Therapeutic Communications For Health Care Communication And Human Behavior For Health Science:

Therapeutic Communications for Health Care Carol Tamparo, Wilburta Lindh, 2007-07-24 Health professionals today need a succinct yet brief text to guide them through the maze of communication with patients and consumers of health care. All the usual dynamics are heightened when persons participating in communication are sick, frustrated, hurting, and worried. The central idea of this comprehensive text is that good therapeutic communication with patients will decrease the risk both to patient and provider of misunderstandings and will increase patient compliance and save time for everyone in the long run. A wide variety of client profiles and appropriate therapeutic responses. Communication Skills for the Health Care Professional Gwen Marram Van Servellen, 1997 This textbook provides the kind of comprehensive and in-depth preparation your students need to communicate optimally with patients, families, and fellow providers. Combining principles and practical applications, this text shows students how to apply communication techniques to patient care. It contains specific examples from many health care disciplines and is appropriate for all students in medicine, nursing, pharmacy, dentistry, and other allied health professions. Complete with chapter objectives, real-life examples, and sample dialogue, and a glossary defining over 100 words and terms essential to the field of communication.
