Transitions Pittsburg State University. Office of Admission, 2003* Building Transfer Student Pathways for College and Career Success Sonya Joseph, Mark Allen Poisel, 2018-10-04 Published in partnership with the National Institute for the Study of Transfer Students Analysis of bachelor s degree completion suggests that only about a third of college graduates attend a single institution from start to finish More than one quarter earn college credits from three or more schools before completing a degree For most these student defined pathways lead to increased time to degree and higher costs Many will simply drop out long before crossing the finish line Ensuring college completion and success requires an understanding of the evolving nature of transfer transitions and a system wide approach that reaches beyond two year and four year institutions to include high schools participating in dual enrollment programs and military college initiatives A new edited collection offers insight into institutional and statewide partnerships that create clearly defined pathways to college graduation and career success for all students Examining the Impact of Community Colleges on the Global Workforce Jones, Stephanie J., Smith, Dimitra Jackson, 2015-08-04 In an effort to create a more educated workforce in the United States many community colleges are implementing new practices and strategies to assist under prepared students These efforts will ultimately support a stronger and more resilient global workforce Examining the Impact of Community Colleges on the Global Workforce provides relevant theoretical and conceptual frameworks best practices and emerging empirical research about new approaches being employed in community colleges to prepare students for their post collegiate careers Featuring recent initiatives in educational settings this publication is a critical reference source for higher education practitioners policymakers and graduate students in higher education administration programs interested in the innovative practices utilized by community colleges to educate underserved students Designing Successful Transitions National Resource Center for the First-Year Experience & Students in Transition (University of South Carolina), 2010 The 2010 edition of this monograph addresses many topics e g administration of orientation programs family involvement student characteristics and needs assessment and orientation for specific student populations and institutional types that were included in previous editions but approaches them with new information updated data and current theory However this edition also takes up new topics in response to the opportunities and concerns facing orientation transition and retention professionals such as collaborations among campus units in the development and delivery of orientation the increase in nontraditional student populations the need for effective crisis planning and management in orientation programs new technologies and even the challenge of making the case for orientation in an era of diminishing resources The authors have carefully penned chapters incorporating contemporary information ideas and concepts while being reflective of traditional practices Following a preface by Margaret J Barr and a foreword by Jennifer R Keup and Craig E Mack chapters in this edition include 1 Brief Overview of the Orientation Transition and Retention Field Craig E Mack 2 Theoretical Perspectives on Orientation Denise L Rode and Tony W Cawthon 3 Making the Case for Orientation Is It Worth It Bonita C Jacobs 4 Administration of a Comprehensive Orientation Program April Mann Charlie Andrews and Norma Rodenburg 5 Community College Orientation and Transition Programs Cathy J Cuevas and Christine Timmerman 6 Channeling Parental Involvement to Support Student Success Jeanine A Ward Roof Laura A Page and Ryan Lombardi 7 Extensions of Traditional Orientation Programs Tracy L Skipper Jennifer A Latino Blaire Moody Rideout and Dorothy Weigel 8 Technology in Orientation J J Brown and Cynthia L Hernandez 9 Incorporating Crisis Planning and Management Into Orientation Programs Dian Squire Victor Wilson Joe Ritchie and Abbey Wolfman 10 Orientation and First Year Programs A Profile of Participating Students Maureen E Wilson and Michael Dannells 11 Creating a Developmental Framework for New Student Orientation to Address the Needs of Diverse Populations Archie P Cubarrubia and Jennifer C Schoen 12 Designing Orientation and Transition Programs for Transfer Students Shandol C Hoover 13 Nontraditional Is the New Traditional Understanding Today's College Student Michael J Knox and Brittany D Henderson 14 Building the Case for Collaboration in Orientation Programs Campus Culture Politics and Power Beth M Lingren Clark and Matthew J Weigand 15 Assessment and Evaluation in Orientation Robert Schwartz and Dennis Wiese and 16 Reflections on the History of Orientation Transition and Retention Programs Jeanine A Ward Roof and Kathy L Guthrie Individual chapters contain references For the 2nd Edition 2003 see ED478603

Examining the Landscape of Transfer Support Catherine Hartman, Jeffrey Mayo, 2025-01-14 Transfer students are an important yet often understudied and underserved population within postsecondary education Millions of students rely on the transfer function of community colleges and two year schools to earn bachelor's degrees Yet low student transfer and bachelor's degree completion rates indicate a leaky transfer pipeline Given the growing interest and increase in transfer and transfer intending students across the postsecondary landscape and the longstanding degree completion challenges these students often face institutional leaders and staff must understand how they can best support transfer students and bolster their persistence For this reason the National Resource Center for The First Year Experience and Students in Transition created the inaugural National Study of Transfer Student Initiatives This report details the results from the 2021 National Study of Transfer Student Initiatives and is intended to provide leaders researchers and policymakers with a national overview of transfer related policies practices and procedures as well as institutional and bureaucratic barriers to their development coordination and implementation In addition it prompts discussions for leaders and staff as they consider how transfer related efforts may be improved to better meet the needs of students Applying Student Development

Theories Holistically Katherine Branch, Jeanne Hart-Steffes, Christine Wilson, 2018-10-12 This book dives into student development theory unpacking key foundational and emergent theories of college student development while providing contemporary examples and application Showcasing a diversity of programs practices and services across a variety of institutional types Applying Student Development Theories Holistically demonstrates how professionals are intertwining the science of theory with the art of practice in multidimensional holistic ways Helping aspiring higher education and student affairs practitioners grasp and use theories holistically this important text brings to life theoretical knowledge to enhance the development and learning of college and university students Supporting Transfer Student Success Peggy L.

Nuhn, Karen F. Kaufmann, 2020-11-06 This research based book with practical applications teaches academic librarians to support their transfer students effectively at both universities and community colleges even when transfer students information literacy needs differ from those of other students Colleges and universities across the United States serve a large and growing population of transfer students Current estimates suggest that more than one third of college students transfer from one institution of higher education to another at least once At some institutions transfer students compose up to fifty to sixty percent of the new incoming class Academic librarians understanding of the demographics and potential needs of transfer students is essential to supporting their success and mitigating transfer shock Just as public libraries often bridge gaps between individuals and services academic libraries can proactively support the often unique needs of transfer students by spearheading textbook affordability initiatives developing innovative programming and making appropriate referrals to non library student services In this practical guide to supporting transfer students authors Peggy L Nuhn and Karen F Kaufmann teach academic librarians how to optimize information literacy instruction support research help reduce stress and connect the library to virtual students They emphasize the importance of establishing partnerships with feeder institutions and other campus departments to best support transfer student success Resources in Education , 2001
