Widening University Access and Participation in the Global South Edward Mboyonga, 2024-12-31 Using a capability approach as an analytical framework this timely volume examines how access to higher education enabled through private universities can transform students lives and contribute to human development in low income countries in the Global South Providing new insights into the contribution of the private higher education sector in Africa's developmental agendas the book offers an alternative to human capital theory by offering an expansive notion on the value of higher education emphasising both the economic and the intrinsic societal and social benefits that come from access to university and raised aspirations The chapters identify and discuss six specific capabilities valued by students that higher education provides This includes epistemological access epistemic contribution aspiration recognition respect and belonging Ubuntu and employability The book foregrounds the voices of students and lecturers to explore students aspirations agency access and participation Ultimately promoting a reconsideration of access to higher education beyond numerical terms by focusing on students access to transformative knowledge as means to promote their freedom to achieve well being the book will appeal to scholars researchers and postgraduate students in higher education African education studies and international and comparative education more broadly Postcolonial Legality: Law, Power and Politics in Zambia Jeremy Gould, 2023-03-24

This book interrogates the ideology and practices of liberal constitutionalism in the Zambian postcolony. The analysis focuses on the residual political and governmental effects of an imperial form of power embodied in the person of the republican president termed here prerogativism. Through systematic long term ethnographic engagement with Zambian constitutionalist activists, lawyers, judges and civic leaders, the study examines how prerogativism has shaped the postcolonial political landscape and limited the possibilities of constitutional liberalism. This is revealed in the ways that repeated efforts to reform the constitution have sidelined popular participation and thus failed to address the deep divide between a small elite stratum from which the constitutional activists are drawn and the marginalized masses of the population. Along the way, the study documents the intimate interpenetration of political and legal action and examines how prerogativism delimits the political engagements of elite actors. Special attention is given to the reluctance of legal activists to engage with popular politics and to the conservative ethos that undermines efforts to pursue a jurisprudence of transformational constitutionalism in the findings of the Constitutional Court. The work contributes to the rising interest in applying socio legal analysis to the statutory domain in postcolonial jurisdictions. It offers a pioneering attempt to deconstruct the amorphous and ambivalent assemblage of ideas and practices related to constitutionalism through detailed ethnographic interrogation. It will appeal to scholars, students and practitioners with an interest in theorizing challenges to political liberalism in postcolonial contexts as well as in rethinking the methodological toolbox of socio legal analysis.
