Time And Navigation The Untold Story Of Getting From Here To There:

Time and Navigation Andrew K. Johnston, Roger D. Connor, Carlene E. Stephens, Paul E. Ceruzzi, 2015-06-02 If you want to know where you are you need a good clock The surprising connection between time and place is explored in Time and Navigation The Untold Story of Getting from Here to There the companion book to the National Air and Space Museum exhibition of the same name Today we use smartphones and GPS but navigating has not always been so easy The oldest clock is Earth itself and the oldest means of keeping time came from observing changes in the sky Early mariners like the Vikings accomplished amazing feats of navigation without using clocks at all Pioneering seafarers in the Age of Exploration used dead reckoning and celestial navigation later innovations such as sextants and marine chronometers honed these techniques by measuring latitude and longitude When explorers turned their sights to the skies they built on what had been learned at sea For example Charles Lindbergh used a bubble sextant on his record breaking flights World War II led to the development of new flight technologies notably radio navigation since celestial navigation was not suited for all weather military operations These forms of navigation were extended and enhanced when explorers began guiding spacecraft into space and across the solar system Astronauts combined celestial navigation technology with radio transmissions The development of the atomic clock revolutionized space flight because it could measure billionths of a second thereby allowing mission teams to navigate more accurately Scientists and engineers applied these technologies to navigation on earth to develop space based time and navigation services such as GPS that is used every day by people from all walks of life While the history of navigation is one of constant change and innovation it is also one of remarkable continuity Time and Navigation tells the story of navigation to help us understand where we have been and how we got there so that we can understand where we are going

Where Minds and Matters Meet Volker Janssen, Amy Bix, Linda Nash, 2012-12-12 The American West where such landmarks as the Golden Gate Bridge rival wild landscapes in popularity and iconic significance has been viewed as a frontier of technological innovation Where Minds and Matters Meet calls attention to the convergence of Western history and the history of technology showing that the region's politics and culture have shaped seemingly placeless global technological practices and institutions Drawing on political and social history as well as art history the book's essays take the cultural measure of the region's great technological milestones including San Diego's Panama California Exposition the building of the Hetch Hetchy Dam in the Sierras and traffic planning in Los Angeles Contributors Amy Bix Louise Nelson Dyble Patrick McCray Linda Nash Peter Neushul Matthew W Roth Bruce Sinclair L Chase Smith Carlene Stephens Aristotle Tympas Jason Weems Peter Westwick Stephanie Young NRL Review, 2014 Militarizing Outer Space Alexander C.T. Geppert, Daniel Brandau, Tilmann Siebeneichner, 2020-12-02 Militarizing Outer Space explores the dystopian and destructive dimensions of the Space Age and challenges conventional narratives of a bipolar Cold War rivalry Concentrating on weapons warfare and violence this provocative volume examines real and imagined endeavors of arming the skies and conquering the heavens The third and final volume in the groundbreaking European Astroculture trilogy Militarizing Outer Space zooms in on the interplay between security technopolitics and knowledge from the 1920s through the 1980s Often hailed as the site of heavenly utopias and otherworldly salvation outer space transformed from a promised sanctuary to a present threat where the battles of the future were to be waged Astroculture proved instrumental in fathoming forms and functions of warfare's futures past both on earth and in space The allure of dominating outer space the book shows was neither limited to the early twenty first century nor to current American space force rhetorics

Interpreting Our World Joseph J. Kerski, 2016-10-17 This important book demonstrates why geography matters in the modern day world through its examination of 100 moments throughout history that had a significant impact on the study of geography literally writing about the earth Geography is not simply accounts of the lands of earth and their features it's about discovering everything there is to know about our planet This book shows why geography is of critical importance to our world's 21st century inhabitants through an exploration of the past and present discoveries that have been made about the earth It pinpoints 100 moments throughout history that had a significant impact on the study of geography and the understanding of our world including widely accepted maps of the ancient world writings and discoveries of key thinkers and philosophers key exploration events and findings during the Age of Discovery the foundations of important geographic organizations and inventions in digital mapping The book begins with a clear explanation of geography as a discipline a framework and a way of viewing the world followed by coverage of each of the 100 discoveries and innovations that provides sufficient background and content for readers to understand each topic The book concludes with a concise synopsis of why it all matters and a look forward to 10 possible future discoveries in the next 50 years of geography Students will gain a clear sense of what is truly revolutionary about geography perhaps challenging their preconceived notion of what geography actually is and grasp how important discoveries revolutionized not only the past but the present day as well
