Transforming Europe Maria Green Cowles, James A. Caporaso, Thomas Risse-Kappen, Thomas Risse, 2001 Europeanization and domestic change introduction Thomas Risse Maria Green Cowles James Caporaso The Europeanization of gender equality policy and domestic structural change James Caporaso Joseph Jupille Differential Europe national administrative responses to community policy Adrienne H. Iritier Institutional reform in telecommunications the European Union in transnational policy diffusion Volker Schneider Italy pays for Europe political leadership political choice and institutional adaptation Alberta Sbragia Europeanization and the courts variable patterns of adaptation among national judiciaries Lisa Conant Adjusting to EU environmental policy change and persistence of domestic administrations Christoph Knill Andrea Lenschow Europeanization and territorial institutional change toward cooperative regionalism Tanja A. Bräzel The transatlantic business dialogue and domestic business government relations Maria Green Cowles The Europeanization of citizenship Jeffrey T. Checkel A European identity Europeanization and the evolution of nation state identities Thomas Risse Transforming Europe conclusions Maria Green Cowles Thomas Risse Europeanization and the European Economic Area Johanna Jonsdottir, 2013 This book examines Europeanization in the European Economic Area (EEA) exploring whether non member states can have an input into EU decision making and whether the EU can successfully export its policies within the framework of the EEA Iceland Norway and Liechtenstein while not EU member states are members of the European Free Trade Association (EFTA) and signatories of the EEA Agreement The Agreement allows participation in the EU's internal market but also requires extensive and continuous adaptation to EU rules Whilst existing literature is limited mainly to the EU's impact on its own member states or neighbours to the east this book extends the study of Europeanization to the EEA exploring whether Iceland as a non member state can have an input into EU decision making and conversely whether the EU can ensure that its policies are adhered to outside of its borders The author argues that although the EEA Agreement is not without its challenges it has proved considerably more resilient than originally expected This raises the question of whether the EEA provides a realistic alternative to EU membership for other states with close ties to the EU Delving into the largely unknown intersection between the EU and the EEA and providing important new insights into the Europeanization process Europeanization and the European Economic Area will be of strong interest to students and scholars of European Union politics and policy making European Union Enlargement Nordic politics and comparative politics The Politics of Europeanization Kevin Featherstone, Claudio M. Radaelli, 2003-06-05 The Politics of Europeanization looks at the political aspects of European integration from the point of view of domestic politics In doing so it goes beyond the classic analysis of how policies are made in Brussels and raises instead the question what is the power of Europe in national contexts The questions at the heart of this volume are crucial both for our understanding of European integration and for their policy implications What does Europeanization really mean How can it be measured How is the European Union affecting domestic politics and policies in member states and candidate countries Is Europeanization an irreversible process Does it mean convergence across Europe How and why do differences remain The contributors explain and question the power of Europe by providing theoretical and empirical perspectives on domestic politics and institutions government and administration public policies political actors and business groups The volume contains a new research agenda for the nascent literature on Europeanization
