Tibet Escape From The Roof Of The World:

Tibet Dieter Glogowski, Franz Binder, 2008 Each year more than 3 000 Tibetans secretly flee their homeland over the Himalayas The photography of Dieter Glogowski and insightful texts by Franz Binder paint a comprehensive picture of the history and the current situation in Tibet To show readers the treacherous landscapes that many Tibetan children cross when they flee the country Glogowski accompanied two local children over the 19 000 foot high Nangpala Pass en route to Nepal His photos present a re enactment of the dangers involved in this journey The Museum on the Roof of the World Clare E. Harris, 2012-10-30 For millions of people around the world Tibet is a domain of undisturbed tradition the Dalai Lama a spiritual guide By contrast the Tibet Museum opened in Lhasa by the Chinese in 1999 was designed to reclassify Tibetan objects as cultural relics and the Dalai Lama as obsolete Suggesting that both these views are suspect Clare E Harris argues in The Museum on the Roof of the World that for the past one hundred and fifty years British and Chinese collectors and curators have tried to convert Tibet itself into a museum an image some Tibetans have begun to contest This book is a powerful account of the museums created by for or on behalf of Tibetans and the nationalist agendas that have played out in them Harris begins with the British public s first encounter with Tibetan culture in 1854 She then examines the role of imperial collectors and photographers in representations of the region and visits competing museums of Tibet in India and Lhasa Drawing on fieldwork in Tibetan communities she also documents the activities of contemporary Tibetan artists as they try to displace the utopian visions of their country prevalent in the West as well as the negative assessments of their heritage common in China Illustrated with many previously unpublished images this book addresses the pressing question of who has the right to represent Tibet in museums and beyond Around the Roof of the World Nicholas Shoumatoff, Nina Shoumatoff, 2000 Travelers and mountaineers recount their journeys and discoveries in some of the most remote places in the world From China to Hkamti Long Francis Kingdon-Ward, 1924 Escape from the Land of Snows Stephan Talty, 2011-01-18 The remarkable true story of the miraculous journey that made the Dalai Lama into the man he is today and sparked the fight for Tibetan freedom A hair raising tale of daring and escape The Washington Post In the early weeks of 1959 a bloody uprising gripped the streets of the Tibetan capital of Lhasa as ragtag Tibetan rebels faced off against their Communist Chinese occupiers Realizing that the impending battle would result in a bloodbath and his own capture the young Dalai Lama began planning an audacious escape to India a two week journey that would involve numerous near death encounters a dangerous mountain crossing and evading thousands of Chinese soldiers who were intent on hunting him down The journey would transform this na ve young man into one of the world s greatest statesmen and create an enduring beacon of hope for a nation Emotionally powerful and irresistibly page turning Escape from the Land of Snows is simultaneously a portrait of the inhabitants of a spiritual nation forced to take up arms in defense of their ideals and the saga of a burgeoning leader who was ultimately transformed into the towering figure the world knows today a charismatic champion of free thinking and universal compassion Himalayan Enchantment Francis Kingdon Ward,1990 The last of the great plant hunters Frank Kingdon Ward undertook 25 major expeditions over a period of nearly 50 years and collected and numbered more than 23 000 plants English gardens are still enriched by the poppies lilies primulas rhododendrons and many other plants that he introduced Escape from Shangri-La Elsa M. Spencer,2013-08-28 Kelsang and Dukar Kaiser my sister Elsa Kel sang Duwhat and Kaiser I said trying to remember the very unusual sounding name though the contrast with the obviously German family name had me puzzled when the attractive young couple left Our next door neighbors are Tibetan by birth German Swiss through adoption Their life stories although short read like a movie plot my sister Gloria explained I met the beautiful Kelsang and Dukar Kaiser again a few months later when my husband and I visited my sister We barely made it to Bhutan in 1959 Eventually my family settled in Dharamsala India practically next door to the Dalai Lama Kelsang offered Two years later in 1961 my family was also forced to flee the country Dukar contributed In my ignorance of genetic code I found Dukar more Tibetan looking He impressed all of us with his vast knowledge on many subjects which he expressed with an articulate command of the English language Although his persona could have been viewed as reserved he was both gregarious and sociable Why dont you ask them if you could write their life stories Elsa I think they would like it Gloria suggested They did and I spent the next few days interviewing them The story unfolded slowly though only partially due to their tender age they were five and seven years old when they fled Tibet with their family as political refugees The moments they never forgot were the fear and the horrors of what they saw the constant hunger and the weariness of the long journey After many months of research and three moves military transfer from the Atlantic to the Pacific coasts and back to the Atlantic I was able to put together a story based on the personal tragedy and triumph of these two youngsters

Twentieth-Century Literary Encounters in China Jeffrey Mather,2019-10-10 From the travel writing of the eccentric plant collector and Reginald Farrer to Emily Hahn s insider depictions of bohemian life in semi colonial Shanghai to Ezra Pound s mediated journeys to Southwest China via the explorer Joseph Rock Anglo American representations of China during the first half of the twentieth century were often unconventional in terms of style form and content By examining a range of texts that were written in the flux of travel including poems novels autobiographies this study argues that the tumultuous social and political context of China s Republican Period 1912 49 was a key setting for conceptualizing cultural modernity in global and transnational terms In contrast with accounts that examine China s influence on Western modernism through language translation and discourse the book recovers a materialist engagement with landscapes objects and things as transcribed through travel ethnographic encounter and embodied experience The book is organized by three themes which suggest formal strategies through which notions cultural modernity were explored or contested borderlands cosmopolitan performances and mobile poetics As it draws from archival sources in order to develop these themes this study offers a place based historical perspective on China s changing status in Western literary cultures Escape George Renton,2022-01-19

