The World Food Outlook Trade And Development:

The World Food Outlook Donald O. Mitchell,Merlinda D. Ingco,Ronald C. Duncan,1997-03-06 Modern day Malthusians warn that Malthus will ultimately be right the world will be less and less able to feed itself as populations keep expanding and crop yields seem to have reached a peak The authors of this volume believe that this pessimism is misplaced and that there is in fact no worldwide food crisis On the contrary they show that the world food situation has improved dramatically over the past three decades prices of agricultural commodities are at their lowest level in history in real terms and crop output is continuing to rise faster than population This book provides a much needed and reasoned view on a subject that is too often treated emotionally The important changes in the international food economy are considered in historical context and provide a basis for projections to 2010 The situation should continue to improve and food should become cheaper than it is today

World Development Report 1986 ,1986 This is the ninth in an annual series assessing development issues The world economy is entering its fourth year of growth since the recession of 1982 Yet the recovery is hesitant with many developing countries facing serious problems of adjustment The recent decline in oil prices interest rates and inflation will provide a stimulus to developed and developing countries alike But many debtor countries particularly oil exporters will find it hard to maintain growth in the near term The effects of the recovery have been much weaker for many low income Sub Saharan countries Part I of the report explores the policies required to restore growth in the developing world It stresses the importance of developed countries maintaining the policies that have both reduced inflation and moderated distortions in their markets Of concern however is the increase in international trade restrictions if countries are to attain sustainable growth the reform of domestic institutions must be accompanied by an effort towards international freer trade Part 2 suggests that the gradual liberalization of trade should be a high priority for international action in agriculture An examination of the policy options in developing countries suggests that economic stability and growth could be greatly enhanced by focusing on improved pricing and trade policies Formulation of the 1990 Farm Bill United States. providing an alternative model to conceptualize sustainable development The Inclusive Sustainable Development Theory disputes the conventional winnership model that supports unlimited expansion and materialism in global development Instead it focuses on inclusion and sustainable peace as the cornerstone of sustainable development The Hexagon of Partnership Model highlights the importance of inclusive dialogue partnerships and community capital in carrying out global sustainable development endeavors that protect global food energy and water security The World Poultry Industry Richard Henry, Graeme Rothwell, 1995-01-01 The collection of papers in this book and its companion volume Property Rights in Social and Ecological Context Case Studies and Design Applications examine the relationships between people the environment and property rights and the ways in which a given social and ecological context affects those relationships The papers are products of a research program at the Royal Swedish Academy of Sciences Stockholm The main objective of the program was to convene social scientists and natural scientists to address research questions in their full social and ecological dimensions The program's participants addressed five general issues related to property rights and the environment 1 the design of governance systems for sustainability 2 the relationship between equity stewardship and environmental resilience 3 the use of traditional knowledge in resource management 4 the mechanisms that link people to their environments and 5 the role played by population and poverty The companion volume presents case studies that address questions of design application in those five areas Also available Property Rights in a Social and Ecological Context Case Studies and Design Applications ISBN 0 8213 3416 6 Stock No 13416 Colloquium on Plants and Population Joel E. Cohen, Nina Vsevolod Fedoroff, 1999-01-01 The Hunger Report 1995 E. Messer, P. Uvin, 2005-11-04 Constructed from papers presented at the five year follow up to the Bellagio declaration Overcoming Hunger in the 1990s 1989 this book highlights progress made on the problems of food shortage and poverty related hunger Foreign Agriculture, 1979 Food Review, 1995 Growth and Productivity in Agriculture and Agribusiness, 2011 The report assesses the World Bank Group's support for growth and productivity in the agriculture sector Enhancing agricultural growth and productivity is essential to meeting the worldwide demand for food and to reducing poverty particularly in the poorest developing countries Between 1998 and 2008 the period covered by this evaluation the World Bank Group WBG provided 23 7 billion in financing for agriculture and agribusiness in 108 countries roughly 8 percent of total WBG financing spanning areas from irrigation and marketing to research and extension However this was a time of declining focus on agricultural growth and productivity by both countries and donors The cost of inadequate attention to agriculture especially in agriculture based economies came into focus with the food crisis of 2007 08 The crisis added momentum to an emerging renewal of attention and stepped up financing to agriculture and agribusiness at the World Bank and International Finance Corporation IFC as well as at several multilateral and bilateral agencies World Bank financing rose two and a half times from 2008 to 2009 though that increase in lending seems to have been accompanied by a decline in analytical work which this review finds valuable for results This evaluation seeks to provide lessons from successes and failures to help improve the development impact of the renewed attention to the sector Ratings against the World Bank's stated objectives and IFC's market based benchmarks for agriculture and agribusiness projects have been equal to or above portfolio averages in East Asia Latin America and the transition economies in Europe with notable successes over a long period in China and India But performance of WBG interventions has been well below average in Sub Saharan Africa where IFC has had little engagement in agribusiness Inconsistent client commitment and weak capacity have limited the effectiveness of WBG support in agriculture based economies particularly in Sub Saharan Africa and constraints on staffing and internal coordination within the WBG have also hurt outcomes Financial sustainability has been constrained by insufficient government funding and the difficulty of maintaining agricultural services and infrastructure The WBG has a unique opportunity to match the increases in the financing for agriculture with sharper focus on improving agricultural growth and productivity in agriculture based economies notably in Sub Saharan Africa Greater effort will be needed to connect sectoral interventions and achieve synergies from public and private sector interventions to build capacity and knowledge exchange to take stock of experience in rain fed agriculture to ensure attention to financial sustainability and to cross cutting issues of gender environmental and social impacts and climate and to better integrate WBG support at the global and regional levels with that at the country level
