Grant Rodwell, 2013 Somebody once quipped that any work of Australian historical fiction is a burning fuse travelling over decades through Australian culture and society In some manner every newly published Australian historical novel is connected to what it has preceded Each work belongs to a proud history Through multiple examples Grant Rodwell encourages readers to see how a work of historical fiction has evolved Thus under various themes WHOSE HISTORY examines the traditions in Australian historical fiction and ponders how Australian historical novels can engage teachers and student teachers WHOSE HISTORY aims to illustrate how historical novels and their related genres may be used as an engaging teacher learning strategy for student teachers in pre-service teacher education courses It does not argue all teaching of History curriculum in pre-service units should be based on the use of historical novels as a stimulus nor does it argue for a particular percentage of the use of historical novels in such courses It simply seeks to argue the case for this particular approach leaving the extent of the use of historical novels used in History curriculum units to the professional expertise of the lecturers responsible for the units The Routledge Concise History of Twentieth-century British Literature

Science Fiction and the Mass Cultural Genre System John Rieder,2017-03-07 A fresh approach to the history and shape of science fiction In Science Fiction and the Mass Cultural Genre System John Rieder asks literary scholars to consider what shape literary history takes when based on a historical rather than formalist genre theory Rieder starts from the premise that science fiction and the other genres usually associated with so called genre fiction comprise a system of genres entirely distinct from the pre existing classical and academic genre system that includes the epic tragedy comedy satire romance the lyric and so on He proposes that the field of literary production and the project of literary studies cannot be adequately conceptualized without taking into account the tensions between these two genre systems that arise from their different modes of production distribution and reception Although the careful reading of individual texts forms an important part of this study the systemic approach offered by Science Fiction and the Mass Cultural Genre System provides a fundamental challenge to literary methodologies that foreground individual innovation
