Through The Fire Arabesque:

American Arabesque Jacob Rama Berman, 2012-06-11 Part of the American Literatures Initiative Series American Arabesque examines representations of Arabs Islam and the Near East in nineteenth century American culture arguing that these representations play a significant role in the development of American national identity over the century revealing largely unexplored exchanges between these two cultural traditions that will alter how we understand them today Moving from the period of America's engagement in the Barbary Wars through the Holy Land travel mania in the years of Jacksonian expansion and into the writings of romantics such as Edgar Allen Poe the book argues that not only were Arabs and Muslims prominently featured in nineteenth century literature but that the differences writers established between figures such as Moors Bedouins Turks and Orientals provide proof of the transnational scope of domestic racial politics Drawing on both English and Arabic language sources Berman contends that the fluidity and instability of the term Arab as it appears in captivity narratives travel narratives imaginative literature and ethnic literature simultaneously instantiate and undermine definitions of the American nation and American citizenship

Arabesque without End Anne Leonard, 2021-10-05 Featuring multidisciplinary research by an international team of leading scholars this volume addresses the contested aspects of arabesque while exploring its penchant for crossing artistic and cultural boundaries to create new forms Enthusiastically imported from its Near Eastern sources by European artists the freely flowing line known as arabesque is a recognizable motif across the arts of painting music dance and literature From the German Romantics to the Art Nouveau artists and from Debussy's compositions to the serpentine choreographies of Loie Fuller the chapters in this volume bring together cross disciplinary perspectives to understand the arabesque across both art historical and musicological discourses

The Arabesque from Kant to Comics Cordula Grewe, 2021-09-01 The Arabesque from Kant to Comics tracks the life and afterlife of the arabesque in its surprising transformation from an iconoclastic literary theory of early German Romanticism to aesthetic experimentation in both avant garde art and popular culture Its explosive growth in popularity was followed by an inevitable taming as arabesques became staples in book illustration poetry publications and even the decoration of printed scores The subversive potential of the arabesque was preserved in one of its most surprising offspring the comic strip born at the moment when the cholera pandemic first swept through Europe the comic translated the arabesque's rank growth into unnerving lawlessness and sequences of contagious visual slapstick Focusing roughly on the period between 1780 and 1880 this book illuminates the intersecting histories of avant garde theories of writing visual culture and even the disciplinary origins of art history In the process it explores media history and intermediality social networks and cultural transfer as well as the rise of new and nontraditional art forms This book will be of particular interest to scholars of art history intellectual history European art aesthetics book illustration material culture reproduction comics and German history

Robert Smithson, Land Art, and Speculative Realities Rory O'Dea, 2023-10-23 This book explores the ways Robert Smithson's art revealed and defamiliarized the constructs of rational reality in order to allow radically speculative alternatives to emerge In this way his art is conceived as a true fiction that eradicates a false reality By tracing the web of correspondences between Smithson and science fictional speculative and mystical modes of thought Rory O'Dea explores the aesthetic encounters engendered by his art as a means to warp the contours of reality and loosen the boundaries of being human Given the current and impending catastrophes of the Anthropocene which represents the ever expanding planetary shadow cast by humanism the possibility of being other than human posited by Smithson's art is a matter of urgent concern The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history contemporary art American studies and environmental humanities

The Marriage of Heaven and Earth Randall A. Clack, 2000-08-30 From the Middle Ages to the close of the 17th century alchemy was fundamental to Western culture as scores of experimenters sought to change lead into gold Though its significance declined with the rise of chemistry alchemy continued to captivate the imagination of writers and its images still appear in modern creative works This book examines the literary representation of alchemical theory and the metaphor of alchemical regeneration in the works of Edward Taylor Edgar Allan Poe Nathaniel Hawthorne and Margaret Fuller While Taylor used alchemical metaphors to illustrate the redeeming grace of God upon the soul these same metaphors were used by Poe Hawthorne and Fuller to depict a broader concept of redemption These later writers used alchemical imagery to describe both the regeneration of the individual and the possible transformation of society For Poe alchemy became a metaphor for the transforming power of imagination for Hawthorne it became a means of representing the redeeming power of love for Fuller it figured the reconciliation of gender opposites Thus these four American writers incorporated the idea of regeneration in their works and the tropes and metaphors of the medieval alchemists provided a fascinating way of imagining the transformative process Eclectic Magazine
