The Political Economy of the Agri-Food System in Thailand

Prapimphan Chiengkul, 2017-05-08 This book adopts a neo Marxist and Gramscian approach to studying the political economy of the agricultural and food system in Thailand 1990 2014 The author argues that hegemonic forces have many measures to co opt dissent into hegemonic structures and that counter hegemony should be seen as an ongoing process over a long period of time where predominantly counter hegemonic forces constrained by political economic structural conditions may at times retain some hegemonic elements Contrary to what some academic studies suggest the author argues that localist inspired social movements in Thailand are not insular and anti globalisation

The Politics of Biofuels, Land and Agrarian Change Saturnino Borras Jr., Philip McMichael, Ian Scoones, 2013-09-13 This book addresses key questions on biofuels within agrarian political economy political sociology and political ecology Contributions are based on fresh empirical materials from different parts of the world The book starts with four key questions in agrarian political economy Who owns what Who does what Who gets what And what do they do with the surplus wealth It also addresses the emergent social and political relations in the biofuel complex and given the impacts on natural resources and sustainability engages with questions about people environment interactions At the same time the book is concerned with the politics of representation that is what are the discursive frames through which biofuels are promoted and or opposed The book analyses the institutional structures and cultures of energy consumption on which a biofuels complex depends and the alternative political and ecological visions emerging that call the biofuels complex into question Across sixteen chapters presenting material from five regions across the North South divide and focusing on fourteen countries including Brazil Indonesia India USA and Germany these topics are addressed within the following themes global re configurations agro ecological visions conflicts resistances and diverse outcomes state capital and society relations mobilising opposition creating alternatives and change and continuity This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of Peasant Studies Land and Resource Scarcity Andreas Exner, 2013 This book brings together geological biological radical economic technological historical and social perspectives on peak oil and other scarce resources The contributors to this volume argue that these scarcities will put an end to the capitalist system as we know it and alternatives must be created The book combines natural science with emancipatory thinking focusing on bottom up alternatives and social struggles to change the world by taking action The volume introduces original contributions to the debates on peak oil land grabbing and social alternatives thus creating a synthesis to gain an overview of the multiple crises of our times The book sets out to analyse how crises of energy climate metals minerals and the soil relate to the global land grab which has accelerated greatly since 2008 as well as to examine the crisis of profit production and political legitimacy Based on a theoretical understanding of the multiple crises and the effects of peak oil and other scarcities on capital accumulation the contributors explore the social innovations that provide an alternative Using the most up to date research on resource crises this integrative and critical analysis brings together the issues with a radical perspective on possibilities for future change as well as a strong social economic and ethical dimension The book should be of interest to researchers and students of environmental policy politics sustainable development and natural resource management Land Dispossession and Everyday Politics in Rural Eastern India Kenneth Bo Nielsen, 2018-02-22 Over the past decade India has witnessed a number of land wars that have centred crucially on the often forcible transfer of land from small farmers or indigenous groups to private companies Among these the land war that erupted in Singur West Bengal in 2006 went on to make national headlines and become paradigmatic of many of the challenges and social conflicts that arise when a state led policy of swiftly transferring land to private sector companies encounters resistance on the ground Land Dispossession and Everyday Politics in Rural Eastern India analyses the movement by Singur's so called unwilling farmers to retain and reclaim their farmland By foregrounding the everyday politics of popular mobilization the book sheds new light on the movement's internal politics as well as on contentious issues rooted in everyday caste class and gender relations Peasants and Globalization A. Haroon Akram-Lodhi, Cristóbal Kay, 2012-08-21 In 2007 for the first time in human history a majority of the world's population lived in cities However on a global scale poverty overwhelmingly retains a rural face This book assembles an unparalleled group of internationally eminent scholars in the field of rural development and social change in order to explore historical and contemporary processes of agrarian change and transformation and their consequent impact upon the livelihoods poverty and well being of those who live in the countryside The book provides a critical analysis of the extent to which rural development trajectories have in the past and are now promoting a change in rural production processes the accumulation of rural resources and shifts in rural politics and the implications of such trajectories for peasant livelihoods and rural workers in an era of globalization Peasants and Globalization thus explores continuity and change in the debate on the agrarian question from its early formulation in the late 19th century to the continuing relevance it has in our times including chapters from Terence Byres Amiya Bagchi Ellen Wood Farshad Araghi Henry Bernstein Saturnino M Borrás Ray Kiely Michael Watts and Philip McMichael Collectively the contributors argue that neoliberal social and economic policies have in deepening the market imperative governing the contemporary world food system not only failed to