Ebadi, 2016-03-08 The first Muslim woman to receive the Nobel Peace Prize Shirin Ebadi has inspired millions around the globe through her work as a human rights lawyer defending women and children against a brutal regime in Iran Now Ebadi tells her story of courage and defiance in the face of a government out to destroy her her family and her mission to bring justice to the people and the country she loves For years the Islamic Republic tried to intimidate Ebadi but after Mahmoud Ahmadinejad rose to power in 2005 the censorship and persecution intensified The government wiretapped Ebadi's phones bugged her law firm sent spies to follow her harassed her colleagues detained her daughter and arrested her sister on trumped up charges It shut down her lectures fired up mobs to attack her home seized her offices and nailed a death threat to her front door Despite finding herself living under circumstances reminiscent of a spy novel nothing could keep Ebadi from speaking out and standing up for human dignity But it was not until she received a phone call from her distraught husband and he made a shocking confession that would all but destroy her family that she realized what the intelligence apparatus was capable of to silence its critics The Iranian government would end up taking everything from Shirin Ebadi her marriage friends and colleagues her home her legal career even her Nobel Prize but the one thing it could never steal was her spirit to fight for justice and a better future This is the amazing at times harrowing simply astonishing story of a woman who would never give up no matter the risks Just as her words and deeds have inspired a nation Until We Are Free will inspire you to find the courage to stand up for your beliefs Praise for Until We Are Free Ebadi recounts the cycle of sinister assaults she faced after she won the Nobel Prize in 2003 Her new memoir written as a novel like narrative captures the precariousness of her situation and her determination to stand firm The Washington Post Powerful Although Ebadi's memoir underscores that a slow change will have to come from within Iran it is also proof of the stunning effects of her nonviolent struggle on behalf of those who bravely and at a very high cost keep pushing for the most basic rights The New York Times Book Review Shirin Ebadi is quite simply the most vital voice for freedom and human rights in Iran Reza Aslan author of No god but God and Zealot Shirin Ebadi writes of exile hauntingly and speaks of Iran her homeland as the poets do Ebadi is unafraid of addressing the personal as well as the political and does both fiercely with introspection and fire Fatima Bhutto author of The Shadow of the Crescent Moon I would encourage all to read Dr Shirin Ebadi's memoir and to understand how her struggle for human rights continued after winning the Nobel Peace Prize It is also fascinating to see how she has been affected positively and negatively by her Nobel Prize This is a must read for all Desmond Tutu A revealing portrait of the state of political oppression in Iran Ebadi is an inspiring figure and her suspenseful evocative story is unforgettable Publishers Weekly starred review Ebadi's courage and strength of character are evident throughout this engrossing text Kirkus Reviews

Champions for Peace Judith Hicks Stiehm, 2018-11-02 Only seventeen women have won the Nobel Prize for Peace since it was first awarded in 1901 Hailing from all over the world some of these women have held graduate degrees while others barely had access to education Some began their work young some late in life In this compelling book Judith Stiehm narrates these women's varied lives in fascinating detail. The third edition includes the story of Pakistani activist Malala Yousafzai, the youngest laureate who won as a teenager in 2014. Her campaign for girls' education continued in spite of a vicious attack by the Taliban. Engaged and inspirational, all these women clearly demonstrate that there is something each of us can do to advance a just, positive peace. Whether they began by insisting on garbage collection or simply by planting a tree, each understood that peace must be global in order to be sustained. All learned that peace is not always popular but believed they must persevere. They shared a common vision and commitment undiminished by obstacles and opposition. As Judith Stiehm convincingly shows, all are truly champions for peace.
