Tyrants Novel Thomas Keneally:

The Tyrant's Novel Thomas Keneally, 2004-06-01 From the Booker Prize winning 1 international bestselling author of Schindler's List comes a brilliantly imagined novel reminiscent of Fahrenheit 451 a story of a celebrated novelist caught between the demands of his government and his impulse to run for his life Thomas Keneally's literary achievements have been inspired by some of history's most intriguing events and characters but in a rare reversal of time his brilliantly imagined new novel takes us into a near future that uncannily is all too familiar In a detention camp where he is neither granted asylum nor readied to be sent back to his native land a detainee bides his time He insists on being called Alan Sheriff a westernization of his given name he was born in a country that had once been a friend to the United States but is now its enemy Little else is known about Sheriff until a writer comes to interview him Sheriff decides that the time is right to tell his visitor his story and embarks on the unraveling of events that have led to his current state with extraordinary detail the basis of which forms this novel within a novel Sheriff is a celebrated novelist in a country in which its brutal leader orders Sheriff to ghostwrite a work of fiction an uneasy combination of invention autobiography and polemic the very publication of which would overturn Western sanctions and shame the United States The deadline is impossible but the government enforcers guard his house and stalk his every move It is not long before Sheriff becomes the tyrant's caged canary as he races against the deadline that threatens to cost him everything and everyone he holds dear Provocative and possibly prophetic The Tyrant's Novel is a literary achievement inspired by recent history's most intriguing events and characters Here Keneally once more combines as he did in Schindler's List his fictional talent with his engagement in world politics

The Tyrant's Novel by Tom Keneally Nelly Zola, 2005 Thomas Keneally's Career and the Literary Machine Paul Sharrad, 2019-08-30 Booker Prize winner and Living National Treasure Thomas Keneally still divides critical opinion he is both a morally challenging stylist and a commercial hack a wise commentator on society and a garrulous leprechaun Such judgements are located in the cultural politics of Australia but also linked to ideas about what a literary career should look like Thomas Keneally's Career and the Literary Machine charts Keneally's production and reception across his three major markets noting clashes between national interests and international reach continuity of themes and variety of topics settings and genres the writer's interests and the publishers push to create a brand celebrity fame and literary reputation and the tussle around fiction history allegory and the middlebrow Keneally is seen as playing a long game across several events rather than honing one specialist skill a strategy that has sustained for more than 50 years his ambition to earn a living from writing

This Thing Called the World Debjani Ganguly, 2016-07-21 In This Thing Called the World Debjani Ganguly theorizes the contemporary global novel and the social and historical conditions that shaped it Ganguly contends that global literature coalesced into its current form in 1989 an event marked by the convergence of three major trends the consolidation of the information age the arrival of a perpetual state of global war and the expanding focus on humanitarianism Ganguly analyzes a trove of novels from authors including Salman Rushdie Don DeLillo Michael Ondaatje and Art Spiegelman who address wars in Iraq Afghanistan and Sri Lanka the Palestinian and Kashmiri crises the Rwandan genocide and post9 11 terrorism These novels exist in a context in which suffering's presence in everyday life is mediated through digital images and where authors integrate visual forms into their storytelling In showing how the evolution of the contemporary global novel is analogous to the European novel's emergence in the eighteenth century when society and the development of capitalism faced similar monumental ruptures Ganguly provides both a theory of the contemporary moment and a reminder of the novel's power

Celebration explores Australian fiction from 1989 to 2007 after Australia's bicentenary to the end of the Howard government. In this literary history Ken Gelder and Paul Salzman combine close attention to Australian novels with a vivid depiction of their contexts: cultural, social, political, historical, national and transnational. From crime fiction to the postmodern colonial novel, from Australian grunge to rural apocalypse, from the Asian diasporic novel to the action blockbuster, Gelder and Salzman show how Australian novelists such as Frank Moorhouse, Elizabeth Jolley, Peter Carey, Kim Scott, Steven Carroll, Kate Grenville, Tim Winton, Alexis Wright and many others have used their work to chart our position in the world. The literary controversies over history, identity, feminism and gatekeeping are read against the politics of the day. Provocative and compelling. After the Celebration captures the key themes and issues in Australian fiction where we have been and what we have become.

In 1973 Australian writer Patrick White was awarded the Nobel Prize in Literature for an epic and psychological narrative art which has introduced a new continent into literature. Set in nineteenth-century Australia, Voss is White's best-known book, a sweeping novel about a secret passion between the explorer Voss and the young orphan Laura. As Voss is tested by hardship, mutiny and betrayal during his crossing of the brutal Australian desert, Laura awaits his return in Sydney where she endures their months of separation as if her life were a dream and Voss the only reality. Marrying a sensitive rendering of hidden love with a stark adventure narrative, Voss is a novel of extraordinary power and virtuosity from a twentieth-century master.
