Disruptive Voices and the Singularity of Histories Regna Darnell, Frederic W. Gleach, 2019-11-01 Histories of Anthropology Annual presents diverse perspectives on the discipline's history within a global context with a goal of increasing awareness and use of historical approaches in teaching learning and conducting anthropology The series includes critical comparative analytical and narrative studies involving all aspects and subfields of anthropology Volume 13 Disruptive Voices and the Singularity of Histories explores the interplay of identities and scholarship through the history of anthropology with a special section examining fieldwork predecessors and indigenous communities in Native North America Individual contributions explore the complexity of women's history indigenous history national traditions and oral histories to juxtapose what we understand of the past with its present continuities These contributions include Sharon Lindenburger's examination of Franz Boas and his navigation with Jewish identity Kathy M Closkey's documentation of Navajo weavers and their struggles with cultural identities and economic resources and demands and Mindy Morgan's use of the text of Ruth Underhill's Oodham study to capture the voices of three generations of women ethnographers Because this work bridges anthropology and history a richer and more varied view of the past emerges through the meticulous narratives of anthropologists and their unique fieldwork ultimately providing competing points of access to social dynamics This volume examines events at both macro and micro levels documenting the impact large scale historical events have had on particular individuals and challenging the uniqueness of a single interpretation of the same facts Challenging Authorities Arne S. Steinforth, Sabine

Klocke-Daffa, 2021-09-20 When the notion of alternative facts and the alleged dawning of a postfactual world entered public discourse social anthropologists found themselves in unexpectedly familiar territory In their empirical experience fact knowledge accepted as true derives its salience from social mechanisms of legitimization thereby demonstrating a deep interconnection with power and authority In this perspective fact is a continually contested and volatile social category Due to the specific histories of their colonial and post independence experience African societies offer a particularly broad array of insights into social processes of juxtaposition opposition and even outright competition between different postulated authorities The contributions to the present volume explore the variety of ways in which authority is contested in Southern and Eastern Africa investigating localized discourses on which institution what kind of knowledge or whose expertise is accepted as authoritative thus highlighting the specificities and pluralities in modern societies This edited volume engages with larger theoretical questions regarding power and authority in the context of post colonial states neo traditional authority claiming space conflict and in justice and contestations of knowledge It offers in depth critical analyses of ethnographic data that put contemporary African phenomena on equal footing with current controversies in North America Europe and other global settings

The Dead as Ancestors, Martyrs, and Heroes in Timor-Leste Lia Kent, Rui Feijo, 2025-10-01 During the 24 year Indonesian occupation of East Timor thousands of people died or were killed in circumstances that did not allow the required death rituals to be performed Since the nation's independence families and communities have invested considerable time effort and resources in fulfilling their obligations to the dead These obligations are imbued with urgency because the dead are ascribed agency and can play a benevolent or malevolent role in the lives of the living These grassroots initiatives run sometimes critically in parallel with official programs that seek to transform particular dead bodies into public symbols of heroism sacrifice and nationhood The Dead as Ancestors Martyrs and Heroes in Timor Leste focuses on the dynamic interplay between the potent presence of the dead in everyday life and their symbolic usefulness to the state It underlines how the dead shape relationships amongst families communities and the nation state and open an important window into are in fact pivotal to processes of state and nation formation Through the Lens of Anthropology Laura Tubelle de González, Robert James Muckle, 2018 Through the Lens of Anthropology is a concise introduction to anthropology that uses the twin themes of food and sustainability to illustrate the connected nature of the discipline s many subfields
