Urania A Romance The Other Voice In Early Modern Europe:

Urania Giulia Bigolina, 2007-11-01 Presented for the first time in a critical English edition Urania A Romance provides modern readers with a rare glimpse into the novel and novella forms at a time when narrative genres were not only being invented but in the hands of women like Giulia Bigolina 1518-1569 used as vehicles for literary experimentation The first known prose romance written by a woman in Italian Bigolina's Urania centers on the monomaniacal love of a female character falling into melancholy when her beloved leaves her for a more beautiful woman A tale that includes many of the conventions that would later become standards of the genre cross dressing travel epic skirmishes and daring deeds Urania also contains the earliest treatise on the worth of women Also included in this volume the novella Giulia Camposampiero is the only extant part of a probable longer narrative written in the style of the Decameron While employing some of those same gender and role reversals as Urania including the privileging of heroic constancy in both men and women it chronicles the tribulations that a couple undergoes until their secret marriage is publicly recognized Jewish Poet and Intellectual in Seventeenth-Century Venice Sarra Copia Sulam, 2009-11-15 The first Jewish woman to leave her mark as a writer and intellectual Sarra Copia Sulam 1600-41 was doubly tainted in the eyes of early modern society by her religion and her gender This remarkable woman who until now has been relatively neglected by modern scholarship was a unique figure in Italian cultural life opening her home in the Venetian ghetto to Jews and Christians alike as a literary salon For this bilingual edition Don Harr n has collected all of Sulam's previously scattered writings letters sonnets a Manifesto into a single volume Harr n has also assembled all extant correspondence and poetry that was addressed to Sulam as well as all known contemporary references to her making them available to Anglophone readers for the first time Featuring rich biographical and historical notes that place Sulam in her cultural context this volume will provide readers with insight into the thought and creativity of a woman who dared to express herself in the male dominated overwhelmingly Catholic Venice of her time Enrico; or, Byzantium Conquered Lucrezia Marinella, 2009-09-15 Lucrezia Marinella 1571-1653 is by all accounts a phenomenon in early modernity a woman who wrote and published in many genres whose fame shone brightly within and outside her native Venice and whose voice is simultaneously original and reflective of her time and culture In Enrico or Byzantium Conquered one of the most ambitious and rewarding of her numerous narrative works Marinella demonstrates her skill as an epic poet Now available for the first time in English translation Enrico retells the story of the conquest of Byzantium in the Fourth Crusade 1202-04 Marinella intersperses historical events in her account of the invasion with numerous invented episodes drawing on the rich imaginative legacy of the chivalric romance Fast moving colorful and narrated with the zest that characterizes Marinella's other works this poem is a great example of a woman engaging critically with a quintessentially masculine form and subject matter writing in a genre in which the work of women poets was typically shunned A Woman Who Defends All the Persons of Her Sex Gabrielle Suchon, 2010-05-15 During the oppressive reign of Louis XIV Gabrielle

Suchon 1632 1703 was the most forceful female voice in France advocating women's freedom and self-determination access to knowledge and assertion of authority This volume collects Suchon's writing from two works Treatise on Ethics and Politics 1693 and On the Celibate Life Freely Chosen or Life without Commitments 1700 and demonstrates her to be an original philosophical and moral thinker and writer Suchon argues that both women and men have inherently similar intellectual corporeal and spiritual capacities which entitle them equally to essentially human prerogatives and she displays her breadth of knowledge as she harnesses evidence from biblical classical patristic and contemporary secular sources to bolster her claim Forgotten over the centuries these writings have been gaining increasing attention from feminist historians students of philosophy and scholars of seventeenth century French literature and culture This translation from Domna C Stanton and Rebecca M Wilkin marks the first time these works will appear in English The Complete Poems Gaspara

Stampa, 2010-10-30 Gaspara Stampa was lauded for her singing during her lifetime but her success and critical reputation as a poet emerged only after her verse was republished in the early eighteenth century Her poetry runs the gamut of human emotion ranging from ecstasy over a consummated love affair to despair at its end While these tormented works and their multiple male addressees have led to speculation that Stampa may have been one of Venice's famous courtesans they can also be read as a rebuttal of typical assumptions about women's roles Championed by Rainer Maria Rilke among others she has more recently been celebrated by feminist scholars for her distinctive and original voice and her challenge to convention This is a translation of Stampa into English Debate of the Romance of the Rose David F. Hult, 2010-04-15 In 1401

