Unreal City Las Vegas Black Mesa And The Fate Of The West:

Unreal City Judith Nies, 2014-04-08 An epic struggle over land water and power is erupting in the American West and the halls of Washington DC It began when a 4 000 square mile area of Arizona desert called Black Mesa was divided between the Hopi and Navajo tribes To the outside world it was a land struggle between two fractious Indian tribes to political insiders and energy corporations it was a divide and conquer play for the 21 billion tons of coal beneath Black Mesa Today that coal powers cheap electricity for Los Angeles a new water aqueduct into Phoenix and the neon dazzle of Las Vegas Journalist and historian Judith Nies has been tracking this story for nearly four decades She follows the money and tells us the true story of wealth and water mendacity and corruption at the highest levels of business and government Amid the backdrop of the breathtaking desert landscape Unreal City shows five cultures colliding Hopi Navajo global energy corporations Mormons and US government agencies resulting in a battle over resources and the future of the West Las Vegas may attract 39 million visitors a year but the tourists mesmerized by the dancing water fountains at the Bellagio don't ask where the water comes from They don't see a city with the nation's highest rates of foreclosure unemployment and suicide They don't see the astonishing drop in the water level of Lake Mead where Sin City gets 90 percent of its water supply Nies shows how the struggle over Black Mesa lands is an example of a global phenomenon in which giant transnational corporations have the power to separate indigenous people from their energy rich lands with the help of host governments Unreal City explores how and why resources have been taken from native lands what it means in an era of climate change and why in this city divorced from nature the only thing more powerful than money is water Water in the West Jacqueline Vaughn, 2025-01-09 Water use and conservation in the American West have long been shaped by a host of geographic environmental political and economic factors Today though serious questions are being raised about how western states used dams irrigation systems and other water related infrastructure to transform the landscape of the West Are current trends in water consumption across the West sustainable given the region's arid environment and rapidly growing populations Are so called water wars between thirsty states and between Mexico and USA worsening What impact will climate change have on the West's limited water resources and the people who depend on them This book answers all those questions and more drawing on quantifiable facts and the knowledge and perspectives of experts on water resource consumption administration and conservation to provide a one stop resource for understanding the past present and future of water in the American West

The Possibility Machine Jake Johnson, 2023-10-10 Singular and star studded writings on America's neon lit playground At once a Technicolor wonderland and the embodiment of American mythology Las Vegas exists at the Ground Zero of a reverence for risk taking and the transformative power of a winning hand Jake Johnson edits a collection of short essays and flash ideas that probes how music making and soundscapes shape the City of Second Chances Treating topics ranging from Cher to Cirque de Soleil the contributors delve into how music and musicians factored in the early development of Vegas's image the role of local communities of musicians and Strip mainstays in sustaining tensions between belief and disbelief the ways aging showroom stars provide a sense of timelessness that inoculates visitors against the outside world the link connecting fantasies of sexual prowess and democracy with the musical values of Liberace and others considerations of how musicians and establishments gambled with identity and opened the door for audience members to explore Sin City only versions of themselves and the echoes and energy generated by the idea of Las Vegas as it travels across the country

Understanding ExtrACTIVISM Anna J. Willow, 2018-07-27 Understanding ExtrACTIVISM surveys how contemporary resource extractive industry works and considers the responses it inspires in local citizens and activists Chapters cover a range of extractive industries operating around the world including logging hydroelectric dams mining and oil and natural gas extraction Taking an activist anthropological stance Anna Willow examines how culture and power inform recent and ongoing disputes between projects proponents and opponents beneficiaries and victims Through a series of engaging case studies she argues that diverse contemporary natural resource conflicts are underlain by a culturally constituted extractivist mind set and embedded in global patterns of political inequity Offering a synthesizing framework for making sense of complex interconnections among environmental social and political dimensions of natural resource disputes Willow reflects on why extractivism exists why it matters and what we might be able to do about it The book is valuable reading for students and researchers in the environmental social sciences as well as for activists and practitioners

