Localizing Apps Johann Roturier, 2015-05-08 The software industry has undergone rapid development since the beginning of the twenty first century These changes have had a profound impact on translators who due to the evolving nature of digital content are under increasing pressure to adapt their ways of working Localizing Apps looks at these challenges by focusing on the localization of software applications or apps In each of the five core chapters Johann Roturier examines The role of translation and other linguistic activities in adapting software to the needs of different cultures localization The procedures required to prepare source content before it gets localized internationalization The measures taken by software companies to guarantee the quality and success of a localized app With practical tasks suggestions for further reading and concise chapter summaries Localizing Apps takes a comprehensive look at the transformation processes and tools used by the software industry today This text is essential reading for students researchers and translators working in the area of translation and creative digital media

Community Translation Mustapha Taibi, Uldis Ozolins, 2016-02-25 Investigating an important field within translation studies Community Translation addresses the specific context characteristics and needs of translation in and for communities Traditional classifications in the fields of discourse and genre are of limited use to the field of translation studies as they overlook the social functions of translation Instead this book argues for a classification that cuts across traditional lines based on the social dimensions of translation and the relationships between text producers and audiences Community Translation discusses the different types of texts produced by public authorities services and individuals for communities that need to be translated into minority languages and the socio cultural issues that surround them In this way this book demonstrates the vital role that community translation plays in ensuring communication with all citizens and in the empowerment of minority language speakers by giving them access to information enabling them to participate fully in society

Handbook of Translation Studies Yves Gambier, Luc van Doorslaer, 2013-12-20 As a meaningful manifestation of how institutionalized the discipline has become the new Handbook of Translation Studies is most welcome It joins the other signs of maturation such as Summer Schools the development of academic curricula historical surveys journals book series terminologies bibliographies and encyclopedias The HTS aims at disseminating knowledge about translation and interpreting and providing easy access to a large range of topics traditions and methods to a relatively broad audience not only students who often adamantly prefer such user friendliness researchers and lecturers in Translation Studies Translation but also scholars and experts from other disciplines among which linguistics sociology history psychology In addition the HTS addresses any of those with a professional or personal interest in the problems of translation interpreting localization editing etc such as communication specialists journalists literary critics editors public servants business managers intercultural organization specialists media specialists marketing professionals The usability accessibility and flexibility of the HTS depend on the commitment of people who agree that Translation Studies does matter All users are therefore invited to share their feedback Any questions remarks and suggestions for improvement can be sent to the editorial team at hts.kuleuven.be Next to the book edition in printed and electronic PDF format HTS is also available as an online resource connected with the Translation Studies Bibliography For access to the Handbook of Translation Studies Online please visit <http://www.benjamins.com/online/hts>
