Training Manual M242:

Machine Gun Manuals Combined: MAINTENANCE OF THE M2, M242 AND M249 MACHINEGUNS ,2019-03-14

Introduction The M2 caliber 50 machinegun supports the infantryman in both the attack and defense It provides the rifleman with the heavy volume of close accurate and continuous fire necessary to accomplish his mission in the attack The long range close defensive and final protective fires delivered by this weapon form an integral part of the unit s defensive fires The M2 caliber 50 machinegun is also used to provide protection for motor movements vehicle parks and train bivouacs It is also used to defend against low flying hostile aircraft and to destroy lightly armored vehicles In addition it is used for reconnaissance by fire on suspected enemy positions The M242 automatic machinegun is a 25mm gun found on the turret of the infantry and cavalry fighting vehicles This weapon can be installed or removed in three assembly parts barrel feeder and receiver The machinegun has both electrical and manual fire control and it is externally powered It also has a dual feed capability and 25mm ammunition cans that contain 70 rounds of armor piercing AP and 230 rounds of high explosive HE ammunition The weapon can also fire single shots of 100 rounds per minute low rate or 200 rounds per minute high rate The M249 machinegun is designed as a fire team automatic weapon to be used for rear area security and special missions The machinegun is gas operated air cooled and fires from the open bolt position It has a regulator for selecting normal or maximum max rate of fire Use of the max rate is authorized only in the event that the weapon s firing rate slows down otherwise stated the weapon becomes sluggish It also has an alternative 30 round magazine feeding provision The use of the 30 round magazine is authorized only in an emergency situation since the use of the magazine reduces the performance of the machinegun

Learning to Teach History in the Secondary School Terry Haydn, Alison Stephen, James Arthur, Martin

Hunt, 2014-10-10 An excellent companion to Learning to Teach in Secondary School full of good ideas and better advice. Mentors will certainly want to use it and so I am sure will the rest of the history department. Make sure they buy one and keep your copy under lock and key. Michael Duffy Times Educational Supplement A very well written and readable book. Overall this is an excellent book and one which students and teachers outwith England would find a valuable addition to their library. Scottish Association of Teachers of History Resources Review This book is without question the standard text for the history PGCE market. Dr Ian Davies University of York on the first edition Learning to Teach History in the Secondary School provides an accessible introduction to teaching and learning history at secondary level. Underpinned by a theoretical perspective and backed up by the latest research it encourages student teachers to develop a personal approach to teaching history. This fourth edition has been thoroughly updated for the new curriculum with a brand new chapter on subject knowledge and a new section on action research to better support those reflecting on and developing their own practice. It provides an array of references and materials that give a sound theoretical foundation for the teaching of history including weblinks to further resources while a range of tasks will enable students to put their learning into practice in the classroom. Practical advice is combined with reference and access to a wide range of recent and relevant research in the field of history education to support Masters Level research and aid reflective practice. Key issues covered include The benefits of learning history Planning The use of language and strategies for teaching Inclusion Technology in history teaching Assessment Continuing professional development Offering comprehensive and accessible support to becoming a history teacher this book remains an invaluable resource for all training and newly qualified history teachers.
