Time Lord Sir Sanford Fleming And The Creation Of Standard Time:

Time Lord Clark Blaise, 2002-04-01 In the tradition of Longitude Time Lord recounts the story of the creation of standard time in 1884 one of the great untold accomplishments of 19th century progress and technology Entertaining erudite and insightful this is a masterful tapestry of science history and biography Time Lord Clark Blaise, 2011-07-27 It is difficult today to imagine life before standard time was established in 1884 In the middle of the nineteenth century for example there were 144 official time zones in North America alone The confusion that ensued especially among the burgeoning railroad companies was an hourly comedy of errors that ultimately threatened to impede progress The creation of standard time with its two dozen global time zones is one of the great inventions of the Victorian Era yet it has been largely taken for granted In Time Lord Clark Blaise re creates the life of Sanford Fleming who struggled to convince the world to accept standard time It is a fascinating story of science politics nationalism and the determined vision of one man who changed the world Set in a time marked by substantial technological and cultural transformation Time Lord is also an erudite exploration of art literature consciousness and our changing relationship to time , Standard Time, Modernism, and Empire Adam Barrows, 2006 Investigating Culture Carol Delaney, 2017-04-24 The third edition of Investigating Culture An Experiential Introduction to Anthropology the highly praised innovative approach to introducing aspects of cultural anthropology to students features a series of revisions updates and new material Offers a refreshing alternative to introductory anthropology texts by challenging students to think in new ways and apply cultural learnings to their own lives Chapters explore key anthropological concepts of human culture including language the body food and time and provide an array of cultural examples in which to examine them Incorporates new material reflecting the authors research in Malawi New England and Spain Takes account of the latest information on such topical concerns as nuclear waste sports injuries the World Trade Center memorial the food pyramid fashion trends and electronic media Includes student exercises selected reading and additional suggested readings The American Enterprise , 2001 Zero Degrees Charles W. J. Withers, 2017-03-13 Charles Withers explains how the choice of Greenwich to mark 0 longitude solved problems of global measurement that had engaged geographers astronomers and mariners since ancient times This history is a testament to the power of maps the challenges of global measurement and the role of scientific authority in creating the modern world Science, Technology & Society , 2000 Science, Technology and Society , 2000 Time Lord Clark Blaise, 2001-11-27 This is the biography of an idea and the remarkable story of the man who created and then convinced the world to adopt a unified standard for telling time Today we take the accurate telling of time across the world for granted Yet little more than a hundred years ago people even in neighbouring towns lived by different time schedules noon was simply whenever the sun happened to be overhead Toronto time for example was different from Hamilton time some forty miles away None of this mattered when people travelled in the slow style that had been the norm for generations But then as Clark Blaise makes vividly clear trains arrived and in the new age of communications myriad local times became a mind boggling obstacle and the rational ordering of time an urgent priority Sandford Fleming a young emigrant from Scotland performed the remarkable task of solving the unfathomable temporal riddle of how to knit together a world stippled with thousands of local times That invention was the start of an exhausting campaign to persuade the squabbling international powers the diplomats and scientists to adopt a unified time system a campaign that came to a dramatic conclusion at the Prime Meridian Conference in 1884 His achievement turned out to be one of the greatest gifts of the Victorian Age to our global modern world This was the great Decade of Time as Blaise calls it that extraordinary ten years that also saw the invention of electric light the telephone Impressionism and high speed cameras Time Lord is an absorbing reflection on the mythic origins of time itself as well as a meditation on science psychiatry art and literature from Dickens to Sherlock Holmes to Hemingway the roots of depression and anxiety and the results of one man s fascination with clocks and watches and railway schedules At the heart of the story is the mild but fierce minded communications genius who sketched and surveyed his way from coast to coast oversaw the building of the great Canadian railroad designed the first Beaver stamp and invented the world circling sub Pacific cable who saw the world as a whole and changed its nature forever
