Up Against Whiteness Race School And Immigrant Youth:

Up Against Whiteness Stacey J. Lee, 2005 Pushing the boundaries of Asian American educational discourse this book explores the way a group of first and second generation Hmong students created their identities as new Americans in response to their school experiences Offering an opportunity to rethink the norm this important volume pays particular attention to how race class and gender informed their experiences Revealing the complex dynamics between immigration and Americanization this engaging volume shows how the culture of middle class whiteness at a public high school in Wisconsin excluded and alienated Hmong American students and how these students responded focuses on the ways the academic and social experience at school including peer relationships extracurricular participation relationships with teachers and academic achievement influenced identity construction makes connections between the experiences of one ethnic group of immigrant youth and the broader issues of race in the United States showing how schools can better serve immigrant students of colour

Unhooking from Whiteness Cleveland Hayes, Nicholas D. Hartlep, 2013-11-19 The purpose of Unhooking from Whiteness The Key to Dismantling Racism in the United States is to reconsider the ways and strategies in which antiracist scholars do their work as well as to provide pragmatic ways in which people White and of color can build cross racial cross communal and cross institutional coalitions to fight White supremacy Employing the methodology of autoethnography each chapter in this book illustrates the individual journey that the chapter contributor took to unhook him or herself from Whiteness Unhooking from Whiteness explains Whiteness in ways never conceptualized before The chapters suggest approaches to unhooking from Whiteness while sharing the authors continual struggles to identify and eradicate the role of Whiteness in education and society in the United States The contributors to Unhooking from Whiteness offer us the invaluable gift of their stories humble reflections on commitments to racial justice and complicities with racial injustice But they aren't merely stories and this is the brilliance of the book they are invitations into a reconsideration of the common sense discussions about the nature of white privilege the possibility of white anti racism and the pervasive tug of whiteness This is the rare book that shifts the angle and changes the conversation Paul Gorski Coordinator of the Social Justice Concentration George Mason University

