Troublemakers The Best Of South Africa's Investigative Journalism:

Troublemakers Anton Harber, Margaret Renn, 2010 A collection of finalists of the Taco Kuiper Award for Investigative Reporting this book illustrates the revival of hard hitting investigative reporting in South Africa and highlights its important role These exposés range from government corruption and white collar crime to environmental and social issues With a comprehensive discussion on the state of South African journalism these stories were originally published by the country's most reputable newspapers and make no qualms about covering the controversial the horrors of Zimbabwe prisons shift politicians and shoot to kill policemen New South African Review 2 Devan Pillay, 2011-10-01 An explanation of the New Growth Plan and alternatives to neo liberal and capitalist development in South Africa In this second volume of the New South African Review the New Growth Path adopted by the South African government in 2010 provides the basis for a dialogue about whether decent work is the best solution to South Africa's problems of low economic growth and high unemployment There are investigations into rising inequality against the backdrop of the failings of Black Economic Empowerment greening the economy with emphasis on biofuels the crisis of acid mine drainage on the Witwatersrand possibilities for participatory forms of government civil society activism transformation of the print media and the SABC the crisis in child care in public hospitals the relationship between the police and a township community the problems related to the absence of legislation to govern the powers of traditional authorities over land allocation and assessments of the state of opposition political parties and the ANC Alliance Asking whether the New Growth Plan reflects a set of new policies or an attempt to re dress old promises in new clothes this volume brings together different voices in debate about possibilities for alternatives to neo liberal and capitalist development in South Africa Television in Africa in the Digital Age Gilbert Motsaathebe, Sarah H. Chiumbu, 2021-04-21 This book places television in Africa in the digital context It address the onslaught of multimedia platforms digital migration and implication of this technology for society The discussions in the chapters contained in this book encompass a wide range of issues such as digital disruption of television news internet television and video on demand platforms adaptations digital migration business strategies and management approaches PBS consumption patterns scheduling and programming evangelical television and many others The book is an important reading for academics students and television practitioners It offers an insightful view of television in Africa The People's Paper Peter Limb, 2012-09-01 This much awaited volume uncovers the long lost pages of the major African multilingual newspaper Abantu Batho Founded in 1912 by African National Congress ANC convenor Pixley Seme with assistance from the Swazi Queen it was published up until 1931 attracting the cream of African politicians journalists and poets Mqhayi Nontsisi Mqgqweh and Grendon In its pages burning issues of the day were articulated alongside cultural by ways The People's Paper comprising both essays and an anthology explores the complex movements and individuals that emerged in the almost twenty years of its publication The essays contribute rich new material to provide clearer insights into South African politics and intellectual life The anthology unveils a judicious selection of never before published columns from the paper spanning every year of its life and drawn from repositories on three continents Abantu Batho had a regional and international focus and by examining all these dynamics across boundaries and disciplines The People s Paper transcends established historiographical frontiers to fill a lacuna that scholars have long lamented

Militarised Responses to Transnational Organised Crime

Tuesday Reitano, Sasha Jespersen, Lucia Bird Ruiz-Benitez de Lugo, 2017-10-06 This edited volume examines the use of militarised responses to different forms of criminal activity discussing the outcomes and unintended consequences Politicians and policymakers frequently use militarised responses to look tough on crime The deployment of armies navies military assets and militarised approaches can send a powerful message but have produced mixed results While they generate the perception that governments are actively engaged on issues of concern to the public and in some cases have resulted in notable successes on the downside they have frequently also increased the loss of life exacerbated the humanitarian consequences of a particular crime and entrenched divides between security and state institutions and the criminal proponents narrowing the possibilities for future negotiated solutions By focusing on four different areas of criminality wildlife crime piracy migration and drug trafficking the book allows context and evidence based conclusions to be drawn on the strategic value and commonality of responses and their outcomes

An Inconvenient Youth Fiona Forde, 2012-09-06

Julius Malema has risen to prominence and power with meteoric speed From impoverished origins in a Limpopo township he has before the age of 30 amassed the political and economic power to command the entire youth wing of the ANC and to own several substantial luxury homes The sources of his wealth are befogged by speculation and mystery but his appeal to the massed ranks of the township and village poor of his country is visible for all to see And his inflammatory style his theme song is Shoot the Boer his contrarian tendencies and his showmanship have rapidly brought him to the attention of the world So troublesome has he become that the old guard of the ANC have gone to great lengths to shackle and reprimand him and he is now formally in dispute with them An Inconvenient Youth traces Malema s life from his early years in Limpopo to his joining the student structures of the ANC in the early 1990s and his rapid rise through the party s ranks to become the president of the ANC Youth League in 2008 Forde analyses the sources of Malema s wealth exploring his seamless approach to business and politics She situates Malema within the ANC s history and shows in unprecedented detail how he has perfected the practices that characterise a new struggle in which individuals extend their personal wealth and political power at the expense of the people This insightful meticulously researched account explores how a brave child has grown to become a grave inconvenience not only to the ANC but also due to his style of politics to South Africa s fledgling democracy

