Image and Mind Stephen Michael Kosslyn, 1980 Are images an important means of recalling information from memory and solving problems Or are images just display lights on the mind's computer In Image and Mind Stephen Kosslyn makes an impressive case for the view that images are critically involved in the life of the mind In a series of ingenious experiments he provides hard evidence that people can construct elaborate mental images search them for specific information and perform such other internal operations as mental rotation Kosslyn demonstrates that these results are best explained by a two tiered model in which images are stored in abstract form in long term memory and then assembled for internal display in much the way that images on a TV screen can be created from files in a computer memory Kosslyn shows how this model can be used to solve many of the persistent questions which have traditionally plagued theories of imagery that attempted to install imagery as the exclusive medium of mental representation Unlike any other work on imagery Image and Mind provides an integrated account of most of the modern empirical results from imagery research within the framework of a coherent theory The book also introduces a host of new experimental techniques and major hypotheses to guide future research The result is a landmark book and a major event in the study of the mind

Computer Analysis of Images and Patterns André Gagalowicz, 2005-08-30 This volume presents the proceedings of the 11th International Conference on Computer Analysis of Images and Patterns CAIP 2005 This conference series started about 20 years ago in Berlin Initially the conference served as a forum for meetings between scientists from Western and Eastern block countries Nowadays the conference attracts participants from all over the world The conference gives equal weight to posters and oral presentations and the selected presentation mode is based on the most appropriate communication medium The program follows a single track format rather than parallel sessions Non overlapping oral and poster sessions ensure that all attendees have the opportunity to interact personally with presenters As for the numbers we received a total of 185 submissions All papers were reviewed by two to four members of the Program Committee The final selection was carried out by the Conference Chairs Out of the 185 papers 65 were selected for oral presentation and 43 as posters CAIP is becoming well recognized internationally and this year's presentations came from 26 different countries South Korea proved to be the most active scientifically with a total of 16