White Fragility Dr. Robin DiAngelo, 2022-09-13 A reimagining of the best selling book that gives young adults the tools to ask questions engage in dialogue challenge their ways of thinking and take action to create a more racially just world I was taught to treat everyone the same I don't see color My parents voted for Obama When white people have the opportunity to think and talk about race and racism they more often than not don't know how In this adaptation of Dr Robin DiAngelo's best selling book White Fragility anti racist educators Toni Graves Williamson and Ali Michael explain the concept of systemic racism to young adult readers and how to recognize it in themselves and the world around them Along the way Williamson and Michael provide tools for taking action to challenge systems of inequity and racism as they move into adulthood Throughout the book readers will find the following A dialogue between the adaptors that models anti racist discussions Definitions of key terms Personal stories from this multiracial team Discussion prompts to encourage readers to journal their reactions and feelings Illustrations to help concepts of white fragility and systemic racism come alive Portraits of scholars and activists including Carol Anderson Ta Nehisi Coates and Ijeoma Oluo whose work is amplified throughout Dr DiAngelo s theory of white fragility No Reluctant Citizens Jeremiah Clabough, Timothy Lintner, 2018-06-01 American democracy is at a critical crossroads Rancor division and suspicion are the unfortunate byproducts of the contentious 2016 presidential election The election also bred a measure of civic uncertainty where citizens of all ages struggle to find and define their roles within a functioning democracy No Reluctant Citizens Teaching Civics in K 12 Classrooms is designed to help social studies teachers reinforce the centrality of civic education through a series of hands on participatory and empowering activities From civic literacy to human rights from service learning to controversial issues No Reluctant Citizens Teaching Civics in K 12 Classrooms explores an array of topics that ultimately provides K 12 students the conceptual and practical tools to become civically engaged Our Problem, Our Path Ali Michael, Eleonora Bartoli, 2022-07-21 A healthy multiracial society could be ours Building a healthy multiracial society is possible but not without millions of White people seeing racism as our problem and choosing to walk an antiracist path It will take us supporting and challenging one another on this journey to learn more about the realities of racism and what we can do about it In Our Problem Our Path award winning author Ali Michael and clinical psychologist Eleonora Bartoli invite White people to join them on an antiracist journey to learn to talk about race with one another in ways that lead to real change Drawing on decades of personal and professional experiences engaging in antiracism the authors emphasize the need for White people to have honest meaningful relationships not only with People of Color and Native people but also with other White people in order to change systems shaped by racism provide strategies for parents and teachers to support White children to become contributing members of a healthy multiracial society introduce trauma informed tools from psychology that enable readers to understand and overcome their own resistance and fear around taking antiracist action demonstrate how White people can take antiracist action today exactly where they are and as they are Grounded in an understanding of antiracism as a daily lifelong practice Our Problem Our Path supports White people to help one another find the trailhead and start moving on the path toward a more just equitable and loving multiracial society for all Jacked Up and Unjust Katherine Irwin, Karen Umemoto, 2016-08-23 In the context of two hundred years of American colonial control in the Pacific Katherine Irwin and Karen Umemoto shed light on the experiences of today s inner city and rural girls and boys in Hawai i who face racism sexism poverty and political neglect Basing their book on nine years of ethnographic research the authors highlight how legacies of injustice endure prompting teens to fight for dignity and the chance to thrive in America a nation that the youth describe as inherently jacked up rigged and unjust While the story begins with the youth battling multiple contingencies it ends on a hopeful note with many of the teens overcoming numerous hardships often with the guidance of steadfast caring adults Risk, Schooling, and Equity Vivian L. Gadsden, Alfredo Artiles, James E. Davis, 2009-03-15 Risk Schooling and Equity offers insights from a range of theoretical and practical viewpoints into current conceptions of risk and its effect on access to opportunity The authors challenge existing frameworks and approaches discuss how children and youth experience and live with risk in and out of school and suggest ways to reduce institutional barriers to students full engagement in school By examining risk at different levels and through different lenses the volume provides a critical look at both the issues and the venues that allow us to understand the problems that persist as well as the opportunities spaces and places for change

Our Schools Suck Jeanne Theoharis, Gaston Alonso, Noel S. Anderson, Celina Su, 2009-05-01 Shares the voices of students speaking out against the failures of urban education Our schools suck This is how many young people of color call attention to the kind of public education they are receiving In cities across the nation many students are trapped in under funded mismanaged and unsafe schools Yet a number of scholars and of public figures have shifted attention away from the persistence of school segregation to lambaste the values of young people themselves Our Schools Suck forcefully challenges this assertion by giving voice to the compelling stories of African American and Latino students who attend under resourced inner city schools where guidance counselors and AP classes are limited and security guards and metal detectors are plentiful and grow disheartened by a public conversation that continually casts them as the problem with urban schools By showing that young people are deeply committed to education but often critical of the kind of education they are receiving this book highlights the dishonesty of public claims that they do not value education Ultimately these powerful student voices remind us of the ways we have shirked our public responsibility to create excellent schools True school reform requires no less than a new civil rights movement where adults join with young people to ensure an equal education for each and every student

Critical Feminism and Critical Education Jennifer De Saxe, 2016-03-31 Challenging the current state of public education and teacher preparation this book argues for a re imagination of teacher education through a critical feminist and critical education perspective Offering a rich discussion of the promise and pedagogy of self reflexivity and testimonio which emerges from critical feminism this book brings together theory and practice in critical feminism critical education and testimonio to serve as a platform in which to reconceptualize the philosophy of traditional teacher education arguing that too many programs prepare teachers who often preserve rather than challenge the status quo

Race, Culture, and Identities in Second Language Education Ryuko Kubota, Angel M.Y. Lin, 2009-06-02 This groundbreaking volume presents empirical and conceptual research that specifically explores critical issues of race culture and identities in second language education and provides implications for engaged practice
