Ministry of External Affairs,1986 Europe's Lost Frontiers: Volume 1 Vincent Gaffney,Simon Fitch,2022-08-11 Europe s Lost Frontiers was the largest directed archaeological research project in Europe investigating the inundated landscapes of the Early Holocene North Sea often referred to as Doggerland The first in a series of monographs presenting the results of the project this book provides the context of the study and method statements Reports of the Research Committee of the Society of Antiquaries of London ,2005 Reports Archaeological Survey of India,1880 Origins of a new economic union (7th-12th centuries). Preliminary results of the nEU-Med project: October 2015-March 2017 Giovanna Bianchi,Richard Hodges,2018-10-11 The nEU Med project is part of the Horizon 2020 programme in the ERC Advanced project category It began in October 2015 and will be concluded in October 2020 The University of Siena is the host institution of the project The project is focussed upon two Tuscan riverine corridors leading from the Gulf of Follonica in the Tyrrhenian Sea to the Colline Metallifere It aims to document and analyze the form and timeframe of economic growth in this part of the Mediterranean which took place between the 7th and the 12thc Central to this is an understanding of the processes of change in human settlements in the natural and farming landscapes in relation to the exploitation of resources and in the implementation of differing political strategies This volume brings together the research presented at the first nEU Med workshop held in Siena on 11 12 April 2017 The aim of the workshop was to draw up an initial survey of research and related work on the project one and a half years after its inception The project is composed of several research units

Each unit covers an aspect of the interdisciplinary research underpinning the nEU Med project each with their own methodology For this first volume of results it was decided not to give an account of all the work carried out within all the units but to select those lines of investigation which at the end of the first year and a half have made it possible to articulate and develop an interdisciplinary research strategy Under the Sea: Archaeology and Palaeolandscapes of the Continental Shelf Geoffrey N. Bailey,Jan Harff,Dimitris Sakellariou,2017-05-16 This book focuses on issues of method and interpretation in studies of submerged landscapes concentrating on illustrations and case studies from around Europe with additional examples from other parts of the world Such landscapes were once exposed as dry land during the low sea levels that prevailed during the glacial periods that occupied most of the past million years and provided extensive new territories for human exploitation Their study today involves underwater investigation using techniques and strategies which are clearly set out in these chapters The underwater landscape provides a rich source of information about the archaeology of human settlement and long term changes in environment climate and sea level This book highlights how such information can be revealed and interpreted The examples presented here and the focus on techniques make this book of worldwide relevance Chapters describe examples of underwater archaeological investigation as well as collaboration with offshore industries and legal management and training issues relating to underwater cultural heritage Such studies point to the significance of this drowned landscape and readers are invited to consider its human impact in terms of past settlement and population dispersal through palaeolandscape reconstruction and interpretation in relation to broader themes in human prehistory This volume is based on work from COST Action SPLASHCOS a four year multi disciplinary and multi national research program supported by COST European Cooperation in Science and Technology and has something to benefit all those with an interest in the sea floor of the continental shelf and the archaeological and social impact of sea level change including archaeologists marine scientists geographers cultural heritage managers commercial and governmental organisations policy makers and interested members of the public *Report[s].
