The Reflective Counselor F. Gregory Coffey, Maureen C. Kessler, 2008 This 370 page meditation a day book is designed to help lawyers recover their spiritual strength in their hectic world Each daily entry appears on a single page and includes an introductory quotation followed by a reflection inspired by that quotation Themes found in the book include overcoming fear personal beliefs and values maintaining integrity personally defining success dealing with difficult people and common workplace challenges Practical Metal Turning Joseph Gregory Horner, 1906 The Law Firm Associate's Guide to Connecting with Your Colleagues Barbara Black Miller, Martin Camp, 2009 This second volume in the law firms associate s series will help lawyers learn how to effectively work together with their colleagues to achieve high levels of productivity and success in the law office While work relationships can be challenging this guide shows lawyers how to communicate and maintain positive work relationships The Transformation of Occupied Territory in International Law Andrea Carcano, 2015-09-29 This volume discusses the practice of transformative military occupation from the perspective of public international law through the prism of the occupation of Iraq and other cases of historical significance It seeks to assess how international law should respond to measures undertaken in the pursuit of a given transformative project whether or not supported by the Security Council A monographic study tackling the bulk of the international law issues that emerge during and as a result of a transformative occupation based on a comprehensive analysis of historical cases applicable norms and relevant facts With this thorough and thought provoking study Andrea Carcano has put us all in his debt From the foreword by Georges Abi Saab Emeritus Professor Graduate Institute of International Studies and Development The Routledge International Handbook of Spirituality in Society and the Professions Laszlo Zsolnai, Bernadette Flanagan, 2019-03-15 Increasingly it is being recognized that spirituality defined here as a multiform search for a transcendent meaning of life that connects them to all living beings and brings them in touch with God or Ultimate Reality is an aspect of almost every sphere and aspect of social life. It appears in humanity's dealings with nature, home and community, healing, economics and business, knowledge and education. The Routledge International Handbook of Spirituality in Society and the Professions is a stimulating collection that summarizes the most important issues, frameworks, discussions and problems relating to spiritually inspired activities in different fields of social life. The contributors explore how spirituality is a part of existence and present approaches and models for professionals working in diverse areas. Presented in seven parts, the book provides a full overview of current research and practice. Part II, Facets of spirituality, explores topics including philosophy, psychology, theology and culture. Part III, Nature, looks at ecology, agriculture, cities and tourism. Part IV, Home and community, presents chapters on various life stages, disability, gender and culture. Part V, Healing, examines medicine, mental and physical health and ill health. In Part VI, Economy, politics and law, contributors discuss business, leadership and the workplace, peace and policing. Part VII, Knowledge and education, includes chapters on science, design, fashion, literature and the arts. In the final part, Way forward, the editors look to the future with a chapter on inter-spirituality and the renewal of social practices. Driven by contemporary research and new developments, this Handbook is an innovative and interdisciplinary collection that provides an essential overview of contemporary spirituality and society from an international selection of contributors. The Routledge International Handbook of Spirituality in Society and the Professions offers accessible, diverse and engaging international research and its scope will appeal to academics and students of a wide range of subjects including aging and addiction, psychology, theology, religious studies, sociology, business studies and philosophy. It will also be an important work for professionals in medical and social services, the clergy, education, business, the arts, religious communities and politics, and members of organizations looking at the links between spirituality, religion and society. The Affective Assistance of Counsel Marjorie A. Silver, 2007

This book is subversive. It aims to undermine the legal profession's prevailing gladiatorial paradigm. It is to use Professor Leonard Riskin's phrase, something off the lawyer's standard philosophical map. It promises a vision of practicing law that is very different than that taught in most American law schools. There exists tremendous discontent among the practicing bar. Many lawyers have found themselves unhappy or unfulfilled in their practices. Compared to other professionals, lawyers suffer disproportionately from excessive stress, substance abuse and other emotional difficulties. Many find themselves demoralized or disillusioned about the practice of law. Here's the good news: recent years have witnessed a spate of both new and renewed approaches to the practice of law. Disaffected by the adversarial model, many practitioners have engaged in a quiet revolution, a marriage of theory and practice designed to maximize the healing potential of the law. The result has been a variety of approaches such as Therapeutic Jurisprudence, Collaborative Law and Creative Problem Solving. Lawyers are cultivating Emotional Intelligence, Multicultural Competence and Mindfulness. They are developing ways of working consistent with their spiritual and religious beliefs. New pedagogy is informing old courses and new courses are evolving and taking their places in the curriculums of increasing numbers of law schools This book bears the fruit of many of these efforts The twenty contributors to this book come from widely diverse backgrounds What they share are visions for more therapeutic more beneficial more helping healing ways to practice law This book is a resource for law professors law students and lawyers who share those visions After nearly forty years of law practice I still look forward to coming to work every morning This is because I have had incredible mentors who have taught me to practice law as a healer and peacemaker Now my heroes of the comprehensive law movement have each spoken in one outstanding collection edited by Marjorie Silver Their essays provide a road map for any lawyer to re invent himself or herself and achieve a law practice filled with joy meaning and passion I enthusiastically recommend this book John V McShane Esq Dallas Texas Law as a healing profession Marjorie Silver has collected a series of essays by leading writers engaged in such a career Readers will find a practical resource to assist in building the emotional competence necessary to practice law in the 21st century Buy it read it and practice in a more enlightened manner You owe it to your clients and to yourself G Andrew H Benjamin J D Ph D Affiliate Professor of Psychology Antioch University Affiliate Professor of Law University of Washington Director Parenting Evaluation Training Program This book represents a turning point in the history of thought on how attorneys should be trained and how they should practice law As is true of all pioneering works this one will go through several stages At first traditionalists may oppose it and even ridicule it Undoubtedly however its sheer wisdom will ultimately prevail and eventually be accepted as self evident Amiram Elwork Director of the Law Psychology Graduate Program at Widener University and author of Stress Management for Lawyers My experience is that it is a marvelous book and helped lay an academically sound foundation for the content of course I learned much from it and I know our students did too Jonathan R Cohen Professor of Law University of Florida Levin College of Law
