Unsettling Narratives Unsettling Narratives:

Unsettling Narratives Clare Bradford, 2007 Children's books seek to assist children to understand themselves and their world Unsettling Narratives: Postcolonial Readings of Children's Literature demonstrates how settler society texts position child readers as citizens of postcolonial nations how they represent the colonial past to modern readers what they propose about race relations and how they conceptualize systems of power and government Clare Bradford focuses on texts produced since 1980 in Canada the United States Australia and New Zealand and includes picture books novels and films by Indigenous and non Indigenous publishers and producers From extensive readings the author focuses on key works to produce a thorough analysis rather than a survey Unsettling Narratives opens up an area of scholarship and discussion the use of postcolonial theories relatively new to the field of children's literature and demonstrates that many texts recycle the colonial discourses naturalized within mainstream cultures

Unsettling Narratives George Dalbo, 2025-03-21 Genocide education has become increasingly popular and prevalent in the United States over the past decade However genocide is all too often taught as something that occurred in the past or is happening far away What does it mean to teach about genocide in a settler colonial nation state that has yet to fully reckon with its violent past Unsettling Narratives: Teaching About Genocide in a Settler Space examines how high school students and their teacher navigated learning and teaching about genocide and mass violence in the context of a semester long comparative genocide and human rights elective course in rural south central Wisconsin Specifically how students and their teacher individually and collectively navigated the difficult knowledge of learning about settler colonialism the genocide of Indigenous peoples in the United States during the nineteenth century the legacies of genocide and mass violence at the intersections of U S and Indigenous societies during the twentieth and twenty first centuries and the enduring legacies of white supremacy and settlerness It reveals the complexities limits and possibilities of teaching and learning about genocide in the contemporary United States Unsettled Narratives

David Farrier, 2007 First Published in 2006 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Narratives

Unsettled Samuel Frederick, 2012-08-31 Narratives Unsettled argues by way of close readings of three very different German language writers that only if we conceive of narrativity unburdened by plot can we properly account for radical forms of digression Kipling's Children's Literature Sue Walsh, 2010 Despite Kipling's popularity as an author and his standing as a politically controversial figure much of his work has remained relatively unexamined due to its categorization as children's literature Sue Walsh challenges the apparently clear division between children's and adult literature suggesting new directions for postcolonial and childhood studies and interrogating the way biographical criticism on children's literature in particular has tended to supersede and obstruct other kinds of readings Discourse and Narrative Methods Mona Livholts, Maria Tamboukou, 2015-04-14 Discourses and narratives are crucial in how we understand a world of rapid changes This textbook constitutes a unique introduction to two major influential theoretical and methodological fields discourse and narrative methods and examines them in their interrelation It offers readers an orientation within the broad and contested area of discourse and narrative methods and develops concrete analytical strategies to those who wish to explore both or one of these fields as well as their overlaps Illustrated with examples from real life and real research this book Maps the theoretical influence from poststructuralist postmodern postcolonial and feminist ideas on the field of discourse and narrative Acts as a guide to the most central analytical approaches in discourse and narrative studies supported by concrete examples of analytical strategies Presents a variety of oral textual visual and other data for the purpose of analyzing discourse and narrative Offers deeper insight into discourse and narrative methods within three themes of crucial importance for changing global context media and society gender and space and autobiography and life writing Acts as a helpful guide to situated writing based on concrete workshop exercises which promotes ethical reflexivity analytical thinking and creative engagement in the study of discourses and narratives

Challenging Stories Anne Burke,Ingrid Johnston,Angela Ward,2017-07-31 How can Canadian educators begin to instill cultural sensitivity and social awareness in elementary and secondary school students This vital text attempts to answer that question by bringing together literacy scholars and practicing teachers in a unique cross Canadian exploration of children s literature and social justice Through reflection on the experience of teaching with various Canadian texts including picture books novels and graphic novels the contributors behind Challenging Stories create a pedagogy of discomfort that will encourage both educators and their students to develop critical literacy skills The compelling contributions to this collection highlight the complexities of teaching with texts that address issues of discrimination historical marginalization colonialism racial and gender intolerance sexual orientation language and cultural diversity The authors offer first hand insight into the possibilities and challenges of implementing curricular and pedagogical changes to promote equity and social justice in the classroom Featuring the stories of participating teachers and an annotated bibliography of children's literature this invaluable resource will prove to be essential reading for current and future educators

Not a Big Deal Paul Ardoin, 2021-08 Not a Big Deal asks how texts might work to unsettle readers at a moment when unwelcome information is rejected as fake news or rebutted with alternative facts When readers already recognize defamiliarizing texts as a category how might texts still work toward the goals of defamiliarization When readers refuse to grapple with texts that might shock them or disrupt their extant views about politics race or even narrative itself how can texts elicit real engagement This study draws from philosophy narratology social neuroscience critical theory and numerous other disciplines to read texts ranging from novels and short stories to graphic novels films and fiction broadcasted and podcasted all of which enact curious strategies of disruption while insisting that they do no such thing Following a model traceable to Toni Morrison's criticism and short fiction texts by Kyle Baker Scott Brown Percival Everett Daniel Handler David Robert Mitchell Jordan Peele and Colson Whitehead suggest new strategies for unsettling the category based perceptions behind what Everett calls the insidious colonialist reader's eye which infects America Not a Big Deal examines problems in our perception of the world and of texts and insists we do the same
