State Comptroller Bob Bullock reported this week that the federal government spent $1.4 billion on each man, woman and child in Texas during the past state fiscal year.

That's a 10 percent increase in federal spending from $12.7 billion the previous year to $20.2 this year in Texas alone. And he thinks that's a good thing.

He said the District of Columbia is per capita federal money in the nation. Uncle Sam sends in pennies with our money, isn't he?

In a recent address he gave to Congress, he said he was committed to use a little common sense about federal spending, as an amendment to the budget resolution was introduced.

Sour Gas Well Forces Residents Out Again

Residents of the Walton street area were again forced to leave their homes last week when they had to be evacuated once more Friday night.

By yesterday morning (Wednesday) those who live near the well were still not allowed to remain in their homes.

After 8 a.m. Friday night, it was reported that a clicking sound was heard. Then came a loud bang. It is believed that the circulating mud settled off the floor that burned off the well.

The well was equipped with automatic igniters, however, the equipment apparently failed to re-light the flame. When authorities from NRC Oil Corp. were called, none could readily be heard in reports.

Evacuation was begun about 1 a.m. of a four mile radius of the well.

City Police Works Out Evacuation Plan

The McCullough Oil Corporation at its drilling site located 2 1/2 miles west of Canton has a water contingency plan developed in the event that any sudden evacuation of the area becomes necessary.

This evacuation plan has been filed with the sheriff's office, city police office and District Court of Public Safety.

Office, Sheriff Travis Shuler stated that this is one of the best evacuation plans that he has seen on any well that has been filed in his office.

It is not intended to become necessary to evacuate. But because of the recent problems at the Walton well Canton Chief of Police has worked out the evacuation plan with the city and other officials.

The evacuation plan shows that the well site at a 3,000 foot evacuation area as well as a 10,000 foot evacuation area.

The area are in four sections A, B, C, and D. Each section has a number of residents and their location on a map in that particular area.

On both sections the residents are listed and named throughout the entire area.

This will enable the most critical areas to be evacuated first.

In the case of an event of evacuation, those nearest the well would be evacuated first and if it became necessary for Canton to be evacuated, the following plan has been devised by the City of Canton.

One fireman will be assigned a critical section of town, sevenmen sections all total. The fireman will contact two responsible citizens on whom he can depend in his evacuation.