This book comprises two novellas whose leitmotif is a quest for freedom. In each story a well devised and daringly executed escape plan enables the main character to flee from a totalitarian regime. Man Overboard is a work of fiction featuring the crew of an East German cargo ship in the 1970s navigating the English Channel homeward bound to the Baltic. It provides an insight into life under communism during the era of the Berlin Wall. Regardless of the danger, second officer Schulz is determined to be reunited with his beloved Erica in West Germany. Flight From Tibet is set amidst the turmoil which engulfed that country in 1959 when the fate of the Dalai lama aroused concern throughout the world. A British journalist based in India ventures across the border into strife stricken Tibet. Having spent his early years being raised by a Tibetan nanny, he has a deep affection for the Tibetans and is anxious to make their plight known to the world. The Geographical Journal, 1925. Includes the Proceedings of the Royal Geographical Society formerly published separately. Al Qaeda's Great Escape Philip Smucker, 2005. How bin Laden and his gang slipped through the noose during fierce Afghan battles. Murder in the High Himalaya Jonathan Green, 2010-06. A journalist investigates a cold blooded murder at a Mt Everest base camp in Chinese occupied Tibet, a probe during which he learns about the lawless world in the shadows of the world's tallest peaks. Professional Journal of the United States Army, 1959. An Explorer's Adventures in Tibet Arnold Henry Savage Landor, 1910. Water Lust Gerhard Pohle, 2024-07-19. Gerhard Pohle fell in love with the water when he was a child. His parents travelled widely and he spent his formative years in Indonesia, Madagascar and India along with his native Germany. Snorkeling in tropical waters left the little boy with a fascination for marine life, an undertow that would keep pulling him back towards the sea. This water loving child who had only occasionally seen the inside of a classroom would eventually earn a doctorate and become a marine biologist, but it would be far from easy. The journey would take another twenty years and cross five different continents. It would pit him against everything from an education system determined to discard him to a raging civil war, Rejections, heartbreaks, family crises and his own crumbling self esteem would test his resilience, but that resilience would never run dry for long. An unvarnished inspirational coming of age story about travel and family, about love, friendship and loneliness, about being dismissed as not worth teaching and about learning anyway despite everything life throws at you. 1962 and the McMahon Line Saga Claude Arpi, Fifty years ago India went through a tragic event which has remained a deep scar in the country's psyche, a border war with China. During the author's archival peregrinations on the Himalayan border, he goes into some relatively little known issues such as the checkered history of Tawang, the British India policy towards Tibet and even the possibility for India to militarily defend the Roof of the World. The author also looks into why the Government still keeps the Henderson Brooks Report under wraps and what were Mao's motivations for teaching India a lesson. Throughout this series of essays, the thread remains the Tibet-India frontier in the North East and the Indo-Chinese conflict. The more one digs into this question, the more one discovers that the entire issue is intimately linked with the history of modern Tibet, particularly the status of the Roof of the World as a de facto independent nation. British India had a Tibet Policy Independent India did not This led to the unfortunate events of 1962

The theatre of Tibet Antonio Attisani, 2024-04-05T00:00:00+02:00 he theatrical culture of Tibet is probably the last to remain virtually unknown to the outside world and to the West in particular As well as describing the current situation of studies on Tibetan theatre the current volume also provides an essay on imagination and how it is concretely manifested by the Tibetan people and their actors Recent decades have seen radical change for Tibetan theatre ache lhamo now performed by a diaspora for whom a declining artistic and technical change derives from an uncertain politics concerning secular and popular culture as well as the ongoing cultural genocide caused by China s subjection of Tibet

Tibet: The Lost Frontier Claude Arpi, Delving deep into the history of the Roof of the World this book introduces us to one of the greatest tragedies of modern times its principal characters as well as the forces impelling them consciously or unconsciously The main knot of our drama was staged in 1950 During this fateful year the dice of fate was thrown There are turning points in history when it is possible for events to go one way or the other when the tides of time seem poised between the flood and the ebb when fate awaits our choice to strike its glorious or sombre note and the destiny of an entire nation hangs in balance The year 1950 was certainly one such crucial year in the destinies of India Tibet and China The three nations had the choice of moving towards peace and collaboration or tension and confrontation Decisions can be made with all good intentions as in the case of Nehru who believed in an eternal friendship with China or with uncharitable motives of Mao Decisions can be made out of weakness greed pragmatism ignorance or fear but once an option is exercised consequences unfold for years and decades to follow In strategic terms Tibet is critical to South Asia and South east Asia Rather the Tibetan plateau holds the key to the peace security and well being of Asia and the world as such This study of the history of Tibet a nation sandwiched between two giant neighbours will enable better understanding of the geopolitics influencing the tumultuous relations between India and China particularly in the backdrop of border disputes and recent events in Tibet
