Garcia-Murillo, 2017-10-20 This book is about international students from Asia studying at American universities in the age of globalization It explores significant questions such as Why do they want to study in America How do they make their college choices To what extent do they integrate with domestic students and what are the barriers for intergroup friendship How do faculty and administrators at American institutions respond to changing campus and classroom dynamics with a growing student body from Asia Have we provided them with the skills they need to succeed professionally As they are preparing to become the educational managerial and entrepreneurial elites of the world do Asian international students plan to stay in the U S or return to their home country Asian students constitute over 70 percent of all international students Almost every major American university now faces unprecedented enrollment growth from Asian students However American universities rarely consider if they truly understand the experiences and needs of these students This book argues that American universities need to learn about their Asian international students to be able to learn from them It challenges the traditional framework that emphasizes adjustment and adaptation on the part of international students It argues for the
