Under New Ownership Shahid Yusuf, 2006 Under New Ownership Shahid Yusuf, Kaoru Nabeshima, Dwight Heald Perkins, 2006 Although China's centrally planned economy is a little more than a shadow of its former self the closely inter linked reforms of the enterprise and banking sectors are still incomplete The relative size of the state owned enterprise sector has been much reduced however the sector remains the dominant borrower from the banking system and is responsible for the majority of bank non performing assets Thus in the interests of financial stability it is crucial to implement the remaining reform agenda The accession to the WTO has also made it more urgent for China's most dynamic state owned en

Under New Ownership Connie Boswell, Shahid Yusuf, 1977 State-Led Privatization in China Jin Zeng, 2013-10-01 Large scale privatization did not emerge spontaneously in China in the late 1990s Rather the Chinese state led and carefully planned ownership transformation with timetables and measurable privatization quotas not for the purpose of extracting the state from the economy but in order to strengthen the rule of the Party While it is widely believed that authoritarian regimes are better suited than democracies to carry out economic reform this book provides a more nuanced understanding of reform in China demonstrating that the Chinese state's capacity to impose unpopular reform is contingent on its control over local state agents and its adaptability to societal demands Building on rich fieldwork data gathered in three Chinese cities Shenyang Shanghai and Xiamen this book offers the first comparative study of China's privatization processes at the local level Instead of focusing solely on political elites Jin Zeng adopts a multi level interaction approach to examine how the complex interplay of the central leadership grassroots officials and state owned enterprise managers and workers shaped the contour of privatization in China The book advances three central arguments First local economic structure and cadre evaluation system mediated local officials incentives to initiate privatization Second local officials relied on mobilization campaigns and various appeasement measures to implement privatization Finally the dynamics of privatization were fundamentally driven by the central government's reactions to social opposition and by the subsequent responses of local officials to the changed political regulatory environment As a detailed analysis of the dual transformation of the property regime and state society relations in China this book will be invaluable to students and scholars of Chinese politics economic reform as well as those interested in comparative political economy and economic development more broadly
