Three Women Of Herat:

Three Women of Herat Veronica Doubleday, 2006-03-31 In the years before the communist coup and the Soviet invasion of Afghanistan Veronica Doubleday set up home in the ancient city of Herat with her husband who was researching Central Asian music At first her only glimpses of women were as shadows faceless and voiceless Gradually however she formed friendships with three young mothers who welcomed her into their lives taught her their customs and music and shared the details of their everyday existence She witnessed their most personal moments the births and deaths of their children their marriages and celebrations religious holidays healings and rituals After the Soviet invasion in 1979 she lost touch with her friends but returned to Herat recently adding another chapter to this poignant story Encyclopedia of Women & Islamic Cultures Suad Joseph, Afsāna Nağmābādī, 2003 Family Body Sexuality and Health is Volume III of the Encyclopedia of Women Islamic Cultures In almost 200 well written entries it covers the broad field of family body sexuality and health and Islamic cultures

Women's Writing and Muslim Societies Sharif Gemie, 2012-11-15 Women's Writing and Muslim Societies looks at the rise in works concerning Muslim societies by both western and Muslim women from pioneering female travellers like Freya Stark and Edith Wharton in the early twentieth century whose accounts of the Orient were usually playful and humorous to the present day and such works as Azar Nafisi's Reading Lolita in Tehran and Betty Mahmoody's Not Without My Daughter which present a radically different view of Muslim Societies marked by fear hostility and even disgust The author Sharif Gemie also considers a new range of female Muslim writers whose works suggest a variety of other perspectives that speak of difficult journeys the problems of integration identity crises and the changing nature of Muslim cultures in the process this volume examines varied journeys across cultural political and religious borders discussing the problems faced by female travellers the problems of trans cultural romances and the difficulties of constructing dialogue between enemy camps

Ethnomusicology and its Intimacies Stephen Cottrell, Dafni Tragaki, Stephen Wilford, 2023-12-12 Ethnomusicology and its Intimacies situates intimacy a concept that encompasses a wide range of often informal social practices and processes for building closeness and relationality within the ethnomusicological study of music and sound These scholarly essays reflect on a range of interactions between individuals and communities that deepen connections and associations and which may be played out relatively briefly or nurtured over time Three major sections on Performance Auto biographical Strategies and Film are each prefaced by an interview with a scholar or practitioner with close knowledge of the subject that links the chapters in that section Often drawing directly on fieldwork experience in a variety of contexts authors consider how concepts of intimacy can illuminate the ethnographic study of music addressing questions such as how can we understand ethnomusicological and ethnographic research and performance as processes of musically mediated intimacy How are the longstanding relationships we develop with others particularly intimated by and through musicking How do we understand the musically intimate relationships of others and how do these inflect our own musical intimacies How does music represent inscribe constrain or provoke social or personal intimacies in particular contexts The volume will appeal to all scholars with interests in music and how it is used to construct relationships in different contexts around the world Musics Lost and Found Michael Church,2021 This is the first ever book about song collectors music s unsung heroes They include the Armenian priest who sacrificed his life to preserve the folk music which the Turks were trying to erase in the 1915 Genocide the prisoner in a Nazi concentration camp who secretly noted down the songs of doomed Jewish inmates the British singer who went veiled into Afghanistan to learn record and perform the music the Taliban wanted to silence With globalisation urbanisation and Westernisation causing an irreversible erosion of the world s musical diversity Michael Church suggests we may be seeing folk music s end of history Old forms are dying as the conditions for their survival or replacement disappear the death of villages means the death of village musical culture This ground breaking book is the sequel to the author s award winning The Other Classical Musics and it concludes with an inventory of the musics now under threat or already lost for ever Afghanistan Dispossessed Razia Sultanova,2023-01-24 A focused history of women and popular culture in Afghanistan from the Soviet invasion to 9 11 to the Taliban s takeover How does normal social cultural religious life survive in constant turmoil How can the people flourish These basic questions are examined and answered by Razia Sultanova s academic analysis and deep fieldwork with extensive eyewitness and personal contacts and conversations with a wide variety of Afghan men and women She looks at basic questions of gender identity nation tradition history popular culture and especially the role of music classical popular modern and contemporary as a vital element for survival And all is over shadowed by the Taliban with on going threat of terror and repression especially for women and girls Here is a classical story of a people s struggle for everyday normality and preservation of cherished traditions in a war torn society Chasing Tales Corinne Fowler,2007 Chasing Tales is the first exclusive study of journalism travel writing and the history of British ideas about Afghanistan It offers a timely investigation of the notional Afghanistan s that have prevailed in the popular British imagination Casting its net deep into the nineteenth century the study investigates the country s mythologisation by scrutinising travel narratives literary fiction and British news media coverage of the recent conflict in Afghanistan This highly topical book explores the legacy of nineteenth century paranoias and prejudices to contemporary travellers and journalists and seeks to explain why Afghans continue to be depicted as medieval murderous warlike and unruly Its title Chasing Tales conveys the circulation and indeed the circularity of ideas commonly found in British travel writing and journalism The tales component stresses the pivotal role played by fictionalised sources especially the writing of Rudyard Kipling in perpetuating traumatic nineteenth century memories of Afghan British encounter The subject matter is compelling and its foci of interest profoundly relevant both to current political debates and to scholarly enquiry about the ethics of travel The New (Ethno)musicologies Henry Stobart,2008-05-05 Over the past twenty years a range of radical developments has revolutionized musicology leading certain practitioners to describe their discipline as New What has happened to ethnomusicology during this period Have its theories methodologies and values remain rooted in the 1970s and 1980s or have they also transformed What directions might or should it take in the new millennium The New Ethno musicologies seeks to answer these questions by addressing and critically examining key issues in contemporary ethnomusicology Set in two parts the volume explores ethnomusicology's shifting relationship to other disciplines and to its own mythic histories and plots a range of potential developments for its future It attempts to address how ethnomusicology might be viewed by those working both inside and outside the discipline and what its broader contribution and relevance might be within and beyond the academy Henry Stobart has collected essays from key figures in ethnomusicology and musicology including Caroline Bithell Martin Clayton Fabian Holt Jim Samson and Abigail Wood as well as Europea series editors Martin Stokes and Philip V Bohlman The engaging result presents a range of perspectives reflecting on disciplinary change methodological developments and the broader sphere of music scholarship in a fresh and unique way and will be a key source for students and scholars

The Middle East Barry Rubin, 2015-03-17 The Middle East is an area of great importance globally yet misperceptions abound Events have made it a region of special interest to the West and so the search for understanding gains momentum This publication is intended to clarify the region's complex history and issues In developing this project the contributors set out to explore seven significant themes that are usually not found in other sources While many books focus on political history and conflicts this two volume work deals specifically with culture religion women economics governance and media as well as the role that the region's modern history has played in shaping its society and worldview
