English Learning in the Digital Age Shuang Zeng, 2018-11-23 Moving beyond the Web 2.0 and digital native rhetoric this book addresses the complex experiences of learners of English as a foreign language EFL in a world embedded with interactive and participatory technologies Adopting a sociocultural perspective it investigates EFL learners behaviours concerning digital technology and guides exploration into their contextually mediated choices and learning practices in the 2.0 era The argument is developed on the basis of the findings of a mixed sequential study that focused on 1485 Chinese undergraduates use and non use of online tools and applications outside the English classroom Particular attention is paid to the role of context and agency when understanding their learning choices and behaviours in the context of digital technology In particular the book acknowledges the explanatory power of agency in the minority instances of good practices among these EFL learners At the same time it demonstrates that for most learners use of the current web is limited and mostly non interactive The barriers to 2.0 transfer are largely contextual and the so called communicative opportunities and participatory culture in particular did not fit into the learners sociocultural context of language learning Overall the compelling argument proposes that the technology facilitated changes in EFL practices are a bottom up process that is taking place in day to day situations and constrained by the learning context within which the learner is situated Based on these arguments the book provides a framework that challenges the existing beliefs about language learning with online technology and that contributes to our understanding of how context mediates EFL learners behaviours surrounding digital technologies It is a valuable resource for teachers researchers and policy makers providing them with insights into using digital technology to stimulate good learning practices outside the classroom

Chinese Economy, The (2nd Edition) Gregory C Chow,1987-09-01 The main purpose of this book is to apply the basic tools of economic analysis to the economy of the Peoples Republic of China It is written for students of economics who would like to understand China for students of China who would like to understand economics and for professional economists and lay readers who would like to understand the Chinese economy The study of the Chinese economy is interesting to economists for several reasons First China has a different cultural background and a different set of social and political institutions from the Western countries in which most of the tools of economic analysis have been developed It is therefore interesting to see how these tools can be applied to China and how they ought to be further developed or modified in the Chinese context Second many drastic changes in economic policy and economic institutions have taken place since the founding of the People s Republic of China Such important experiments in economics provide rare opportunities to study their results Third since the later 1970s much more information on the Chinese economy has become available It is time for us to digest to scrutinize and possibly to help improve the economic data on China

Chasing the Chinese Dream William N. Brown, 2021-06-01 This open access book explores the historical cultural and philosophical contexts that have made anti poverty the core of Chinese society since Liberation in 1949 and why poverty alleviation measures evolved from the simplistic aid of the 1950s to Xi Jinping s precision poverty alleviation and its goal of eliminating absolute poverty by 2020 The book also addresses the implications of China s experience for other developing nations tackling not only poverty but such issues as pandemics rampant urbanization and desertification exacerbated by global warming The first of three parts draws upon interviews of rural and urban Chinese from diverse backgrounds and local and national leaders These interviews conducted in even the remotest areas of the country offer candid insights into the challenges that have forced China to continually evolve its programs to resolve even the most intractable cases of poverty The second part explores the historic cultural and philosophical roots of old China s meritocratic government and how its ancient Chinese ethics have led to modern Chinese socialism s stance that poverty amidst plenty is immoral Dr Huang Chengwei one of China s foremost anti poverty experts explains the challenges faced at each stage as China s anti poverty measures evolved over 70 years to emphasize enablement over aid and to foster bottom up initiative and entrepreneurialism culminating in Xi Jinping s precision poverty alleviation The book also addresses why national economic development alone cannot reduce poverty poverty alleviation programs must be people centered with measurable and accountable practices that reach even to household level which China has done with its First Secretary program The third part explores the potential for adopting China s practices in other nations including the potential for replicating China s successes in developing countries through such measures as the Belt and Road Initiative This book also addresses prevalent misperceptions about China s growing global presence and why other developing nations must address historic systemic causes of poverty and inequity before they can undertake sustainable poverty alleviation measures of their own Global Learning in the 21st Century

Tassos Barkatsas, Adam Bertram, 2016-10-26 In this 21st century technological and social changes have never been as rapid as before and educative practices must evolve and innovate to keep up What is being done by educators today to prepare future global citizens What are the skills and competencies that will be required by our students What changes in how we approach education might need to be made This book presents a modern focus on some significant issues in teaching learning and research that are valuable in preparing students for the 21st century The book discusses these issues in four sections The first section presents contemporary innovative curriculum and pedagogical practices that are relevant for the 21st century This also includes how social networking has an integrated role within current educative practice The next section then explores issues and current research around motivation and engagement and how these are changing in this era of technological and social change The third section presents debates around inclusion and social contexts both global and local Finally the fourth section explores current discourses in regard to internationalisation and globalisation and how these are being considered in educational research The book is an important representation of some of the work currently being done for these rapidly changing times It will appeal to academics researchers teacher educators educational administrators teachers and anyone interested in preparing students for a modern and globally interconnected world Chinese and Indian Medicine Today Md. Nazrul Islam, 2017-04-04 This book discusses Asian medicine which puts enormous emphasis on prevention and preservation of health and examines how in recent decades medical schools in Asia have been increasingly shifting toward a curative approach It offers an ethnographic investigation of the scenarios in China and India and finds that modern students and graduates in these countries perceive Asian medicine to be as important as Western medicine There is a growing tendency to integrate Asian medicine with Western medical thought in the academic curriculum that has led to a gradual decline of Asian medical thought and practices At the same time there has been a massive rise in patent drugs health products and cosmetics being sold under the brand names of Asian medicine or herbal medicine Most of these drugs and health products do not follow the classical formulas found in the Asian medical texts The book analyses these texts and concludes that contemporary Asian medicine rarely follows the classical texts and in fact uses Asian medicine brands to sell Western health products and practices With a particular focus on the formal and professional sector of Chinese herbal medicine and Indian ayurvedic medicine in urban areas this book appeals to a broad readership including undergraduate students and academics as well as non experts Md Nazrul Islam is an Associate Professor in the General Education Office United International College Beijing Normal University Hong Kong Baptist University He was a Visiting Associate Professor in the School of Population and Public Health University of British Columbia 2015 16 during which time he completed this book manuscript Choosing Chinese Universities Alice Y.C. Te, 2022-10-07 This book unpacks the complex dynamics of Hong Kong students choice in pursuing undergraduate education at the universities of Mainland China Drawing on an empirical study based on interviews with 51 students this book investigates how macro political economic factors institutional influences parental influence and students personal motivations have shaped students eventual choice of university Building on Perna s integrated model of college choice and Lee s push pull mobility model this book conceptualizes that students border crossing from Hong Kong to Mainland China for higher education is a trans contextualized negotiated choice under the One Country Two Systems principle The findings reveal that during the decision making process influencing factors have conditioned four archetypes of student choice Pragmatists Achievers Averages and Underachievers The book closes by proposing an enhanced integrated model of college choice that encompasses both rational motives and sociological factors and examines the theoretical significance and practical implications of the qualitative study With its focus on student choice and experiences of studying in China this book s research and policy findings will interest researchers university administrators school principals and teachers
