Screen Interiors Pat Kirkham,Sarah A. Lichtman,2021-03-11 Covering everything from Hollywood films to Soviet cinema London s queer spaces to spaceships horror architecture and action scenes Screen Interiors presents an array of innovative perspectives on film design Essays address questions related to interiors and objects in film and television from the early 1900s up until the present day Authors explore how interior film design can facilitate action and amplify tensions how rooms are employed as structural devices and how designed spaces can contribute to the construction of identities Case studies look at disjunctions between interior and exterior design and the inter relationship of production design and narrative With a lens on class sexuality and identity

across a range of films including Twilight of a Woman's Soul 1913 The Servant 1963 Caravaggio 1986 and Passengers 2016 and illustrated with film stills throughout Screen Interiors showcases an array of methodological approaches for the study of film and design history

Sitcom Mom Judy Kutulas, 2023-12-19 This book analyzes how situation comedies have provided cultural insight into both the good and the bad sides of American motherhood through the years Judy Kutulas argues that while early sitcoms tended to reinforce conventional visions of motherhood more complex and problematized mothers began rising to prominence as cultural norms continued to diversify Ultimately Kutulas explores and demonstrates how increasingly diverse depictions of motherhood reflect changing social expectations new social and professional opportunities and expanding debates about what it means to be a mother Scholars of television media American cultural and women's studies will find this book of particular interest

Haunted Media Jeffrey Sconce, 2000 Examines the repeated association of new electronic media with spiritual phenomena from the telegraph in the late 19th century to television

The Interiors Theory Primer William Mangold, 2025-07-31 In a world where life is increasingly defined by the spaces we inhabit understanding interiors is essential to understanding ourselves The Interiors Theory Primer maps the intellectual terrain of interior design and spatial experience introducing readers to key concepts that shape how people occupy interior spaces Organized into three parts this book begins with foundational concerns such as place identity materiality and atmosphere and then examines the boundaries and expertise of the discipline before turning to critical and emerging topics like biophilia virtuality and social justice Each chapter presents a focused literature review of a major theme in interiors theory supported by key design precedents and suggestions for further reading Drawing on a wide range of scholarship The Interiors Theory Primer offers a coherent framework for understanding interiors as a distinct interdisciplinary field deeply embedded in the human condition Accessible to students useful to professionals and provocative for scholars The Interiors Theory Primer argues that the designed environments in which we live work and gather deserve greater attention not only for their aesthetic and functional qualities but also for their powerful role in shaping contemporary life

Quality TV Janet McCabe, Kim Akass, 2007-09-26 In his seminal book Television's Second Golden Age Robert Thompson described quality TV as best defined by what it is not it is not regular TV Audacious maybe but his statement renewed debate on the meaning of this highly contentious term Dealing primarily with the post 1996 era shaped by digital technologies and defined by consumer choice and brand marketing this book brings together leading scholars established journalists and experienced broadcasters working in the field of contemporary television to debate what we currently mean by quality TV They go deep into contemporary American television fictions from The Sopranos and The West Wing to CSI and Lost innovative sometimes controversial always compelling dramas which one scholar has described as now better than the movies But how do we understand the emergence of these kinds of fiction Are they genuinely new What does quality TV have to tell us about the state of today's television market And is this a new Golden Age of quality TV Original often polemic each chapter proposes new ways of thinking about and defining quality TV There is a foreword from Robert Thompson and heated dialogue between British and US television critics Also included and a great coup are interviews with W Snuffy Walden scored The West Wing among others and with David Chase The Sopranos creator Quality TV provides throughout groundbreaking and innovative theoretical and critical approaches to studying television and for understanding the current and future TV landscape

Architecture of the Everyday Deborah Berke, Steven Harris, 2012-04-17 Ordinary Banal Quotidian These words are rarely used to praise architecture but in fact they represent the interest of a growing number of architects looking to the everyday to escape the ever quickening cycles of consumption and fashion that have reduced architecture to a series of stylistic fads Architecture of the Everyday makes a plea for an architecture that is emphatically unmonumental anti heroic and unconcerned with formal extravagance Edited by Deborah Berke and Steven Harris this collection of writings photo essays and projects describes an architecture that draws strength from its simplicity use of common materials and relationship to other fields of study Topics range from a website that explores the politics of domesticity to a transformation of the sidewalk in Los Angeles Little Tokyo to a discussion of the work of Robert Venturi and Denise Scott Brown Contributors include Margaret Crawford Peggy Deamer Deborah Fausch Ben Gianni and Mark Robbins Joan Ockman Ernest Pascucci Alan Plattus and Mary Ann Ray Deborah Berke and Steven Harris are currently associate professors of architecture at Yale University and have their own practices in New York City

Houses for a New World Barbara Miller Lane, 2022-07-12 The fascinating history of the twentieth century's most successful experiment in mass housing While the work of Frank Lloyd Wright Richard Neutra and their contemporaries frequently influences our ideas about house design at the midcentury most Americans during this period lived in homes built by little known builders who also served as developers of the communities Often dismissed as little boxes made of ticky tacky the tract houses of America's postwar suburbs represent the twentieth century's most successful experiment in mass housing Houses for a New World is the first comprehensive history of this uniquely American form of domestic architecture and urbanism Between 1945 and 1965 more than thirteen million houses most of them in new ranch and split level styles were constructed on large expanses of land outside city centers providing homes for the country's rapidly expanding population Focusing on twelve developments in the suburbs of Boston Philadelphia Chicago and Los Angeles Barbara Miller Lane tells the story of the collaborations between builders and buyers showing how both wanted houses and communities that espoused a modern way of life informal democratic multiethnic and devoted to improving the lives of their children The resulting houses differed dramatically from both the European International Style and older forms of American domestic architecture Based on a decade of original research and accompanied by hundreds of historical images plans and maps this book presents an entirely new interpretation of the American suburb The result is a fascinating history of houses and developments that continue to shape how tens of millions of Americans live Featured housing developments in Houses for a New World Boston area Governor Francis Farms