Digital Technologies and the Evolving African Newsroom Hayes Mabweazara, 2016-04-14 African newsrooms are experiencing the disruptive impact of new digital technologies on the way they generate and disseminate news Indeed newsrooms are being forced to adapt in various ways and there are clear dimensions of localized creativity and adaptations by journalists to the digital revolution In the same way the influences of digitization Internet and social media are changing the informational needs of readers including how they engage with news These developments nonetheless remain on the margins of mainstream journalism research very few researchers have sought to qualitatively capture the implications of developments in digital technologies on the routine practices of African journalists especially in their natural habitat the newsroom In this light this edited volume interrogates the changing ecology of newsmaking in Africa in the context of rapid technological changes in newsrooms as well as in the wider social context of news production It brings together six contributions drawn from five countries Egypt Mozambique South Africa Nigeria and Zimbabwe to explore practices challenges and professional normative dilemmas emerging with the adoption and appropriation of new technologies While the studies point to dimensions of localised new technology appropriations as defined by the complex socio political structures in which African journalists operate they are not rigidly confined to Africa They are expressly in dialogue with theoretical observations largely emerging from Western scholarship In this sense the book goes beyond simply mainstreaming African perspectives it engages directly with dominant theoretical observations and offers a point of departure for developing what could loosely be branded as an African digital journalism epistemology This book was originally published as a special issue of Digital Journalism

Fight for Democracy Glenda Daniels, 2012-09-01 Fight for Democracy is a penetrating and critical scrutiny of the ANC's treatment of the print media since the inception of democracy in 1994 In this book Glenda Daniels does not hide behind a veil of detachment but instead makes a passionate argument for the view that newspapers and journalists play a significant role in the deepening of democratic principles Glenda Daniels examines the pattern of paranoia that has crept into public discourse about the media and the ANC and their conflictual relationship She analyses this fraught relationship through various popular media stories such as Manto and Mondli Zapiro and Zuma Her argument is that there is some hysteria on the part of the ruling party and its allies for instance the SACP regarding the media's exposés which partially rests on the problem of conflating party state and the people Daniels presents her argument against the backdrop of the impending clamp down on media freedom the twin threats of the Protection of State Information Bill Secrecy Bill and the media appeals tribunal both of which she asserts signify closures in South Africa's democracy The book challenges the view held by the ANC that journalists are anti transformation and that they take instruction from the owners of the media houses that they are capitalist bastards and enemies of the people

Diepsloot Anton Harber, 2011-05-03 In a little more than a decade Diepsloot has transformed from a semi rural expanse to a dense seething settlement of about 200 000 people A post apartheid creation lying to the north of Johannesburg Diepsloot is talked about as a place of fear vigilante justice xenophobic violence and a haven for criminals and undocumented foreigners Respected journalist Anton Harber spent several months there meeting the people drinking in the taverns and probing the bitter local political battles He patrolled with volunteer crime fighters at night He spoke to politicians church members and artists He interviewed city officials asking them why so little progress was being made in developing Diepsloot He investigated why the much need police station stands unfinished Amidst the poverty violence and chaos he found a bustling place much loved by its inhabitants an active economy with all the associated hustling and trading He found people who when neglected by the state made their own solutions Most of all I learned that if you want to understand where this country is headed you need to listen to the people of Diepsloot Hear what they are saying Take note of their hopes and aspirations You might be surprised Diepsloot is the first study of its kind that seeks to understand change as it is lived on the ground and not as it is talked about in the media and corridors of power Rich with detail and local colour it offers a nuanced examination of life as it is lived despite the State with its half completed police station and the ANC with its internecine warfare

JACOB DLAMINI Global Muckraking Anya Schiffrin, 2014 Crusading journalists from Sinclair Lewis to Bob Woodward and Carl Bernstein have played a central role in American politics checking abuses of power revealing corporate misdeeds and exposing government corruption Muckraking journalism is part and parcel of American democracy But how many people know about the role that muckraking has played around the world This groundbreaking new book presents the most important examples of world changing journalism spanning one hundred years and every continent Carefully curated by prominent international journalists working in Asia Africa Latin America Europe and the Middle East Global Muckraking includes Ken Saro Wiwa's defense of the Ogoni people in the Niger Horacio Verbitsky's uncovering of the gruesome disappearance of political detainees in Argentina Gareth Jones's coverage of the Ukraine famine of 1932-33 missionary newspapers coverage of Chinese foot binding in the nineteenth century Dwarkanath Ganguli's exposés of the British coolie trade in nineteenth century Assam India and many others Edited by the noted author and journalist Anya Schiffrin Global Muckraking is a sweeping introduction to international journalism that has galvanized the world's attention In an era when human rights are in the spotlight and the fate of newspapers hangs in the balance here is both a riveting read and a sweeping argument for why the world needs long form investigative reporting