Saints, Sinners, and Sovereign Citizens John L. Smith, 2021-03-18 Listed as one of the Reno News Review's New Books from Nevada Authors December 29 2021 The grazing rights battle between Nevada rancher Cliven Bundy and the federal government resulting in a tense armed standoff between Bundy's supporters and federal law enforcement officers garnered international media attention in 2014 Saints Sinners and Sovereign Citizens places the Bundy conflict into the larger context of the Sagebrush Rebellion and the long struggle over the use of federal public lands in the American West Author John L. Smith skillfully captures the drama of the Bundy legal tangle amid the current political climate Although no shots were fired during the standoff itself just weeks later self-proclaimed Bundy supporters murdered two Las Vegas police officers and a civilian In Eastern Oregon other Bundy supporters occupied the federal offices of the Malheur National Wildlife Refuge and one of them died in a hail of bullets While examining the complex history of federal public land policies Smith exposes both sides of this story He shows that there are passionate true believers on opposite sides of the insurrection along with government agents and politicians in Washington complicit in efforts to control public lands for their wealthy allies and campaign contributors With the promise of billions of dollars in natural resource profits and vast tracts of environmentally sensitive lands hanging in the balance the West's latest range war is the most important in the nation's history This masterful exposé raises serious questions about the fate of America's public lands and the vehement arguments that are framing the debate from all sides Water Bankruptcy in the Land of Plenty Franck Poupeau, Hoshin Gupta, Aleix Serrat-Capdevila, Maria Sans-Fuentes, Susan Harris, László G.

Hayde, 2017-12-21 As the American Southwest faces its deepest drought in history this book explores the provocative notion of water bankruptcy with a view towards emphasizing the diversity and complexity of water issues in this region It bridges between the narratives of growth and the strategies or policies adopted to pursue competing agendas and circumvent the inevitable A window of opportunity provided by this current long term drought may be used to induce change by dealing with threats that derive from imbalances between growth patterns and available resources the primary cause of scarcity A first of its kind this book was developed through close collaboration of a broad range of natural scientists social scientists and resource managers from Europe and United States It constitutes a collective elaboration of a transdisciplinary approach to unveiling the inner workings of how water was fought for allocated and used in the American Southwest with a focus on Arizona Specifically it offers an innovative scientific perspective that produces a critical diagnostic evaluation of water management with a particular view to identifying risks for the Tucson region that is facing continuous urban sprawl and economic growth The Profiteers Sally Denton, 2017-02-14 The tale of the Bechtel family dynasty is a classic American business story It begins with Warren A Dad Bechtel who led a consortium that constructed the Hoover Dam From that auspicious start the family and its eponymous company would go on to build the world from the construction of airports in Hong Kong and Doha to pipelines and tunnels in Alaska and Europe to mining and energy operations around the globe Today Bechtel is one of the largest privately held corporations in the world enriched and empowered by a long history of government contracts and the privatization of public works made possible by an unprecedented revolving door between its San Francisco headquarters and Washington

Casualty Reports Martha Collins, 2022-10-11 Stylistically innovative deeply moving carefully researched Martha Collins's eleventh volume of poetry combines her well known attention to social issues with the elegiac mode of her previous book She focuses here on race gun violence recent wars and in an extended sequence the history of coal first as her ancestors mined it then from its geological origins to our ecologically threatened present Casualty Reports is both indictment and lament a work that speaks forcefully to our troubled history and our present times

A Diné History of Navajoland Klara Kelley, Harris Francis, 2019-10-22 For the first time a sweeping history of the Diné that is foregrounded in oral tradition Authors Klara Kelley and Harris Francis share Diné history from pre-Columbian time to the present using ethnographic interviews in which Navajo people reveal their oral histories on key events such as Athabaskan migrations trading and trails Diné clans the Long Walk of 1864 and the struggle to keep their culture alive under colonizers who brought the railroad coal mining trading posts and finally climate change The early chapters based on ceremonial origin stories tell about Din forebears Next come the histories of Din clans from late pre Columbian to early post Columbian times and the coming together of the Din as a sovereign people Later chapters are based on histories of families individuals and communities and tell how the Din have struggled to keep their bond with the land under settler encroachment relocation loss of land based self sufficiency through the trading post system energy resource extraction and climate change Archaeological and documentary information supplements the oral histories providing a comprehensive investigation of Navajo history and offering new insights into their twentieth century relationships with Hispanic and Anglo settlers For Din readers the book offers empowering histories and stories of Din cultural sovereignty In short the authors say it may help you to know how you came to be where and who you are
