Parliament. House of Commons. Home Affairs Committee,2010 This report examines the proposal contained in the consultation paper Policing in the 21st century reconnecting police and the people Cm 7925 ISBN 9780101792523 for the introduction in England and Wales of elected Police and Crime Commissioners and the creation of Police and Crime Panels in each force area to scrutinise the

Commissioners The Commissioners would replace Police Authorities and be responsible for holding Chief Constables to account The first elections are scheduled for May 2012 Members of the Committee held widely differing views about the principle of elected Commissioners but this inquiry seeks to determine how these proposals can best be delivered The Committee believes there should be a cooling off period of four years if a former senior police officer decides to stand as a Police and Crime Commissioner in the same area in which they have served This restriction is necessary because otherwise they could be in the position of scrutinising decisions they had made while still in office Commissioners should be responsible for the budget staff estate and other assets in their force area Also recommended is a need for greater clarity on what is meant by operational independence there is currently no statutory definition of operational independence and it should be defined in a written memorandum of understanding between the Home Secretary Chief Constables and Police and Crime Commissioners The Police and Crime Panels should be comprised primarily of elected representatives from Councils in the force area but also of a significantly smaller number of independent members
