

My Boundaries

A boundary is a rule that you create for yourself about how other people are allowed to treat you. You get to choose how comfortable you are with the things that others say or do to you. You also get to decide what and how much information you want to share with others. Use this handout to learn more about boundaries and answer the questions below to figure out what your boundaries look like!

Boundaries include:

HOW OTHERS TOUCH YOU

What kind of touch do you allow from a friend? A family member? A stranger?

If you ever feel uncomfortable or unsafe because someone is "crossing" your boundary, it is best to stand up for yourself and let them know.

PERSONAL SPACE

Who is able to stand close to you? How close do you want them to be?

HOW OTHERS TALK TO YOU

How do you want others to speak to you? Who is allowed to call you by a nickname?

WHAT OTHERS KNOW ABOUT YOU

Who do you share your feelings and secrets with? Who is allowed to know where you live or how to find you?

Do other people have boundaries too?

Yes! Other people have rules too about how you can treat them and how much they want you to know about them. It is important to remember this and to be respectful of the boundaries that they set for themselves!

The Educator's Handbook for Teaching With Primary Sources Scott M. Waring,2023 Educators across subject areas are striving to integrate primary sources into their pedagogy and teaching Yet despite their importance to authentic disciplined inquiry the implementation of primary source activities in the pre K 12 classroom has been limited This lack of utilization can largely be attributed to the perception that these activities are too complex to design implement and grade Many teachers also feel that primary source analysis and the construction of evidence based narratives is too difficult for students to complete in the traditional classroom Waring argues that this is not the case and with this handbook provides teacher candidates and inservice teachers with detailed and specific perspectives activities approaches and resources to help them effectively and authentically use primary sources in their classrooms Book Features Introduces teaching with primary sources including detailed examples of authentic and tested instructional ideas and approaches Designed to meet the needs of classroom teachers and teacher candidates in social studies English and language arts mathematics science and other fields Offers dozens of primary sources and links to resources throughout the book Aligns to national standards frameworks and the C3 framework for social studies Can be used to meet the needs of emerging English learners and students with special needs Focuses on ways in which educators are utilizing a variety of emerging technologies to engage students in deeper and more authentic ways of learning Contributors include Peter DeCraene Lisa Fink Eric J Pyle Stefanie R Wager Sarah Westbrook and Trena L Wilkerson
