Inheriting the City Philip Kasinitz,John H. Mollenkopf,Mary C. Waters,Jennifer Holdaway,2009-12-11 From the publisher Inheriting the City examines five immigrant groups to disentangle the complicated question of how they are faring relative to native born groups and how achievement differs between and within these groups While some experts worry that these young adults would not do as well as previous waves of immigrants due to lack of high paying manufacturing jobs poor public schools and an entrenched racial divide Inheriting the City finds that the second generation is rapidly moving into the mainstream speaking English working in jobs that resemble those held by native New Yorkers their age and creatively combining their ethnic cultures and norms with American ones Far from descending into an

Migration, Diaspora and Identity Georgina Tsolidis, 2013-10-07 Framed in relation to diaspora this collection engages with the subject of how cultural difference is lived and how complex and shifting identities shape and respond to spatial politics of belonging Diaspora is understood in a variety of ways which makes this an eclectic collection of papers Authors use various theoretical frameworks to explore diverse groups of people with a variety of experiences in a wide range of settings They are making sense of the experiences of women and men from a range of ethnic backgrounds negotiating identities through family work and education The micro dynamics of the everyday offer an evocative bottom up means of understanding the tensions implicit in living multiple belongings The common thread for the collection comes from the glimpses these authors provide into the remaking of our globalized world The aim is to shed light on racism dislocation and alienation on the one hand and on the other hand to consider how the complex power relations within the everyday mediate a sense of resistance and hope The papers are arranged around four themes 1 Multiple Belongings 2 Representing a Way of Being 3 Sexualised Identifications and 4 Marriage and Family

Geographies of the Haitian Diaspora Regine O. Jackson, 2011-06-27 This book considers the full sweep of Haitian community invention and recreation in a multitude of national territories with an eye toward the place factors that shape the everyday lives of Haitian migrants Regine O Jackson brings together an interdisciplinary group of scholars to explore how Haitian communities differ across time and place as well as how migrants adjust to new economic political and racial realities The volume includes descriptive ethnographies of Haitians in 19th century Jamaica eastern Cuba Detroit the Dominican Republic Guadeloupe Paris and Boston and innovative scholarly work on non geographic sites of Haitian community building The most important question addressed here is not whether the places described represent typical or exceptional Haitian diasporic communities but how why and to what effect do Haitians in particular places use diaspora as a signifier By examining the diversity and sameness of the Haitian experience in diaspora Geographies of the Haitian Diaspora asks how we might situate community in view of increased scholarly attention to transnational processes