tackle the underlying causes of rural poverty but have indeed deepened the agrarian crisis currently confronting the livelihoods of peasant farmers and rural workers This crisis does not go unchallenged as rural social movements have emerged for the first time on a transnational scale Confronting development policies that are unable to reduce let alone eliminate rural poverty transnational rural social movements are attempting to construct a more just future for the world's farmers and rural workers International Political Economy and the Global South Zaynab El Bernoussi, Adriana María Garriga-López, Giuliano Martiniello, Bashir Saade, 2025-06-13 International Political Economy and the Global South provides students from both the Global South and the Global North a textbook that speaks to distinct concepts categories and issues of International Political Economy IPE from a Southern and Northern perspective while identifying how they differ The primary goal is to provide an alternative or complementary reading of IPE derived from the experiences of the periphery The textbook asks how has the Global South responded to the demands of a global economy What is the meaning of sovereignty to those who have experienced colonialism and imperialism How can the Global South claim the international when the Global North sets its norms institutions and practices It opens with a standard introduction offering an intellectual history of key IPE concepts including state firm capital power labor globalization and finance Each subsequent chapter follows a similar structure exploration of the problem discussion of what may be missing from dominant understandings of the problem and or how orthodox IPE may tell us something different about the problem compared to what is experienced in the Global South and identification of alternative frameworks and perspectives Aiming to de Westernize and decentralize the production of knowledge the textbook introduces students to the discipline and phenomenon of IPE with a genuinely global perspective The Politics of Inequality David Pettinicchio, 2021-07-19 For its breadth and depth of research this volume of Research in Political Sociology is essential reading for researchers and students of Politics Sociology and Policy Critical Perspectives on Food Sovereignty Marc Edelman, 2017-10-02 This volume is a pioneering contribution to the study of food politics and critical agrarian studies where food sovereignty has emerged as a pivotal concept over the past few decades with a wide variety of social movements on the ground experiments and policy innovations flying under its broad banner Despite its large and growing popularity the history theoretical foundations and political program of food sovereignty have only occasionally received in depth analysis and critical scrutiny This collection brings together both longstanding scholars in critical agrarian studies such as Philip McMichael Bina Agarwal Henry Bernstein Jan Douwe van der Ploeg and Marc Edelman as well as a dynamic roster of early and mid career researchers The ultimate aim is to advance this important frontier of research and organizing and put food sovereignty on stronger footing as a mobilizing frame a policy objective and a plan of action for the human future This volume was published as part one of the special double issue celebrating the 40th anniversary of the Journal of Peasant Studies Social Movements in the World-System Jackie Smith, Dawn Wiest, 2012-01-01 Global crises such as rising economic inequality volatile financial markets and devastating climate change illustrate the defects of a global economic order controlled largely by transnational corporations wealthy states and other elites As the impacts of such crises have intensified they have generated a new wave of protests extending from the countries of the Middle East and North Africa throughout Europe North America and elsewhere This new surge of resistance builds upon a long history of transnational activism as it extends and develops new tactics for pro democracy movements acting simultaneously around the world In Social Movements in the World System Jackie Smith and Dawn Wiest build upon theories of social movements global institutions and the political economy of the world system to uncover how institutions define the opportunities and constraints on social movements which in turn introduce ideas and models of action that help transform social activism as well as the system itself Smith and Wiest trace modern social movements to the founding of the United Nations as well as struggles for decolonization and the rise of national independence movements showing how these movements have shifted the context in which states and other global actors compete and interact The book shows how transnational activism since the end of the Cold War including United Nations global conferences and more recently at World Trade Organization meetings has shaped the ways groups organize Global summits and UN conferences have traditionally provided focal points for activists working across borders on a diverse array of issues By engaging in these international arenas movements have altered discourses to emphasize norms of human rights and ecological sustainability over territorial sovereignty Over time however activists have developed deeper and more expansive networks and new spaces for activism This growing pool of transnational activists and organizations democratizes the process of organizing enables activists to build on previous experiences and share knowledge and facilitates local actions in support of global change agendas As the world faces profound financial and ecological crises and as the United States dominance in the world political economy is increasingly challenged it is especially urgent that scholars policy analysts and citizens understand how institutions shape social behavior and the distribution of power Social Movements in the World System helps illuminate the contentious and complex interactions between social movements and global institutions and contributes to the search for paths toward a more equitable sustainable and democratic world A Volume in the American Sociological Association's Rose Series in Sociology