Christine de Pizan 1365a 1430 wrote a letter to the provost of Lille criticizing the highly popular Romance of the Rose for its unwarranted misogynistic depictions of women Here Hult collects debate documents letters and excerpts from other works of Pizan including one from City of Ladiesa her major defense of women Meditations on the Incarnation, Passion, and Death of Jesus Christ Catharina Regina von Greiffenberg, 2010-04-15 Read by Protestants and Catholics alike Catharina Regina von Greiffenberg 1633 94 was the foremost German woman poet and writer in the seventeenth century German speaking world Privileged by her social station and education she published a large body of religious writings under her own name to a reception unequalled by any other German woman during her lifetime But once the popularity of devotional writings as a genre waned Catharina's works went largely unread until scholars devoted renewed attention to them in the twentieth century For this volume Lynne Tatlock translates for the first time into English three of the thirty six meditations restoring Catharina to her rightful place in print These meditations foreground women in the life of Jesus Christ including accounts of women at the Incarnation and the Tomb and in Scripture in general Tatlock's selections give the modern reader a sense of the structure and nature of Catharina's devotional writings highlighting the alternative they offer to the male centered view of early modern literary and cultural production during her day and redefining the role of women in Christian history The Life of Lady Johanna Eleonora Petersen, Written by Herself Johanna Eleonora Petersen, 2007-11-01 In a time when the

Pauline dictum decreed that women be silent in matters of the Church Johanna Eleonora Petersen 1644 1724 was a pioneering author of religious books insisting on her right to speak out as a believer above her male counterparts Publishing her readings of the Gospels and the Book of Revelation as well as her thoughts on theology in general Petersen and her writings created controversy especially in orthodox circles and she became a voice for the radical Pietists those most at odds with Lutheran ministers and their teachings But she defended her lay religious calling and ultimately printed fourteen original works including her autobiography the first of its kind written by a woman in Germany all in an age in which most women were unable to read or write Collected in The Life of Lady Johanna Eleonora Petersen are Petersen's autobiography and two shorter tracts that would become models of Pietistic devotional writing A record of the status and contribution of women in the early Protestant church this collection will be indispensable reading for scholars of seventeenth century German religious and social history Selected Philosophical and Scientific Writings Emilie Du Châtelet, 2009-09-15 Though most historians remember her as the mistress of Voltaire Emilie Du Châtelet 1706-49 was an accomplished writer in her own right who published multiple editions of her scientific writings during her lifetime as well as a translation of Newton's Principia Mathematica that is still the standard edition of that work in French Had she been a man her reputation as a member of the eighteenth century French intellectual elite would have been assured In the 1970s feminist historians of science began the slow work of recovering Du Châtelet's writings and her contributions to history and philosophy For this edition Judith P Zinsser has selected key sections from Du Châtelet's published and unpublished works as well as related correspondence part of her little known critique of the Old and New Testaments and a treatise on happiness that is a refreshingly uncensored piece of autobiography making all of them available for the first time in English The resulting volume will recover Châtelet's place in the pantheon of French letters and culture Floridoro Moderata Fonte, 2007-11-01 The first original chivalric poem written by an Italian woman Floridoro imbues a strong feminist ethos into a hypermasculine genre Dotted with the usual characteristics dark forests illusory palaces enchanted islands seductive sorceresses Floridoro is the story of the two greatest knights of a bygone age the handsome Floridoro who risks everything for love and the beautiful Risamante who helps women in distress while on a quest for her inheritance Throughout Moderata Fonte 1555-92 vehemently defends women's capacity to rival male prowess in traditionally male dominated spheres And her open criticism of women's lack of education is echoed in the plights of various female characters who must depend on unreliable men First published in 1581 Floridoro remains a vivacious and inventive narrative by a singular poet
