Love, Greg & Lauren Greg Manning, 2002-03-05 Early on the morning of September 11 2001 Lauren Manning a wife the mother of a ten month old son and a senior vice president and partner at Cantor Fitzgerald came to work as always at One World Trade Center As she stepped into the lobby a fireball exploded from the elevator shaft and in that split second her life was changed forever Lauren was burned over 82.5 percent of her body As he watched his wife lie in a drug induced coma in the ICU of the Burn Center at New York Presbyterian Hospital Greg Manning began writing a daily journal In the form of e-mails to family friends and colleagues he recorded Lauren's harrowing struggle and his own tormented efforts to make sense of an act that defies all understanding This book is that e-mail diary detailed intimate inspiring messages that end always as if a prayer for a happy outcome LOVE GREG LAUREN We share this story day by astonishing day Greg writes of the intricate surgeries the painful therapies and the constant risk of infection Lauren endured Through his eyes we come to know the doctors nurses aides and therapists who cared for her around the clock with untiring devotion and sensitivity We also come to know the families with whom he shared wrenching hospital vigils for their own loved ones who were waging a battle that some would not win It was most of all Greg's belief that Lauren would win her brave fight for life that kept him writing Through his eyes we see what she could not their toddler's first steps the video of his first birthday party the compassionate messages of hope from around the world And we are there as Lauren gradually emerges into awareness signaling first with her eyes then with smiles her understanding of the words Greg speaks to her the poems he recites the songs he plays Most miraculously we are there when Lauren walks out of the Burn Center The world knows all too well both the nightmare and the heroism that have marked this terrible time in history But no account of September 11 matches the astonishing personal story Greg Manning records in these spontaneous and heartfelt pages It is a story that invites us to share e-mail after e-mail the perilous course of a mortally wounded woman who by sheer will and courage emerges from near death because she is determined to live for her husband and her son And it is equally the story of a man who as he stays by her side through these long weeks and months discovers anew the depth of his love and admiration for the woman who becomes his hero

Jacobs,2010 When President Harry Truman introduced the atomic bomb to the world in 1945 he described it as a God given harnessing of the basic power of the universe Six days later a New York Times editorial framed the dilemma of the new Atomic Age for its readers Here the long pilgrimage of man on Earth turns towards darkness or towards light American nuclear scientists aware of the dangers their work involved referred to one of their most critical experiments as tickling the dragon s tail Even after Hiroshima and Nagasaki most Americans may not have been sure what an atomic bomb was or how it worked But they did sense that it had fundamentally changed the future of the human race In this book Robert Jacobs analyzes the early impact of nuclear weapons on American culture and society He does so by examining a broad range of stories or nuclear narratives that sought to come to grips with the implications of the bomb s unprecedented and almost unimaginable power Beginning with what he calls the primary nuclear narrative which depicted atomic power as a critical agent of social change that would either destroy the world or transform it for the better Jacobs explores a variety of common themes and images related to the destructive power of the bomb the effects of radiation and ways of surviving nuclear war He looks at civil defense pamphlets magazines novels and films to recover the stories the U S government told its citizens and soldiers as well as those presented in popular culture According to Jacobs this early period of Cold War nuclear culture from 1945 to the banning of above ground testing in 1963 was distinctive for two reasons not only did atmospheric testing make Americans keenly aware of the presence of nuclear weapons in their lives but radioactive fallout from the tests also made these weapons a serious threat to public health separate from yet directly linked to the danger of nuclear war Poultry Herald ,1913 Homemaking for the Apocalypse Jill Anderson,2021-04-20 In Homemaking for the Apocalypse Jill E Anderson interrogates patterns of Atomic Age conformity that controlled the domestic practices and private activities of Americans Used as a way to promote security in a period rife with anxieties about nuclear annihilation and The Bomb these narratives of domesticity were governed by ideals of compulsory normativity and their circulation upheld the wholesale idealization of homemaking within a white middle class nuclear family and all that came along with it unchecked reproduction constant consumerism and a general policing of practices deemed contradictory to normative American life Homemaking for the apocalypse seeks out the disruptions to the domestic ideals found in memoirs Civil Defense literature the fallout shelter debate horror films comics and science fiction engaging in elements of horror in order to expose how closely domestic practices are tied to dread and anxiety Homemaking for the Apocalypse offers a narrative of the Atomic Age that calls into question popular memory s acceptance of the conformity thesis and proposes new methods for critiquing the domestic imperative of the period by acknowledging its deep tie to horror
