Transnational Migration And Human Security Transnational Migration And Human Security:

Transnational Migration and Human Security Thanh-Dam Truong, Des Gasper, 2011-06-07 The volume places the migration development security nexus in the field of transnational studies Rather than treating these three categories as self evident the essays excavate aspects of power and privilege built into their governing frameworks and conflicting rationales apparent in practices of control Bringing together diverse experiences and case studies the volume highlights the problematic nature of maintaining distinct and disconnected frameworks of governance It argues for a new approach that demonstrates the significance and usefulness of comparative ethics in conceptualising migration from a human centered and gendered perspective in order to address the multi faceted and multi dimensional nature and meanings of security

Migration, Gender and Social Justice Thanh-Dam Truong, Des Gasper, Jeff Handmaker, Sylvia I. Bergh, 2013-09-06 This book is the product of a collaborative effort involving partners from Africa Asia Europe and Latin America who were funded by the International Development Research Centre Programme on Women and Migration 2006 2011 The International Institute of Social Studies at Erasmus University Rotterdam spearheaded a project intended to distill and refine the research findings connecting them to broader literatures and interdisciplinary themes The book examines commonalities and differences in the operation of various structures of power gender class race ethnicity generation and their interactions within the institutional domains of intra national and especially inter national migration that produce context specific forms of social injustice Additional contributions have been included so as to cover issues of legal liminality and how the social construction of not only femininity but also masculinity affects all migrants and all women The resulting set of 19 detailed interconnected case studies makes a valuable contribution to reorienting our perceptions and values in the discussions and decision making concerning migration and to raising awareness of key issues in migrants rights All chapters were anonymously peer reviewed This book resulted from a series of projects funded by the International Development Research Centre IDRC Canada

Irregular Migration and Human Security in East Asia Jiyoung Song, Alistair D. B. Cook, 2014-08-13 Across East Asia intra regional migration is more prevalent than inter regional movements and the region s diverse histories geopolitics economic development ethnic communities and natural environments make it an excellent case study for examining the relationship between irregular migration and human security Irregular migration can be broadly defined as people s mobility that is unauthorised or forced and this book expands on the existing migration security nexus by moving away from the traditional state security lens and instead shifting the focus to human security With in depth empirical country case studies from the region including China Japan North Korea the Philippines Burma Myanmar Cambodia Thailand and Singapore the contributors to this book develop a human security approach to the study of irregular migration In cases of irregular migration such as undocumented labour migrants asylum seekers internally displaced people trafficked persons and smuggled people human security is the cause and or effect of migration in both sending and receiving countries By adopting a human security lens the chapters provide striking insights into the motivations vulnerabilities and insecurities of migrants the risks dangers and illegality they are exposed to during their journeys as well as the potential or imagined threats they pose to the new host countries This multidisciplinary book is based on extensive fieldwork and interviews with migrants aid workers NGO activists and immigration officers As such it will appeal to students and scholars of Asian politics and security as well as those with interests in international relations social policy law geography and migration Human Security, Changing States and Global Responses Sangmin Bae, Makoto Maruyama, 2014-12-05 This book critically assesses the human security challenges faced by states focusing on how and to what extent the state is influenced by global structures and operations Having grown rapidly since the 1990s the field of human security has spawned a wide variety of academic research This research has helped to reconceptualize the notion of security both broadening and deepening it and it has created a space where unconventional and multidimensional forms of security inform international policy practices However while various issues and cases of human security have received growing academic attention and policy interest many of the existing books on human security focus primarily on non state actors This leaves a key question unanswered why do sovereign states take on leadership roles in promoting human security To answer the question of why and how national governments influence international human security policy this volume examines the domestic political factors and structures that mediate the range of policy choices Important domestic variables include the cultural match e g Does the country often favor multilateralism and promote a rule bound international society the nature of the political interests and realities that are present e g Does the country see the promotion of human security as a strategic choice and the occurrence of important historical events such as wars revolutions or natural disasters e g Does the country during the crisis help to foster a new way of managing enduring security threats Using this line of analysis the book illuminates the role of the state in handling critical human security issues and its rationale for doing so This book will be of much interest to students of human security peace studies global governance development studies and IR in general Human Security and Human Rights under

International Law Dorothy Estrada-Tanck, 2016-12-01 Human security provides one of the most important protections a person centred axis of freedom from fear from want and to live with dignity It is surprising given its centrality to the human experience that its connection with human rights has not yet been explored in a truly systematic way This important new book addresses that gap in the literature by analysing whether human security might provide the tools for an expansive and integrated interpretation of international human rights The examination takes a two part approach Firstly it evaluates convergences between human security and all human rights civil political economic social and cultural and constructs an investigative framework focused on the human security human rights synergy It then goes on to explore its practical application in the thematic cores of violence against women and undocumented migrants in the law and case law of UN European Inter American and African human rights bodies It takes both a legal and interdisciplinary approach recognising that human security and its relationship with human rights cuts across disciplinary boundaries Innovative and rigorous this is an important contribution to human rights scholarship

Human Security and Migration in Europe's Southern Borders Susana Ferreira, 2018-12-13 This book examines the management of migratory flows in the Mediterranean within an international security perspective The intense migratory flows registered during the year 2015 and the tragedies in the Mediterranean Sea have tested the mechanisms of the Union's immigration and asylum policies and its ability to respond to humanitarian crises Moreover these flows of varying intensities and geographies represent a threat to the internal security of the EU and its member states By using Spain and Italy as case studies the author theorizes that the EU given its inability to adopt and implement a common policy to effectively manage migratory flows on its Southern border uses a deterrence strategy based on minimum common denominators

Routledge Handbook of Human Security Mary Martin, Taylor Owen, 2013-11-07 This Handbook will serve as a standard reference guide to the subject of human security which has grown greatly in importance over the past twenty years Human security has been part of academic and policy discourses since it was first promoted by the UNDP in its 1994 Human Development Report Filling a clear gap in the current literature this volume brings together some of the key scholars and policy makers who have contributed to its emergence as a mainstream concept including Nobel prize winner Amartya Sen and Sadako Ogata who jointly chaired the 2001 Commission on Human Security Drawing upon a range of theoretical and empirical analyses the Handbook provides examples of the use of human security in policies as diverse as disaster management arms control and counter terrorism and in different geographic and institutional settings from Asia to Africa and the UN It also raises important questions about how the concept might be adapted and operationalised in future Over the course of the book the authors draw on three key aspects of human security thinking Theoretical issues to do with defining human security as a specific discourse Human security from a policy and institutional perspective and how it is operationalised in different policy and geographic contexts Case studies and empirical work Featuring some of the leading scholars in the field the Routledge Handbook of Human Security will be essential reading for all students of human security critical security conflict and development peace and conflict studies and of great interest to students of international security and IR in general

The Top Books of the Year Transnational Migration And Human Security Transnational Migration And Human Security The year 2023 has witnessed a noteworthy surge in literary brilliance, with numerous captivating novels enthralling the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of popular books, exploring the captivating narratives that have enthralled audiences this year. The Must-Read : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This heartfelt tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover masterfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can succeed. Transnational Migration And Human Security Transnational Migration And Human Security : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This intriguing historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids captivating storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Transnational Migration And Human Security Transnational Migration And Human Security : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This captivating coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens weaves a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These top-selling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of compelling stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a exceptional and suspenseful novel that will keep you wondering until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
