Sandor, 2008-12-24 The beautiful Queen Ankh schemes for the crown of the frail Tut Desperate for a viable son she toys with the infatuated Carver an inventive apprentice who spins dreams of becoming great beyond words Intoxicated he spies on the royal couple and becomes embroiled in the intrigues of the court Ankh learns the chariot driving technique of warrior pharaohs to prove her legitimacy but she also drugs and even kills people to suit her aims Carver plays a crucial role when Tut dies in a reckless attempt to bolster his image The widowed Ankh sees her dreams crash but Carver finds fresh beauty under her tears The story is founded in history includes important but little known characters and offers notions of ancient erotica The narrative has subtle humor and much fantasy such as the pretend precursor to a passage in the Iliad or Carver breaking into Tut's tomb to suffer the Pharaoh's revenge Egypt: Upper Egypt, with Nubia as far as the second cataract and the western oases Karl Baedeker (Firm), 1892 Egypt Karl Baedeker (Firm), 1892 I, Tut Miriam Schlein, 1979 The young pharaoh of Egypt tells about his life and times Journal of the Asiatic Society of Bombay Asiatic Society of Bombay, 1924 Vol 1 new ser v 7 include the society's Proceedings for 1841 1929 title varies Pastime Lost David Block, 2019-01-01 Long before baseball became America's national pastime English citizens of all ages genders and classes of society were playing a game called baseball It had the same basic elements as modern American baseball such as pitching and striking the ball running bases and fielding but was played with a soft ball on a smaller playing field and instead of a bat the ball was typically struck by the palm of a hand There is no doubt however that this simpler English version of baseball was the original form of the pastime and was the immediate forerunner of its better known American offspring Strictly a social game English baseball was played for nearly two hundred years before fading away at the beginning of the twentieth century Despite its longevity and its important role in baseball's evolution however today it has been completely forgotten In Pastime Lost David Block unearths baseball's buried history and brings it back to life illustrating how English baseball was embraced by all sectors of English society and exploring some of the personalities such as Jane Austen and King George III who played the game in their childhoods While rigorously documenting his sources Block also brings a light touch to his story inviting us to follow him on some of the adventures that led to his most important discoveries Kiya David Franklyn, 2016-06-17 The novel Kiya is set in Kemet ancient Egypt during the reign of King Akhenaten It tells the story of Kiya a Nubian girl who loves Akhenaten as well as her brother Kashta's love for Nefertare and her son Tut's love for Ankh The narrator of the story Kashta his wife Nefertare and her father Intef are fictional characters while the others are based on real historical figures Most of the events described in the book are true stories This is a tale of destiny the pursuit of dreams and the unpredictability of fate It is also a love story that tells of other love stories an account telling the joys of life and the tragedy of death and a story about the

The Great Creation Debate Brad Freckleton,2012-07 Why isn't the evolution of flight shown in the fossil record Bugs birds bats and dinosaurs flew and are shown fully formed in the fossil record but there are no animals with halfway wings in the fossil record leading from ground based animals to flying animals What is desperately wrong with the Grand Canyon if evolution is true Where are the massive signs of erosion between the sedimentary layers of the Grand Canyon if they were laid down a million years at a time Why does massive erosion only show up at the top Animals with well developed eyes show up suddenly in the fossil record as do flying animals It's the norm for plants and animals to show up in the fossil record with the same separations as we see in different types of living animals and plants today The second law of thermodynamics is a law of science that says everything left to its own will wear out run down It is a fundamental law of science So how did evolution accidentally go up How could a DNA molecule fumble together The cell needs DNA DNA needs the cell which came first Beneficial mutations also weaken in other areas and don't write evolutionary advancing DNA code Spiral galaxies which have the shape of a star fish that is spinning quickly throughout our universe like our Milky Way galaxy are supposed to be over 10 billion years old If they were over a billion years old they would lose their spiral arm shape The arms of our galaxy the Milky Way only show a maximum age of 0.3 billion years People want to know why they're here now and where they're going to go They want surety of truth also Read this book and see how well evolution holds up in all the sciences Read this book and see if life can have meaning direction and hope with surety For those who claim to be open minded put on your seatbelts and keep your arms inside as you ride the roller coaster of your own value systems The Literary Digest
