the history of technology military history colonial American history urban and regional planning history and ethnohistory also point to the field s vitality Conveying the breadth diversity and liveliness of this maturing area of study Environmental History and the American South affirms the critical importance of human environmental interactions to the history and culture of the region Contributors Virginia DeJohn Anderson William Boyd Lisa Brady Joshua Blu Buhs Judith Carney James Taylor Carson Craig E Colten S Max Edelson Jack Temple Kirby Ralph H Lutts Eileen Maura McGurty Ted Steinberg Mart Stewart Claire Strom Paul Sutter Harry Watson Albert G Way An Unnatural Metropolis Craig E. Colten,2006-09-01 Strategically situated at the gateway to the Mississippi River yet standing atop a former swamp New Orleans was from the first what geographer Peirce Lewis called an impossible but inevitable city How New Orleans came to be taking shape between the mutual and often contradictory forces of nature and urban development is the subject of An Unnatural Metropolis Craig E Colten traces engineered modifications to New Orleans s natural environment from 1800 to 2000 and demonstrates that though all cities must contend with their physical settings New Orleans may be the city most dependent on human induced transformations of its precarious site In a new preface Colten shows how Hurricane Katrina exemplifies the inability of human artifice to exclude nature from cities and he urges city planners to keep the environment in mind as they contemplate New Orleans s future Urban geographers frequently have portrayed cities as the antithesis of nature but in An Unnatural Metropolis Colten introduces a critical environmental perspective to the history of urban areas His amply illustrated work offers an in depth look at a city and society uniquely shaped by the natural forces it has sought to harness
