The Writing Program Administrator As Researcher Inquiry In Action Reflection:

The Writing Program Administrator as Researcher Shirley K. Rose, Irwin Weiser, 1999 This collection of essays discusses writing program administrators WPA's research The essays pose several questions to characterize WPA's research practices What is WPA research What characterizes WPA research and the sites of WPA inquiry and What values guide WPA research The 14 chapters are divided into 2 parts Writing Program Administrators Inquiry in Action and Writing Program Administrators Inquiry in Reflection Part 1 exemplifies WPA research by describing and conceptualizing specific research projects conducted as part of WPA responsibilities and thereby provides a detailed picture of administrative research Part 2 then draws on the concrete experiences of particular WPA's and particular writing programs raising and reflecting on issues about WPA research in general Each chapter demonstrates that WPA's inquiry is characterized by a recursive interplay between reflection and action Some of the many topics addressed in the book include diverse research methodologies for diverse audiences feminist methods conflicts between teaching and assessing writing outcomes assessment research as a teaching tool the contributions of sociolinguistic profiling assessing teacher preparation programs reflective essays local research and curriculum development enabling research in the writing program archives WPA's as historians historical work on WPA's the role of research in writing programs and postmodern mapping RJM The Writing Program Administrator's Resource Stuart C. Brown, Theresa Jarnagi Enos, 2005-04-11 This handbook offers wisdom and guidance from experienced college writing program administrators It is intended for WPA's at all levels of experience The WPA Outcomes Statement—A Decade Later Nicholas N. Behm, Gregory R. Glau, 2014-09-12 The WPA Outcomes Statement A Decade Later examines the ways that the Council of Writing Program Administrators Outcomes Statement for First Year Composition has informed curricula generated programmatic institutional and disciplinary change and affected a disciplinary understanding of best practices in first year composition The Writing Program Administrator as Theorist Shirley K. Rose, Irwin Weiser, 2002 The work of Writing Program Administration however overturns that perception for it demands that theory be integrated within everyday decision making Stories of Mentoring Michelle F. Eble, 2008-10-01 Describes mentoring of teachers and scholars in the field of composition and rhetoric Historical Studies of Writing Program Administration Barbara L'Eplattenier, Lisa Mastrangelo, 2004-03-14 Historical Studies of Writing Program Administration Individuals Communities and the Formation of a Discipline collects essays that shine new light on the early history of writing program administration Broad in scope the book illuminates the development of the profession in the narratives of the individuals who helped form the discipline prior to the emergence of the Council of Writing Program Administrators in 1976 including those narratives of Gertrude Buck and Laura J Wylie Edwin Hopkins Regina Crandall Rose Colby George Jardine Clara Stevens Stith Thompson and George Wykoff Drawing from deep archival work these narratives offer rare glimpses into writing program administration and the development of composition as a college requirement Exploring Composition Studies

Kelly Ritter, Paul Kei Matsuda, 2012-04-30 Kelly Ritter and Paul Kei Matsuda have created an essential introduction to the field of composition studies for graduate students and instructors new to the study of writing. The book offers a careful exploration of this diverse field focusing specifically on scholarship of writing and composing. Within this territory the authors draw the boundaries broadly to include allied sites of research such as professional and technical writing, writing across the curriculum, programs, writing centers, and writing program administration. Importantly, they represent composition as a dynamic, eclectic field influenced by factors both within the academy and without. The editors and their sixteen seasoned contributors have created a comprehensive and thoughtful exploration of composition studies as it stands in the early twenty-first century. Given the rapid growth of this field and the evolution of its research and pedagogical agendas over even the last ten years, this multi-vocal introduction is long overdue.

WPA, Writing Program Administration, 2006 Resources in Education, 2000-04 Reviewing the Writing Program at Middle State University Douglas J. Davis, 2008

Journal of Teaching Writing, 1996 Academic Writing Consulting and WAC Jeffrey Jablonski, 2006 This book provides theoretical models and practical methods for helping writing teachers and writing program administrators within postsecondary institutions conduct the interdisciplinary collaborative consulting activities that are common with formal and information writing across the curriculum. WAC programs. It specifically discusses how to conduct the day-to-day work of negotiating close working partnerships with faculty in other disciplines and is the first book-length treatment to do so. The book deepens current understandings of how writing specialists collaborate with non-writing specialists in academic contexts and provides a map for structuring successful collaborations in the future.

Writing on the Edge, 1996 GRADIVA JOURNAL OF CONTEMPORARY THEORY AND PRACTICE, 2000 A Guide to Professional Development for Graduate Students in English Cindy Moore, Hildy Miller, 2006 In this guide, the first of its kind, Cindy Moore and Hildy Miller provide detailed information about how to develop credentials for both academic and nonacademic careers in teaching, scholarship, administration, service, and editing. Written in response to nationwide calls for more comprehensive and deliberate mentoring of future English faculty and for greater support of students who wish to pursue English-oriented jobs outside of the academy, this guide, the first of its kind, is at once practical and eye-opening. Providing detailed information about how to develop credentials for both academic and nonacademic careers in teaching, scholarship, administration, service, and editing, the guide offers an in-depth look at the field's many possibilities. On another level, the book addresses the rigors and stresses of graduate school by candidly discussing faculty expectations, student responsibilities, and a variety of survival strategies. Whether you are already enrolled in a graduate program or have just begun to consider program options, this resource can help you identify long-term career goals as well as the skills and abilities needed to meet those goals.

Labor, Writing Technologies, and the Shaping of Composition in the Academy Pamela Takayoshi, Patricia Sullivan, 2007 The changing nature of the workforce and the increasing presence of technologies in composition studies promise to affect not only the ways we work but the very shape of the discipline This volume takes on the challenge of thinking about the intersections of work technology and composition studies in ways that are unprecedented These areas interact in numerous and significant ways yet the focus is often on the concepts in isolation from one another Authors in this collection explore technology and labor issues across a range of institutional locations to focus on working as scholars administrators of writing programs writing across the curriculum programs assessment programs teachers workers held accountable to bureaucrats and gendered and raced workers and the future roles compositions will adopt in the university and how technology affects those identities The chapters address the nature of composition labor in a technological society the new geographies of composition variety of identity and agency that are enabled and denied academic labor outside the classroom and academy and how virtuality impacts labor They provide varied perspectives on what issues are of import and alert researchers and teachers that a serious consideration of labor and writing technologies are needed to expand notions of what composition studies can and must be Publisher s description
