Transnational Crimes examines the methods that states use to investigate transnational crimes. The first part explains the importance and the boundaries of conventional cross border criminal investigation. The second part explores administrative cross border investigations encompassing various practice areas including antitrust, securities, tax, information law and financial law. It also examines non criminal forms of cooperation in addressing foreign bribery and terrorism. The third part examines the direct cooperation with the investigating government and a foreign private entity, namely financial institutions and communication service providers.
