The Spirit of Hope Jürgen Moltmann, 2020-01-01 Famous theologian Jürgen Moltmann returns here to the theme that he so powerfully addressed in his groundbreaking work Theology of Hope In the twenty first century he tells us hope is challenged by ideologies and global trends that would deny hope and even life itself Terrorist violence social and economic inequality and most especially the looming crisis of climate change all contribute to a cultural moment of profound despair Moltmann reminds us that Christian faith has much to say in response to a despairing world In the eternal yes of the living God we affirm the goodness and ongoing purpose of our fragile humanity Likewise God's love empowers us to love life and resist a culture of death The book's two sections equally promote these affirmations yet in different ways The first section looks at the challenges to hope in our current world most especially the environmental crisis It argues that Christian faith and indeed all the world's religions must orient themselves toward the wholeness of the human family and the physical environment necessary to that wholeness The second section draws on resources from the early church the Reformation and the contemporary theological conversation to undergird efforts to address the deficit of hope he describes in the first section

Dawn of a New Dawn Pasquale De Marco, 2025-05-09 Dawn of a New Dawn is a powerful and moving account of the Vietnam War as seen through the eyes of the American soldiers who fought there Based on firsthand interviews this book tells the stories of the men and women who served in Vietnam from their experiences of combat to their thoughts on the war Their stories are both heartbreaking and inspiring They tell of the horrors of war but they also tell of the courage resilience and compassion of the American soldiers who fought in Vietnam This book is a tribute to the men and women who served in Vietnam It is a reminder of the sacrifices they made and it is a call for us to learn from the mistakes of the past Pasquale De Marco served as a combat medic in Vietnam He was awarded the Purple Heart and the Bronze Star for his service After the war he worked as a journalist and author He has written extensively about the Vietnam War and his work has been praised for its honesty and insight In Dawn of a New Dawn Pasquale De Marco has created a powerful and moving account of the Vietnam War This book is a must read for anyone who wants to understand the war and its impact on the American people If you like this book write a review on google books

Breathing Water T. Greenwood, 2011-10-24 A poignant clear eyed novel about a Vermont homecoming and a reckoning with tragedy The New York Times Book Review Effie Greer has been away from Lake Gormlaith Vermont for three years Now she is coming home The unspoiled lake surrounded by dense woods and patches of wild blueberries is the place where she spent idyllic childhood summers at her grandparents cottage And it is where Effie's tempestuous relationship with her college boyfriend Max culminated in a tragedy she can never forget Effie had hoped to save Max from his troubled past and in the process became his victim Since then she's wandered from one city to another living like a fugitive But now Max is gone and as Effie paints and restores the ramshackle cottage she forms new bonds with an old school friend with her widowed grandmother and with Devin an artist and carpenter summering nearby Slowly she s discovering a resilience and tenderness she didn t know she possessed And buoyed by the lake s cool forgiving waters she may even learn to save herself in this impressive novel of hope and absolution from the award winning author of Where I Lost Her Booklist Startling and fresh ripe with originality San Diego Union Tribune A vivid somberly engaging book Larry McMurtry Greenwood sensitively and painstakingly unravels her protagonist s self loathing and replaces it with a graceful dignity Publishers Weekly With its strong characters dramatic storytelling and heartfelt narration Breathing Water should establish T Greenwood as an important young novelist who has the great gift of telling a serious and sometimes tragic story in an enterta

The Funny Thing about Death Donna Lynne Erickson,2019-02-13 Death is among the most natural and most confusing parts of being human Its inevitability and universality do nothing to alleviate our messy feelings about the subject It s why you have no idea what to say when your friend loses a beloved family member You are not alone Somehow our privileged North American ethos has taught us that we need not suffer that a quick fix to pain and sadness is always available But this no tears please approach has created a culture of loss avoidance and stifled the natural human need to grieve and mourn losses With The Funny Thing About Death find an alternative course of action for a society that s decided an absence of emotion around death s unavailability is the best way to deal with it In its pages readers including adult children watching parents recede and die will find comfort and counsel on how to lean into the discomfort of grief and allow natural mourning to occur By sharing stories about death both her own and those with which she s come into contact through her bereavement work Donna Lynne Erickson shows that healing is possible and that there are safe places in which to do so Ultimately she looks to challenge the way society regards bereavement grief and mourning and to inspire a revolution that offers a fresh reception of the subject We all face loss eventually let s do it together
