Unravelling Textiles A Handbook For The Preservation Of Textile Collections:

Unravelling Textiles Foekje Boersma, Agnes W. Brokerhof, Saskia van den Berg, Judith Tegelaers, 2007 Presenting the basic information necessary for the professional safekeeping of textile collections this book provides useful information on preventive conservation issues for conservators and students Handbook of Museum Textiles, Volume 2 Seiko Jose, Sabu Thomas, Pintu Pandit, Ritu Pandey, 2022-12-28 Handbook of Museum Textiles Textiles have been known to us throughout human history and played a vital role in the lives and traditions of people Clothing was made by using different materials and methods from natural fibers There are different varieties of textiles out of which certain traditional textiles archaeological findings or fragments are of cultural historical and sentimental value such as tapestries embroideries flags shawls etc These kinds of textiles due to their historical use and environmental factors require special attention to guarantee their long term stability Textile conservation is a complex challenging and multi faceted discipline and it is one of the most versatile branches of conservation Volume II of the Handbook of Museum Textiles provides precise instruction for conservation techniques to preserve the textile heritage more scientifically and technologically Additionally the book covers the most modern techniques used to characterize archaeological textiles and dyes Progress and innovation in nanotechnology based interventions in museum textiles are emphasized Chapters cover the general introduction to biological damage caused by physical and chemical agents and their prevention methods Information on microscopy and characterization of historical textiles ancient dyes and prints is highlighted Several aspects of assessment of degradation repair and stabilization of antique textiles are presented in depth Experimental research methods for diagnosis and scientific study of fibers and natural dyes using LC MS and UV VIS are described Practical knowledge based on analysis and visualization of historical textiles for the needs of museum conservation exhibition digital technology and virtual museums is addressed as well Audience It will serve as an educational asset and tool for researchers art scholars archaeologists museum curators and those who are interested in the field of traditional or historic textile collections Textile Conservation Frances Lennard, Patricia Ewer, 2010 Includes case studies from the UK USA and mainland Europe and Asia Collection Care/Sammlungspflege Gabriela Krist, 2015-05-21 Prevention is an attempt to look into the future and have a positive influence on it therefore it is one of the most important aspects in the area of collection care the central current field of applied research in conservation and restoration With sustainability damage and loss are avoided dangers averted and research conducted Collection care is only successful if the theory is appropriately implemented in museum practice The Care and Display of Historic Clothing Karen M. DePauw, 2017-07-18 Wearable textiles hold their own stories of trade manufacture and regionalism just to name a few they also tell a personal tale of the individuals who created our history When we look at a piece of clothing a coat a dress an undergarment we see an item that is more personal more closely related to the human body than nearly anything else it comes in contact with throughout the day Garments can do far more for exhibitions and interpretation than merely providing a bit of color and beauty Clothing is both artistic and utilitarian and is capable of adding so much to the story of who we are and where we came from The Care and Display of Historic Clothing aims to assist with the full integration of costume collections into the interpretation of the past Often relied on for their ability to add beauty and color to exhibitions these collection items provide a very personal side to any story at a given moment in history The topics explored in this publication range from the care and identification of items in a costume collection to discussions about both physical display and how they can be used to engage audiences The book s focus is on costume collections and discussion topics will include information in regards to costume collection storage display techniques basic identification and ideas on how to incorporate costumes into exhibitions and programming A list of further resources at the back of the book helps provide supplemental in depth information on individual areas The layout of this work will aim to provide information that slowly leads from understanding your costume collection and obtaining physical control to incorporating it in a significant and informative way into the work of the organization Providing all of these resources in one place will make the incorporation of costumes a more obtainable goal for small to mid sized museums and historical societies

Managing Indoor Climate Risks in Museums Bart Ankersmit, Marc H.L. Stappers, 2016-09-28 This book elaborates on different aspects of the decision making process concerning the management of climate risk in museums and historic houses The goal of this publication is to assist collection managers and caretakers by providing information that will allow responsible decisions about the museum indoor climate to be made The focus is not only on the outcome but also on the equally important process that leads to that outcome The different steps contribute significantly to the understanding of the needs of movable and immovable heritage The decision making process to determine the requirements for the museum indoor climate includes nine steps Step 1 The process to make a balanced decision starts by clarifying the decision context and evaluating what is important to the decision maker by developing clear objectives In Step 2 the value of all heritage assets that are affected by the decision are evaluated and the significance of the building and the movable collection is made explicit Step 3 The climate risks to the moveable collection are assessed Step 4 Those parts of the building that are considered valuable and susceptible to certain climate conditions are identified Step 5 The human comfort needs for visitors and staff are expressed Step 6 To understand the indoor climate the building physics are explored Step 7 The climate specifications derived from step 3 to 5 are weighed and for each climate zone the optimal climate conditions are specified Step 8 Within the value framework established in Step 1 the options to optimize the indoor climate are considered and selected Step 9 All options to reduce the climate collection risks are evaluated by the objectives established in Step 1

Crafting History Albena Yaneva, 2020-11-15 What constitutes an archive in architecture What forms does it take What epistemology does it perform What kind of craft is archiving Crafting History provides answers and offers insights on the ontological granularity of the archive and its relationship with architecture as a complex enterprise that starts and ends much beyond the act of building or the life of a creator In this book we learn how objects are processed and catalogued how a classification scheme is produced how models and drawings are preserved and how born digital material battles time and technology obsolescence We follow the work of conservators librarians cataloguers digital archivists museum technicians curators and architects and we capture archiving in its mundane and practical course Based on ethnographic observation at the Canadian Centre for Architecture and interviews with a range of practitioners including Ivarø Siza and Peter Eisenman Albena Yaneva traces archiving through the daily work and care of all its participants scrutinizing their variable ontology scale and politics Yaneva addresses the strategies practicing architects employ to envisage an archive based future and tells a story about how architectural collections are crafted so as to form the epistemological basis of architectural history
